SEARCHLIGHT TURNED UPON RUM TRAFFIC IN AROOSTOOK COUNTY

Trial of Sheriff Grant and Attorney Lewin, Who Are Charged With Bribery and Permitting Sale of Liquor to Be Carried on Unchecked

BANGOR, Me., Dec. 21.—The searchlight was turned again upon the rum traffic in Aroostook county today when the United States district court assembled for the second day's trial of the conspiracy cases in which Sheriff Edmund W. Grant and Willard S. Lewin, attorney, both of Houlton, are charged with bribery and permitting the sale of liquor to be carried on unchecked throughout the county.

Following upon Charles E. Calvin's frank and open testimony yesterday of his extensive liquor business for the protection of which he said he paid Grant and Lewin large sums of money, today's first witnesses called were Charles Powell, Calvin's first lieutenant in his liquor and boarding house business, and Thomas V. Doherty, Houlton attorney, who was called to testify as to an injunction which Grant threatened to place on Calvin's building after the latter had withdrawn from the liquor game because, as he testified, the graft demanded has made the business unprofitable.

GEN. DAWES OFFERED PRESIDENCY OF EXPERT COMMITTEE

Reparation Commission Unanimously Decides to Name American as Head of Principal Committee to Investigate Germany's Resources and Financial Situation

PARIS, Dec. 21. (By the Associated Press.)—The reparation commission this morning decided to offer to Charles G. Dawes of the United States, the presidency of the committee which is to examine German finances.

An American thus will head the principal expert committee to be named for the investigation of Germany's resources and financial situation.

The reparation commission found it necessary to postpone issuing its invitations to the other delegates on the committees aside from the Americans, but in view of the need of gaining time to permit the representatives from the United States to arrive without delay, the names of General Dawes and of Owen D. Young of New York were approved and instructions given that formal invitations be sent them.

It was the unanimous decision of the reparation commission that the presidency of the leading expert committee ought to be offered to General Dawes.

Certain formalities connected with selection of the delegates of the other countries remain to be complied with and the invitations to these delegates will be sent as soon as this is done.

MAYOR ALL DONE WITH TRACTOR CONTROVERSY

As far as Mayor John J. Donovan is concerned, the controversy over the tractor for the fire department is settled.

"I have offered Chief Saunders a tractor, the Four-Wheel-Drive," said the mayor. "He says it is not acceptable to him. Well, if he does not want it, that is up to him. He has an opportunity to get a tractor he says he has needed for some time and as far as I am concerned the controversy is ended.

"I will say this, however," continued His Honor, "I intend to hold the fire chief responsible for his department and particularly so if anything unfortunate should occur which might have been avoided by the use of a tractor. By this I mean unnecessary

MAY REFER ALL REQUESTS FOR SALARY

It is believed that the school committee tonight will refer to next year's board any requests for salary and pay increases received from teachers, janitors or other employes of the school department.

The special meeting of the committee called for tonight is for the exclusive purpose of hearing requests and arguments for wage advances, but from talk which was current today it is not believed this year's committee will take any action other than to refer them to the committee of 1924.

MODERNISTS WIN DEBATE ON BIBLE

Rev. Mr. Potter Awarded Victory Over Rev. Dr. Stratton in N. Y. Debate

Subject "Resolved, That the Bible is the Infallible Word of God"

NEW YORK, Dec. 21—(By the Associated Press)—Modernists have won their contention that the Bible is not infallible, according to a debate between Rev. Charles Francis Potter, leader of West Side Church in Manhattan, and Rev. John Roach Stratton, pastor of the Broadway Tabernacle, which attracted the most spectacular audience in the history of religious controversy since the Protestant reformation.

Rev. Mr. Potter was awarded the victory by the Rev. Dr. Stratton last night, when he upheld the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, that the Bible is the infallible word of God." He contended that the Bible was not the word of God, but contained much of the word of God. He said that for the guidance of men it contained the word of God, and that it was the product of the inspiration of God. He said that the Bible was not infallible, but that it was the product of the minds of men who were inspired by

INSTALLED OFFICERS

South End Club Also Heard Address by Daniel J. Donahue, Esq.

The South End club held a largely attended meeting at its quarters in Central street last night. The new board of officers for 1924 was installed with appropriate exercises including addresses by Lawyer Daniel J. Donahue and other speakers. Among the invited guests in addition to Mr.

President

Donahue were J. Joseph Donnelly, George M. Harrigan, "Bob" Hart, Perry P. Thompson and Joseph P. Donahue. The meeting was called to order at 10 o'clock by the retiring president, Paul J. Rooney and the chair was immediately turned over to John F. Roane, master of ceremonies. The first event on the program was the installation of officers and, after an appropriate address by the chairman the officers for 1924 were installed as follows: President, James L. Colla; vice-president, Cornelius J. Shea; treasurer, Bernard F. Conners; financial secretary, John F. Sullivan; recording secretary, Thomas H. Foods; trustees, Daniel F. Moriarty, John E. McQuade and Thomas Kenney.

Mr. Donahue discussed municipal affairs in his usual vigorous style, criticising local conditions, and added his objections to those of the Bar association to the proposed transfer of the district court quarters to Gorham street as planned by the county commission.

A buffet luncheon and entertainment followed Mr. Donahue's address. Among those who took part in the musical program were Edward Donahue, Edward Quinlan, John F. Roane, sr. and various other members of the club.

WORLD WAR VETERANS

Lowell Veterans of World War Interested in Bok Peace Plan Referendum

Lowell veterans of the world war will do their part in the nation-wide referendum on the Bok peace plan, so-called.

Commander Colin C. Macdonald, of the local American Legion organization said today that approximately 1,000,000 ex-service men in the country at large will receive the ballots. They will be contained in the "American Legion Weekly, for the most part, although the Legion's state department has arranged to send copies of the Bok peace plan, accompanied by ballots, directly to all posts for distribution to members.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars are also included in the ninety national organizations composing the Co-operating council of the American Peace award and both have now completed arrangements to submit to their members the plan selected by the jury of award as the winner of the first half of the $100,000 prize offered by Edward W. Bok.

Lowell legionnaires are informed that the representatives of their organization handling the ballot distributions are Adjutant-general Lemuel Bolles of Indianapolis, John G. Emery of Grand Rapids, Mich., a past commander, and General George Albert Wingate of New York.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars are represented by Adjutant Reuel Elson and Colonel Robert Allyn. The January issue of "Foreign Service" will print the winning plan and carry the ballot on which its readers will be asked to state whether or not they favor the winning plan in substance. Veterans of Foreign Wars will return this ballot directly to the American Peace Award office, at 342 Madison avenue, New York.

SAILSTAD AND GIRL TO PLEAD GUILTY

SUPERIOR, Wis., Dec. 21.—Edward J. Sailstad and Dorothy Anderson, his companion for the last three and one-half years, will plead guilty to charges of arson when taken before Judge Archibald McKay in superior court today or tomorrow, to answer for firing Sailstad's summer cottage at Lake Nebagamon, Wis., the night they disappeared from Eau Claire, Wis., where he was president of a manufacturing company. The body of Allen McPhee, friend of Sailstad was burned in the cottage to make it appear that Sailstad had perished.

Arraigned in municipal court yesterday, Sailstad reiterated his oft-expressed wish to "have it over with."

All through the brief arraignment, Miss Anderson, known as the "sunshine girl" when she was a Chicago cabaret entertainer before becoming Sailstad's stenographer, clung to him and they left court arm in arm.

They recently were arrested in Napa, Cal., after wandering over the country in an automobile.

Mrs. Sailstad, who thought her husband dead and who recently was married again, was not in court yesterday.

husband put his arms around her and spoke consolingly to her.

Vetter, appearing calm and self-restrained, quieted his wife as she screamed: "Oh! Ernest. We didn't mean to do it, did we?"

"Hush, it's all right," said her husband.

Court attendants took them both back to jail and Judge Humphrey dismissed the jurors.

Storey was an intimate friend of Mrs. Vetter before her marriage. The prosecution introduced testimony purporting to show that Storey was invited to the Vetter home by Mrs. Vetter May 11 last, and was beaten and stabbed to death by the husband and wife. His body, wrapped in a burlap sack, was cast into Jamaica bay. The Vetters pleaded self-defense.

The manslaughter verdict, it was learned, was a compromise, the jury standing equally divided for acquittal and first degree murder when it retired last night.

Mrs. Vetter became hysterical when she was returned to jail and an ambulance surgeon was called to treat her.

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAY TRAIN SERVICE

Important additions to the Christmas holiday Boston and Maine train service affecting Lowell and vicinity patrons, were announced this morning by General Agent Frank W. Brown. Traffic has steadily increased in passenger proportions on all local and through B. and M. trains since Monday, and today finds the railroad management hard put to handle the extra patronage.

Extra cars are now being added to all trains running out of Boston on several divisions, including the New Hampshire passenger "regulars" operating through Lowell. Some limited and long-distance trains are being run with extra sections to accommodate the home-going Christmas crowds with heavy baggage. For several days extra trains have been run on the main lines to accommodate students from the college towns.

Railroad men declare that this will be the banner year in their history for holiday travel, because of the open winter weather, for one thing, and also because there appears to be a general stampede for homestead returns by young and old from short and far distances.

Tomorrow it is predicted the peak of the Yuletide travel will be reached. Extra trains will be operated on the Boston & Maine lines on both Saturday and next Monday.

Mail and express traffic has been exceptionally heavy all the week, holding up to peak proportions during the last three days and with no prospects of a slow-down until after New Year's.

Lowell travelers on the B. & M., north and south, will find better train service tomorrow and Sunday, as well as next Monday up to midnight. Double-section passenger trains will be the rule, the present schedule beginning tomorrow, calling for extras as follows:

12.30 p. m. out of Boston for Lowell and northern points, arriving here at 1.09 p. m., will run in two sections.

[illegible] p. m. from Boston, arriving in Lowell at 4.40 p. m., two sections.

5 p. m. from Boston, arriving in Lowell at 5.43 p. m., two sections.

Additional sections will be run from central distribution points when necessary.

MAH-JONGG

BY J. P. BABCOCK

Leading Mah Jongg Authority and Author of Babcock's Red Book of Rules

No. 9—Doubling Combinations and "Pat Hands"

The table of doubling combinations is as follows.

Three or four of a player's own Wind—Double total score.

Three or four of any color Dragons—Double total score.

Hand all of one suit, except for winds and dragons—Double total score.

Hand entirely of one suit—Double total score three times.

Hand entirely of Winds and Dragons—Double total score three times.

As you will notice, some of the above combinations were given a scoring value in the score table in my last article. This score counts in addition to the double value, and is added in prior to such doubling. For example, if you held three dragons in your exposed hand, you would add their scoring value (1 points) to the other points scored, then double the total.

"Triple Doubles"

Hands which contain combinations which "double three times" are reckoned as follows: Total the score, double this total, double the result of the first double; double the result of the second total. Thus a hand with a three times doubling combination and a score of 20 would total to 160.

Should a hand contain more than one doubling combination, it doubles for each such combination. Thus a hand with three dragons and the balance all of Winds and Dragons would double four times.

There are three "pat" hands, all very difficult to obtain, the Hand from Heaven, the Hand from Earth, and the Lucky 13.

The value of these hands depends upon the limit. Owing to the almost unbounded scoring possibilities of Mah Jongg, it is necessary that a limit be set. In the standard game, this limit is 300, and unless a different limit is expressly agreed upon prior to the commencement of play, it is tacitly understood when sitting down to a game of Mah Jongg that you are playing with this limit of 300. As East always loses or pays double, he will, if he completes a limit hand, collect 600 from each of the other players. Similarly, if he loses to a limit hand, he will pay the winner 600.

Three Big Hands

The Hand from Heaven is possible only to East Wind and is, in short, a Mah Jongg hand on the original draw. It scores the limit, 300; but as East wins double, each of the other players must pay him $600.

The Hand from Earth is possible to anyone except East. It is obtained when any player can by punging East's first discard complete his hand for Mah Jongg. It scores one-half the limit.

The Lucky 13. Afte East has made his first discard, any player (including East) can declare his intention of trying for Mah Jongg without discarding any of his 13 original tiles. As poker players would term it, he "stands pat on the original draw." Should he succeed in completing his hand thus, he scores one-third the limit.

A player trying for the Lucky 13 hand is allowed to change his play at any time without penalty. But he must announce that he is no longer playing the Lucky 13.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

Your Health

by Dr. C. C. Robinson

BY DR. C. F. N. SCHRAM
Chairman, Health Service Section, National Safety Council.

Cuts, scratches and bruises are likely to occur occasionally in any household. Neglected, they may cause infections, perhaps even blood poisoning or lockjaw which may result in death.

Small cuts and scratches may be successfully treated at home, but if the wound is at all serious it should have a doctor's attention. This is especially true of deep wounds, such as nail punctures, which are hard to sterilize with home facilities.

If you have any court plaster, throw it away. It is often exposed to dust and handled before applied and is an ideal germ breeder. Adhesive plaster should be used only to hold a dressing in place.

Likewise avoid salves and ointments supposed to have marvelous healing powers but which you do not know are antiseptic as well.

Iodine is perhaps one of the safest and most efficient disinfectants obtainable. Care, however, must be taken in its use. It is poisonous when taken internally and becomes stronger by evaporation. Consequently, iodine which is kept for several months in a loosely corked bottle may cause a painful burn.

Remember that any break in the skin may be sufficient to start an infection. The wound may bleed very little or not at all, but it is dangerous nevertheless. In fact, bleeding helps to cleanse the wound and lessens the chances of infection. It is less likely to be neglected than the so-called "slight" scratch.

When a dressing is required, sterile gauze is best and it should not be touched by the hands before applying. A dirty bandage is as bad or worse than none at all.

There is no such a thing as a slight injury, so keep the iodine handy and use it at once for every scratch. But don't keep the bottle too handy for the children.

Originally a bed consisted of merely a hollowed-out place in the ground.

MANY KILLED, TOWNS WRECKED

Three Mexican Towns in Sierra Madre Mountains Destroyed by Earthquake

Courier Who Makes Appeal for Food and Tents for Homeless Says Many Dead

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Dec. 21.—Granados, Huasabas and Oputo, towns in the Sierra Madre mountains of Sonora, Mexico, with an aggregate population of 5000, were destroyed by an earthquake Wednesday night, according to the story told by a courier who arrived late yesterday at Nacozari, a rail head, approximately 75 miles south of the international boundary.

The courier had ridden since Wednesday night over the mountains which lie for 40 miles between the three towns and the railroad. As he arrived exhausted he told an incoherent story of how adobe houses had been tumbled about the heads of the inhabitants. "Many, many dead," were the words he used in describing the extent of the casualty.

His appeal for food, tents and blankets for the homeless was forwarded to President Durazo of Agua Prieta, across the border from Douglas. The presidente announced that supplies would be shipped by rail to Nacozari and would be taken by stage the remainder of the way.

SMOKING PRESCRIBED FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 21.—Dr. Fred E. Gundrum, vice president of the state board of health, announces that smoking is being prescribed for stomach trouble. A pipe is preferred, although cigarets and cigars may be used, according to Dr. Gundrum.

It is not for the value of the nicotine, but because smoking, especially after meals, is likely to prove restful, Dr. Gundrum said.

UNITE TO SAVE CHINESE NATION

Placards Urging Anti-American and Anti-British Boycott Appear in Canton

Residents Resent Attitude of Foreign Powers in Customs Surplus Dispute

HONG KONG, Dec. 21.—(By the Associated Press) Advices from Canton state that numerous placards are appearing on the streets of the southern capital urging an anti-American and anti-British boycott as a result of the attitude of the foreign powers in the present customs surplus imbroglio.

Some of the placards appeal to the people to unite to obtain the Kwangtung customs surplus in order to "save the Chinese nation."

The Chinese customs are collected under supervision of the powers through a treaty which makes them a guarantee for the payment of charges against China's foreign loans. Sun Yat Sen, leader of the South China government, which is at war with the Peking administration, claims that the customs surplus of Kwangtung province should be turned over to him instead of being given to the southern regime.

Sun's recent threat to seize the customs at Canton caused the powers to send a number of gunboats to the captain.

Grave Situation

HONG KONG, Dec. 21.—(By the Associated Press) Dr. Sun Yat Sen, head of the Canton government today telegraphed to Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the British labor party, asking him to "bring to the notice of the British people and particularly the workers, the grave situation which the British representatives in China mainly have been instrumental in creating at Canton."

"My government is being threatened with acts of war by an international force of nearly a score of cruisers and gunboats armed with soldiers, who have already landed at Shameen, (the foreign section of Canton, where the administrative offices of other nations are located.)

"This is the work of the diplomatic body at Peking, done at the instance of the British minister on advice of the senior consul at Canton, who is the British consul-general, and the inspector-general of Chinese maritime customs who is a British national."

Sun reminds the British labor leader that China, admittedly one of the richest market for British goods cannot be secured by a gunboat policy of old diplomacy although it can be won by a policy aiming at the capture of Chinese good will.

Conference on Dispute

HONG KONG, Dec. 21.—(By the Associated Press) The confidential secretary of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, South China leader, today presented to officials of Hong Kong the troublesome Canton surplus customs question from Sun's point of view.

The conference is believed to have exceeded amicable and satisfactory.

It is helped in mercantile and other circles here that nothing will occur which would tend to upset the friendly economic relations at present existing between Hong Kong and Canton.

FOREMEN'S ASSOCIATION

Billerica Car Shops Foremen Organize — First Meeting Held This Week

Billerica car shops foremen announced today the organization of a Foremen's association, with a program of activities that is to be greatly enlarged during the coming year.

Numerous Lowell workers are members of the new organization and active in pushing it along. The first of a series of educational meetings was held on Monday evening in Billerica. The special topic was "The Man Problem," covering methods of supervising work and training help for the promotion of interest and efficiency.

Three of the Billerica shops' general foreman, Joseph Gullage of the car division; Charles H. Nutter, blacksmith shop, and Chauncey L. Mitchell of the machine shop, described some of their personal experiences and methods and also expressed their views on the general subject in short talks of exceptional interest and practical value.

At this meeting several other foremen and inspectors took prominent parts in the general discussion and offered suggestions based on their own experiences.

General Manager L. G. Coleman, Mechanical Superintendent C. H. Wiggin, Assistant Mechanical Superintendent W. O. Forman and several other Boston & Maine shop executives from other railroad equipment repair districts, were present as guests and also spoke briefly on the principles which ought to govern in relations between employes and the supervisory officials, who, to the man, represent the railroad management.

James E. Kennedy of the Billerica shops and George A. Silva were elected chairman and secretary, respectively, for the next six months. Foremen Gullage, Nutter and Mitchell comprise a "subject committee" from the management, and programs are being arranged, which will include illustrated lectures on subjects of practical importance in shop operation.

The topic for the January foremen's meeting is "Safety." There will be a good speaker and general discussion. A similar association is soon to be organized at the Boston terminal.

VERY BUSY DAY AT THE POSTOFFICE

Today is the big day in greeting cards and Christmas letters at the postoffice. Every 15 minutes with the regularity of a clock, a new tub is brought on to the first of the sorting tables. Each tub contains over 10,000 loose pieces and there are laid out in heaps where two men devote all their time during the day to nothing else except piling them in stacks, so that the stamps shall all come on the same corner. From here they go to the cancellation machines, through which they run in a steady ribbon of white. After the letters are cancelled, they are sorted for local delivery by routes, and then the carriers complete the process and deliver them.

The basement is heaped very nearly to the ceiling with all the available floor space, with packages, and yet the rush has only just commenced to make itself felt. Later on the day it will be difficult to find a passageway through the maze of baskets, but nevertheless all will be disposed of before the 25th.

COMPANY C DEFEATS COMBAT TRAIN TEAM

Company C of the 182nd Infantry easily beat the Combat Train, 1st Field Artillery, in the regular basketball game scheduled in the Armory Athletic association by a score of 25-6. The victors will meet the team from Company D, Machine Gun, 182nd, at the armory.

Every Friday night there is a basketball game and the members of the Armory on Westford street and their guests matches are open to the public to attend without the payment of any admission fee. The bowling schedule is being revised by the officers of the association, who met last night. On the first Friday in January, the association will elect the new officers for the coming year.

The present standing of the teams in basketball is as follows:

	Won	Lost
Battery B, 192nd Art.	3	0
Co. C, 182nd Inf.	2	1
Co. D, 182nd Inf.	1	2

CANARIES BROADCAST THEIR WARBLES

By N. E. A. Service

CLEVELAND, Dec. 21.—Birds on exhibition at the International Canary Show here held a radio concert during their visit. They broadcast their voices from Station WTAM the silent-music battery station here.

Those who listened in heard the lost canary voices in the final "Voice contest Program" sponsored by world's champion singer. In this program the other artist was "Bobby" the pugg champion, who has been made gift to Mr. Crosley.

While some of the bird voices only to the microphone others sang to be heard over the air by the best boxes of a vision.

OTHER OLD FRIENDS ARE FALLING

Farewell, old roadside billboards! You've played an important part in our lives. But now your days are numbered—in Minnesota, at least. No longer will you tell folks traveling through the Gopher State just what to smoke or chew, or what liquor is best. Nor will you emblazon your old familiar messages, like "200 Miles to St. Paul." The state legislature has decreed all signs along the highways must go. It's a safety measure. Here are two highway department employes executing the assembly's decree.

TO PREVENT ELECTION

London Writers Urge Co-operation of Conservatives With Liberals

LONDON, Dec. 21.—Political writers in the newspapers, whose avowed aim at the moment is to avert the establishment of a socialist administration in Great Britain once with increasing frequency the cooperation of conservatives and liberals in the house of commons to that end, and also to prevent another election, which they believe the labor socialist leaders are determined to call at the best opportunity.

The correspondents report to the public that many conservatives are ready to support an Asquith government, a belief which is borne out by statements of some of the conservative platform speakers. There are assertions in the same quarter that the labor-socialist leaders were much impressed by Herbert Asquith's talk at the National Liberal club recently that the king was not obliged to dissolve parliament at the behest of any government and accordingly are weakening in their desire to accede to power.

Such statements, however, cannot be checked until the labor leaders themselves speak on the subject. They are expected to keep silent until parliament meets.

ANOTHER REPORT ABOUT GREEDY LANDLORDS

(Special to The Sun)

BOSTON, Dec. 21.—That greedy landlords are again resorting to questionable practices in their attempts to collect higher rents from their tenants is shown by a statement issued today by the state commission on the necessities of life. Numerous new complaints are daily reaching the commission.

The commission takes occasion to point out that while each landlord has a legal right to charge a tenant any price of a rent he wishes, the statute gives the tenant the right to appeal to the courts [illegible] and also for a reduction in rent, according to the facts in the case, based on the [illegible] of the house.

"In view of existing housing, fuel and weather conditions, the commission at this time requests all landlords to refrain from increasing rents, or at least to refrain from ordering tenants, who are not in arrears of rent or of undesirable character, to move during the present winter." HOYT.

LOWELL TUBERCULOSIS COUNCIL ACTIVITIES

Widespread appeals for funds to support the work of Lowell Tuberculosis council in this city and surrounding towns, are causing loyal friends of the council and its life-saving program to take heart. While hard cash contributions have not been extensive thus far, numerous checks have come in during the past two days and in this morning's mail. The chairman of the Christmas Seal sales, Mrs Lena W. Whittier, is very much encouraged.

Checks from well known Lowell citizens predominated in this morning's mail. Many gifts were accompanied by kindly letters praising the campaign workers for their efforts to combat the dread disease. The headquarters for the Christmas seal disposal campaign are in the Lowell chamber of commerce headquarters rooms. Money can be sent there or left with the tuberculosis council chairman.

OWNER CLAIMS CALF

The calf which was found wandering about on Broadway near Suffolk street, early this week, about 11 o'clock at night, by Officer Lynch, and which the Lowell Humane society has been keeping at Humpreys stables on Church street, has at last been claimed. The animal was the property of Harry Parker of 137 Pine street, and yesterday afternoon he established his claim to it and led it away. How the little fellow got so far away without being seen or hit by an auto is a mystery.

Lowell Machinists local, No. 972, last night elected the following officers to serve in 1924:

President, Paul Cote; vice president, Joseph Laney; secretary, William Cornfield; financial secretary, F. A. Collins; treasurer, John Lannan. Delegate to Machinists' district No. 42, F. A. Collins; alternate, Paul Cote.

Delegates to Trades & Labor council: F. A. Collins, Paul Cote, William Cornfield, Thomas Cuba, John Lannan, Joseph Laney, Greg Fawcett.

The meeting was largely attended and the members showed enthusiasm when annual reports were read. The special committee handling wage adjustments reported progress.

MINOR AUTO ACCIDENTS REPORTED TO POLICE

Two automobile accidents resulting in minor injuries to pedestrians were reported at the police station last night during the Christmas shopping rush period.

Alice Boute of 7 Hancock avenue, aged 6 years, was knocked down by a machine driven by Theodore R. McKen of 1141 Bridge street at 7 o'clock at the corner of Merrimack and Aiken streets. She was taken to the Corporation hospital where her injuries were found to be of a minor nature.

A young woman was knocked down at the corner of Palmer and Merrimack streets at about the same time by a machine driven by Lester O. Mason of North Billerica. She stated that she was not seriously hurt and refused to be taken to a hospital.

ALL MATCHMAKERS MUST BE LICENSED

WATERBURY, Conn., Dec. 21.—All matchmakers must be licensed and pay a $25 annual fee under new rules promulgated by the Connecticut state boxing commission to become effective Jan. 1. Other rules provide that no boxer may appear in this state until seven days after engaging in a six hour bout, five days after a semi-final, or three days after a bout of six rounds or less; that weight differences to three pounds up to 126 pounds, five pounds from 126 to 135, and six pounds from 135 to 160 and that in any bout stopped for violation of law, the box office receipts shall be turned over to the boxing commission, to be held pending the commission's decision.

The board has announced indefinite suspension of the following New York boxers: Mike Stewart, Edward Keeler, Louis Stecopier, Mark Eldridge, Sol Raymond, Joe Coburn and Sam Goldfarb; suspension for 60 days of Charlie Dickerson, also of New York.

RAID THEATRE TICKET AGENCIES

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Theatregoers today are watching for the next step in the campaign launched by the district attorney against theatre ticket agencies alleged to be "gouging" the public. The drive welcomed by ticket purchasers was started yesterday with raids on a score of agencies which resulted in eight arrests.

Those arrested face prosecution under the licensing statutes, the raids having been made on agencies operating without state licenses.

FIRE IN CARTER STREET PRIMARY SCHOOL

Fire was discovered in the Carter street primary school shortly after 10 o'clock last night and alarms were sounded from boxes 47 and 45, the first coming in at 10:14 and the second at 10:31.

The fire in the school started in a closet on the second floor and had made considerable headway before being discovered. When the firemen arrived the flames were in the partitions and had eaten through to the floor below. Owing to the fact that the fire was in the partitions the firemen had considerable difficulty in extinguishing it. Business Agent Henry Williams of the school department estimated the damage at about $1000.

The two alarms, coming so closely together, caused many to believe that a large fire was in progress. The alarm from box 45, however, was sent in after the fire was under control and Chief Saunders believes it was rung by boys.

During the past several months numerous fires have occurred in the Gorham street district which have been of suspicious origin, in fact several of the fires are known to have been set. On Dec. 5 a freight car on a siding near Gorham street caught fire and a man was seen coming from the car within a few minutes of the discovery of the fire. A description of the man was given the police and since that time Officers Kivlan and Clancy have been on special detail in this district trying to locate the suspected "firebug."

It is not believed by the fire chief that the fire in the school was set, although the origin is unknown. Residents of the upper Gorham street district are up in arms over the action of the fire-bug and every alarm sounded from this district results in a flood of calls being received at the fire station requesting information concerning the location of the fire. The residents of this district feel that until the firebug is arrested and committed to some institution for safe-keeping, it will not be safe to leave their homes unprotected.

Police Superintendent Thomas R. Atkinson said today that the two officers, Kivlan and Clancy, would stay on special detail in the Gorham street section as long as possible to safeguard the homes in that district from the firebug.

THE MERRIMACK RIVER

Another Adverse Report by Engineers for the Development of Rivers

For the second, or third or maybe the fourth time, the federal board of engineers for the development of rivers and harbors has submitted an adverse report upon the project to make the Merrimack river navigable from Lowell to the sea. Rejection came yesterday when the board reported to the house committee on rivers and harbors, saying that the project would serve no commercial purpose or necessity.

The adverse report does not come as a surprise, for it was felt that the project had little chance of success, even after Lowell city government representatives and others attended a public hearing in Washington last June and presented a strong case urging favorable consideration. That delegation included Congressman John Jacob Rogers, City Councilors James J. Gallagher, John J. McPadden, Frank K. Stearns and Arthur Genest and Geo. F. Wells, secretary manager of the Lowell chamber of commerce.

Notice of the rejection of the project is the first word to come from Washington in relation to the matter since the hearing in June, although the local representatives returned home with the feeling that it was a lost cause.

HANLEY RETURNS HOME

Delegate to Textile Workers' Executive Council Meeting Back From New York

Delegate John Hanley, representing the executive council of the New England U. T. W. conference in the Lowell district, returned home yesterday from the union textile workers' executive council meeting held in New York city on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Mr. Hanley had an opportunity to obtain some new facts relating to U. T. W. fence-building work performed in various eastern industrial sections of the country outside of New England. He returns to his Lowell offices highly gratified at conditions facing organized textile workers.

The Lowell labor leader is generally well primed with interesting data covering textile union meetings. His sources of "info," as a matter of course, are nearly always particularly remunerative in vital facts covering U. T. W. statistics and programs of field campaigns. The New York conference early this week, however, considered matters of import that are not going to become public property right away. And Mr. Hanley very plainly emphasized that fact. Briefly, the delegate from Lowell is in possession of interesting information regarding U.T.W. programs for the New Year that he is not allowed to divulge as a delegate of the organized line.

"I am sorry, but all information relative to the U. T. W. meeting must come from New York headquarters," said Mr. Hanley today. "We had an interesting—a busy—meeting. I was glad to be there. The U. T. W. was never in such good shape organically and in leadership as it is today.

"As for the proposed union campaign in southern textile mill districts, I have nothing to say at this time. Information along that line, too, will have to be secured from New York.

The Southern Drive

New York dispatches received by The Sun reveal a little more information concerning the three-day U. T. W. conference and some of its activities in paving the way for entering larger fields of the textile industry of the country in 1924. The Sun is informed that plans, long contemplated and now practically formulated will lead to the opening of a strenuous new campaign to organize southern mill workers early in the coming spring, or "as soon as the weather breaks."

The United Textile workers will be in a position to put at least 25 organizers in the field, it was learned yesterday.

At the New York meeting of the executive council, at which committees for the campaign were organized, letters were read from 14 other international unions, offering the services of their organizers for at least a period of three months in southern fields. Besides these volunteers from New England and elsewhere, the U. T. W. has been promised three men by the American Federation of Labor and one by its label trades department.

In addition, President Samuel Gompers of the A. F. of L. has assured the U. T. W. that he is ready to assist in every possible way the drive to unionize the cotton mill workers of the south. The campaign will be directed by the national officers of the textile workers' international union.

John Leech, the man who has installed industrial democracy plans in various textile mills, visited one session of the U. T. W. council meeting, but his reason for attending could not be learned, union representatives stating that they were themselves quite in the dark.

The council approved a plan whereby the Amalgamated Knit Goods Workers' union of New York will receive charters from both the United Textile Workers and the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union, the former union to control workers who operate the knitting machines and preceding processes and the garment union to control workers on all operations from the point where the cloth is taken from the knitting machines.

INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS HAMPER SCHOOLS

Current production depressions in Lowell textile industries have cut down regular attendance totals in the mill Americanization schools, Director Thomas A. Gluty said today.

Even under handicaps that cannot easily or fairly be met considering industrial conditions in Lowell as well as all New England, the Americanization schools have not been greatly retarded by pay-roll curtailments and slower mill activities.

Owing to the present three-day working schedules at the Hamilton and Massachusetts mills, where Americanization classes have been very successful during the past three years, meetings at the former mill have been cancelled. Classes continue, however, at the Massachusetts mills even under curtailed working conditions calling for smaller numbers of employees.

The Americanization class at the Merrimack Manufacturing company continues regularly, but with fewer numbers of meetings per week. The present schedule calls for two noon meetings weekly.

The healthiest activities in depressing times are seen at the Massachusetts mills, where there are noon classes on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week and two evening classes in the recreation hall of the same mills on Mondays and Wednesdays, the hours for these instruction meetings being from 5 to 6 o'clock.

The average attendance at the Massachusetts mills classes is 65. The Merrimack company's average is about 60.

Numerous women continue to attend all meetings and take as much real interest in their Americanization studies as the male textile workers. The majority of those now "schooling" under Director Gluty and his assistants are composed of members of the Polish Portuguese and Greek-speaking races.

When business improves at the Hamilton mills, the Americanization studies will be resumed there. Former Agent William Mitchell of the Massachusetts mills was leader of much of this work for the advancement of foreign-born residents and textile mill workers in Lowell. Agent Reed continues the Mitchell work for the Massachusetts branch.

Industrial Service Secretary E. E. Bohner of the Associated Industries Inc., of Massachusetts, has just completed a tour of some 80 industrial plants in Massachusetts, including Lowell, with a view to further enlisting the co-operation of industrial executives in adult immigrant education. Mr. Bohner reports that interest continues keen in Americanization work and school instruction programs, no instance of a failure of a manufacturer to co-operate having been met with thus far.

Recruiting meetings are now going on in Hartfield, where 250 Polish mill employees are interested; at Beverly where some 60 workers of mixed nationalities in the plant of the U. S. Machinery company are students, and in West Warren cotton mills and also in Chicopee.

Lowell's record in schooling the foreign-born has thus far not been surpassed, considering the scope of the field and the agencies endeavoring to maintain the present schools and increased them wherever possible. Local workers for Americanization have always found Lowell mill agents and treasurers heartily in sympathy with the aims of the Americanization school promoters.

ERRATIC DRIVERS

[illegible] that something must be done to be [illegible] the obstruction of public travel caused by the big trucks [illegible] becoming more numerous on the highways. It is not an uncommon occurrence for street cars to be held up by these vehicles while standing on the tracks. In such cases the drivers do not seem to consider the necessity of allowing the cars to pass much-needed. In other cases the drivers will keep in front of a car and although the motorman sounds his bell for a clear track, the driver keeps plodding unconcernedly. The drivers must be taught a lesson in regard to the rights of the public [illegible] violation of their own which placed in opposition. They must be [illegible] they are not to obstruct public travel wilfully or otherwise if they can avoid it. An allowance will be made, of course, for accidents, but we have seen many instances in which the drivers of big trucks have shown no regard whatever just as if they were in full exercise of their rights on the highways while holding back a street car by refusing to turn aside.

There is also a class of automobile drivers whose recklessness calls for the attention of the police department. They are the ones who shoot out from a side street to a main thoroughfare without taking time to glance in either direction to see whether the course is clear. It was one of these selfish dodgers who cut yesterday in front of Dr. Baker's house on Pawtucket street, when to avoid a collision he ran his car on the sidewalk, bumping into a lamp post and on two wheels and at the same time endangering his own life. The offending driver sped on as if nothing had happened in which he had any concern. He was wholly responsible for what happened, however, and should be made to pay the cost of repairing the doctor's automobile. But his identity is unknown. He would have been equally responsible had the doctor been wounded or killed.

The automobile laws forbid a higher speed than eight miles an hour in such cases. At that rate an automobile can be stopped in time. It would seem that not one driver out of every hundred who turn the corners of intersecting streets, ever heard of such a law. It is time they were brought to a realization of what this law demands.

CHRISTMAS SERVICES IN SWEDISH CHURCH

Bountiful dinners, containing every conceivable item of food that goes to please the palate, cheerily decorated trees, festooned with trimmings of gilt and pretty glass baubles and bearing all manner of tokens of remembrance, and song and story recalling the birth of the Lord, make up the observance program in the institutions of Lowell around the Day of Christmas day.

for Christmas day, where, young and old, women and children, are living through a combination of age, poverty or ill-health, which has robbed them of the means of making their own way in the world.

The observance at the Chelmsford street hospital, as planned by Supt. Gormley, will commence on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at which time the Sacred Heart Guild society will distribute gifts to the dwellers of the institution, and at 3 o'clock about 25 members of the Girls' club will give a program of entertainment made up of recitations and songs be[illegible] around the Day of Christmas day.

On Christmas eve the choir from St. [illegible] church will visit the hospital [illegible] at night and sing carols [illegible] the windows of the building [illegible] old style fashion. A turkey dinner with cranberry sauce, pies, and all the other time honored "fixin's" that go with the meal will be served to the inmates and then every ward will have its own Christmas tree from which the gifts will be given.

The societies to which they are indebted for the presents are the Mo[illegible] Women's club, the Sacred Heart Guild, First Baptist church, Ladies' Aid societies of St. Patrick's and St. [illegible] churches, and the Institution for the Blind.

In the Ayer home the first event on Christmas day will be the discovery of the stockings which have been hung as for old Kris Kringle to fill with nuts, fruit and candy, then a great [illegible] will story to get dressed and [illegible] breakfast after which a delightful program of songs of shepherds and [illegible] the star of Bethlehem, and other [illegible] subjects will be given [illegible] Bethlehem. The last act will be a play called "A Christmas Party" and a part of the play the big Christmas tree which adds half the playroom and is loaded with presents will be stripped and the gifts distributed to the happy youngsters. Then comes the dinner with everything that a child could wish for on the bill of fare, ending with the supreme delight of ice cream, without which no party is real.

At the Battles home and the Old Ladies' home everything possible has been done to make the declining years of the residents the best of their life, and many a fine surprise has been arranged to cheer each on the 25th. The old "boys," as they prefer to call themselves, and the "girls" take a great delight in this day when they can hang up their stockings as they did in their youthful days. WRONG LOCATION FOR DISTRICT COURT

"The most forceful argument against the establishment of a district court building in Gorham street," said Attorney Daniel J. Donahue this morning, "is its proximity to two houses of worship, St. Peter's Catholic church and St. John's Episcopal.

"Wouldn't it be an inspiring sight," he said, "to see a hearse drawn up to one of the churches and the 'Black George Heely and Everett Fox; recitation, Mabel Potvin; dances, Norah Conroy, Marie' stationed almost across the street, at the court house. Think of the example it would be to the little minds of school children going to and from the Edson school and St. Peter's school. If you can find a better argument than that, show it to me."

HELD ANNUAL BANQUET

Insurance Men Tender Banquet to Winning Team in Business Contest

The annual banquet of the employees of the local branch of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. was held in Marie's restaurant last night, the occasion being the celebration tendered the winning team in a recent business contest conducted by the office, with the result that the team captained by Frank J. Hubin assumed the role of host to the associates of William Good, leader of the successful contestants for premier honors. The winning spirit, however, was mutual in the enthusiastic gathering of last evening, and the good losers won a closer friendship with their erstwhile opponents by providing an evening which was replete with splendid entertainment and sociability.

Among the special guests present were George H. Spillane, local superintendent; John Riley, assistant superintendent, and Henry F. Sullivan, English channel hero. Frank J. Hubin was the toastmaster and introduced the various speakers and entertainers. Some of Lowell's best-known musical talent was on hand to contribute their bit to the lengthy program of festivities. Among those were included the Glendale quartet, composed of Martin McGuire, Edward Conlin, Henry Carroll and John Golden. Dorothy Nolan, the Misses Mary, Bertha, Ella and Lena Dion.

Sullivan, Miss Molly, Hastings, Mrs. Nora Regan Lonatin, Harry Pascall, Dr. N. E. Nolet and Miss Estelle Doran. Each of the above obliged with solo numbers which called for repeated encores.

In addition, recitations were given by Joseph McCann, J. Henry Connors and William McShea. A special feature of the entertainment program was Dr. Nolet's "La John Hancock," on panied by the entire assemblage. The which he was harmoniously accompanists were John Brady and Paul Angelo, Esq.

After a delicious holiday menu had been satisfactorily disposed of, Toastmaster Hubin welcomed the members and guests in a few well-chosen words and congratulated Capt. Good on the success of his team. He then introduced "Lowell's Henry," who was present with his wife at the head table. The noted swimmer recounted his conquest of the channel and said that a movement is now being sponsored to make swimming compulsory in the public schools of the state. He added that he and a committee of interested parties have an appointment with Gov. Cox on the matter for next Wednesday at the state house in Boston. At the conclusion of his interesting talk, Henry was presented a beautiful bouquet by Assistant Superintendent Riley.

The entertainment program then claimed the attention of the merry-makers for the next two hours, each of the artists being presented a bouquet as a token of appreciation for their services.

The big feature of the evening was the inspiring talk given the employees by Superintendent Spillane, who congratulated the toast master and his associates for the enjoyment derived from the affair and the wonderful spirit of co-operation and good-fellowship it created among all. He said further that the John Hancock company experienced a most successful year in 1923, due in no small measure to the unselfish work of the employees in their solicitations and general duties connected with their vocation. Mr. Spillane also emphasized the fact that the local office ranked twentieth among the cities in the country in gross production during the year now closing, and this he considered quite an achievement. That the genial superintendent is popular with the men under his jurisdiction was attested to when he was loudly applauded at the end of his talk.

As it was regarded as good "policy" to bring the affair to a close at a reasonable hour, the gathering dispersed after singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

The committee in charge consisted of Frank J. Hubin, chairman; William Burke, Patrick Quinn and Daniel Wholey.

NOTHING OMITTED IN BROADCASTING

Every conceivable form of education and entertainment can be enjoyed from listening in on a radio receiving set. A review of programs planned by some of the larger broadcasting stations confirms this.

In a recent week these are some of the subjects covered by one broadcasting station out of the New York district:

New York Philharmonic concert, special religious "Chanukah Service" celebrating a Jewish holiday, travel lectures, a talk by William Jennings Bryan, quartet, duet and solo music, business talks, children's stories, readings, joint recitals, farm, market and stock reports daily, sports events, fashion talks, time signals and weather forecasts daily, humor, current events, book reviews, tea music at 4.30, dance music, church services and Bible classes every Sunday.

That is not all. Every now and then a station announces the broadcasting of an entire play by its actors. Everything but the actors goes over, and even that is explained sufficiently to make the production a success.

Now efforts are being made further in developing radio, even to broadcasting an entire production while sitting at their radio sets at home.

The Best, Large, Fresh Killed

TURKEYS

(From 18 Pounds and Up)

35 Lb. c

These are called Old Tom Turkeys, but we have some smaller ones which are the next selection to our fancy Turkeys.

The following is a clipping from the Boston Globe:

TURKEY PRICES ARE ADVANCING

The wholesale and jobbing turkey situation is much stronger than it was previous to Thanksgiving. Then the distributors carried large supplies and were forced to dispose of holdings at a steadily-falling market. As a result of conditions at that time, it is said, more turkeys were consumed than at any previous Thanksgiving in years. Wholesale houses and jobbers carried the bag, however, and some of them are said to have dropped large sums of money.

Today the shoe is on the other foot. While there is a good supply of turkeys available, there is no glut, and prices are advancing. For instance, on Tuesday choice western turkeys, packed in barrels, sold in a wholesale and jobbing way at 31@32c a pound. The same birds are now quoted at 32@35c, and choice Minnesota turkeys are commanding 36@37c, and in some instances even more money. Medium grades of turkeys heretofore 23@25c are now held at 25@28c, and in some cases at 30c.

Western dry-packed turkeys in boxes cost even more.

ENGLISH GIRLS ARE REAL HOCKEY STARS

One of the most skillful and swiftest combinations of girl hockey players ever to show in America is the English all-star team which recently invaded the states. The English girls play a strong rushing game almost masculine in its strenuosity, and few American teams have been able to check their offensive so far. A team picked of the best girl players in Philadelphia recently went down to defeat before the British visitors by the decisive score of 5 to 1. This shows a bit of action from the game.

PICTURE TAKEN IN THE EARLY EIGHTIES

A well-preserved, large-sized photograph of an old-time local business house on Gorham street, with excellent representations of several well known Lowell citizens who were active in the [illegible] years ago, has been presented [illegible] F. Davis of the Hildreth building by his friend, Mr. Charles C. Swan of East Merri[illegible] street. Both gentlemen are collectors of antiquities and curios of all sorts and are members of the Lowell Historical society, Mr. Swan being treasurer.

SECOND IN SERIES OF TURKEY PARTIES

In K. of C. hall last night, an enjoyable turkey party was held with a large gathering of members present. The event marked the second of this nature arranged by Lecturer Edward F. Slattery, Jr., and proved a big success. Deputy Grand Knight John J. Flannery was in charge of last night's affair, assisted by John F. Roane, Jr., Edward Ryan, Timothy F. Rohan and Eugene Fitzgerald.

Entertaining selections were given by Joseph Egan, Raymond Kelly, John Baxter, William Gorenan and Thomas Towd. It was announced by Lecturer Slattery that Rev. M. J. Murphy, chaplain of the state prison at Charlestown, will speak before the council on January 6. His topic will be "Life Behind Prison Bars."

REFLEX—WAR'S BENEFIT

German Idea Developed By An American

By N. E. A. Service

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Germany may be credited with the original idea. But the war's intervention left it for an American to develop into what is considered one of the most important principles in the construction of modern radio receiving sets.

The American is William H. Priess, and the principle is that of "reflex" in radio reception, a name given by Priess himself. It is the method of reception by which one tube can be made to do the work of two or three in amplification.

More than ten years ago German scientists had been working on this system of reception. But very little was heard of it because radio then was not popular. During the war, when it was essential to combat radio activity, Priess was put on the job. An important series of experiments resulted in his discovery of the system which he called "reflex."

Not only in its power but in its economy does Priess see the advantages of "reflex." He says:

"Reflex has advantages that are of tremendous value to broadcast users, due to the economy in tubes that results in the correct application of its principle. The detector tube may be replaced by any type rectifier—for example, crystal—and the amplifier tubes may be made to do double or triple duty as amplifiers. The crystal used in this manner is a perfect means of changing radio currents to audio currents and is always better than a tube detector."

From the time peace was declared in 1918, Priess devoted his entire energy to the development of reflex. It is his belief reflex has not been approached by any set employing the same number of tubes for the two characteristics of radio telephone reception; namely, sensitivity and distance.

Next Monday evening there will be a public reception in Immanuel Baptist church, of which Rev. Mr. Hatfield is pastor. Large numbers of friends and relatives from far and wide are expected to attend both wedding observances.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE CROWDS AT THIS SENSATIONAL EVENT?

It's The Talk of The Town—Get Busy Men—
Pick While the Picking is Good

Here Is the Story:

This has been a dull season for clothing manufacturers.

Many of them are stuck with huge stocks.

Several of these manufacturers wanted to unload quickly by selling direct to the public at less than wholesale prices.

Instead of selling direct from their factories, they asked us if they could use our stores as an outlet.

We agreed under two conditions—First, every garment must be all wool and of the latest style.

Second—The retail price to the public must be less than the wholesale manufacturing price.

They agreed to these conditions, and as a result we are now starting the most sensational event in men's clothing you have ever witnessed.

What's more, we have inspected these garments and have O.K.'d them all. In fact, every one is guaranteed by us — Monroe Clothes Shops — which means money back if not satisfied!

Take our advice, men, and come early!

Further Disclosures Expected—Sweeping Study of Russian Question by Senate Foreign Relations Committee After Holidays

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—With a sweeping study of the Russian question by the senate foreign relations committee in prospect after the holidays, further disclosures are expected shortly in support of the state department's charges of revolutionary soviet propaganda in the United States.

The contention in some quarters favoring recognition of the Russian government by the United States that the propaganda for a proletarian revolution in America emanates from the communist International and not from the soviet government is regarded as merely a quibble by the state department, which holds that it is impossible to draw a line of distinction between the two.

A resolution by Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, urging the president to extend recognition to the soviet government will provide the basis of the senate inquiry. Senator Borah and Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, charged yesterday that there was no proof of the alleged activities on the part of the Russian authorities but Secretary Hughes is said to have collected evidence with the aid of the department of justice which he regards as establishing definitely the responsibility of Moscow for a movement to undermine the American government.

SUMMARY OF EARLY MORNING A. P. NEWS

General Sanchez, insurgent Mexican army chief, has gone to Esperanza to discuss plan that will end the Mexican conflict, the newspaper El Mexicano says.

Burton S. Tucker and Mrs. Susan Simpson have been remarried at Carthage, N. C., Raleigh, N. C., newspaper says.

The Boston Pilot, the official publication of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of Boston, of which Cardinal O'Connell is the head, discusses problems that face Episcopalians and other Protestant denominations and declares there are no shadows of doubt to "darken the Roman Catholic's celebration of the Christian festival."

C. E. Ruthenberg, executive secretary of the workers' party of America, in signed statement, made public at Chicago, declares that Mr. Hughes' disclosures involving soviet Russia, "are a forgery and an attempt to mislead the people of the United States."

General Evangelists of the Methodist Episcopal church in session at Memphis, denounce modernism in the Methodist church, south, as destructive doctrine and reaffirm belief in the Apostles' Creed of Protestant Christianity.

FIRE IN BASEMENT

Fire in the basement of a three-tenement block in Howard street was responsible for an alarm from box 32 at 12.42 this morning. Rags and overalls saturated with paint were on fire and, although the blaze was incipient, the smoke drove the occupants from the house.

Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick turns over Standard Oil securities worth $5,230,000 to a trust of which Edwin Kronn, Swiss architect is vice president and it is planned to do a real estate business, Chicago despatch says.

It develops that Zev's winning total has been padded by 310,000. And the only thing to do, we guess, is to hold out that much oats on the unscrupulous scoundrel.

Avoid Fires at Christmas Time!

By JOHN PLANT

Chief Engineer of Chicago Fire Prevention Bureau

Don't decorate your tree with paper, cotton or other inflammable material. Use metallic tinsel and other impregnated decorations. Set the tree securely so it cannot be tipped over.

Don't use cotton to imitate snow. Use powdered mica or asbestos fibre.

Don't permit children to light or relight candles while parents are not present. Use electrical illumination for the tree if possible.

Don't allow trees to remain inside buildings after the holidays. Many fires occur annually in January from this cause.

Don't place a lighted candle in the window. It is a very pretty custom, but highly hazardous.

Don't merely depend on having a bucket of water about while the Christmas tree is lighted. Equip yourself with a 10-gallon water pump or one of the good chemical extinguishers available at reasonable prices.

Don't give your children moving picture machines with celluloid, non-impregnated film. Fires from film at Christmas time are becoming more frequent.

Don't let children hang their stocking too near an open burning grate or stove.

PRICE OF OIL ADVANCED

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—The price of Corning crude oil in Buckeye Pipe Lines Co., lines was advanced 15 cents a barrel to $1.40 at the opening of the market today. Other grades, which advanced earlier in the week, were unchanged.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

OPERA HOUSE

Dan Caswell and June Castleton, former Follies girl, now his wife, are the headliners of five classy acts of vaudeville to be shown at the Lowell Opera house tomorrow afternoon and evening. Corliss Palmer, winner of the recent Fame and Fortune contest, is headliner of the motion picture, "The Eternal Two." Playing opposite her is the movie hero by whom Elinor Glyn said she was reminded of the ancient gods.

Four snappy acts are billed with the Caswell-Castleton act. The prices are back to the old 10, 20, 30 days, and there will be one afternoon and two evening performances.

Tickets for "Mary," the stock attraction offered by the Luttringer players upon their return from vacation next week are going fast. The advance seat sale is the largest at the Opera House this season and every indication points to capacity audiences at every performance. A special Christmas matinee is to be given, starting late in the afternoon in order that folk desirous of witnessing a play on the holiday may have plenty of time to first have their dinner.

Plans are being carried out for the big show for New Year's eve and a special musical comedy has been secured for the occasion. This show will be a midnight frolic and is expected to prove exceptionally popular.

RIALTO THEATRE

Catherine Calvert is one of the few stars who becomes more beautiful in succeeding pictures. She is certainly more beautiful than ever in her new one, "That Woman," which is now being presented at the E. M. Loew's Rialto. In "That Woman" she is a dashing queen of musical comedy, with all New York at her feet and the son of a millionaire in love with her. Imagine the stately Calvert leading the chorus and jazzing with the liveliest of them! She does both gracefully and vigorously. The story deals with the outcome of the marriage to the wealthy youth. On account of her being an actress, his whole family is very prejudiced against her. You will be surprised at the method employed by the girl to keep her husband and at the same time win over his stern father.

Jack Hoxie in "Don Quickshot of the Rio Grande," a rip, roaring western, with Hoxie in a typical Hoxie role, is the other attraction, while a clever comedy and a Pathe News conclude the program.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Everyone of us, at one time or another, has allowed his thoughts to drift back to "the days of old when knights were bold," and has let the imagination run riot in seeking to picture those olden times. And always in our dreams there was the picturesque castle where the bold knights and their ladies lived and breathed a life of romance.

At last the dream castle is a reality in "Robin Hood" the feature attraction starring Douglas Fairbanks, which is now playing at the Merrimack Square theatre. The picturesque old castle seen in the production covers two and one-half acres of the great Pickford-Fairbanks studios' grounds.

"Robin Hood" is being shown at regular Merrimack Square prices. The companion picture is "South Sea Love," starring Shirley Mason.

THE STRAND

Human drama in one of the most tense and gripping melodramas of the year is unfolded in "The Day of Faith," the feature picture offering on the Strand program for the week-end. Eleanor Boardman, Tyrone Power and Raymond Griffith are included in the cast. It's a story from the pen of Arthur Somers Roche, a former Boston newspaperman and attorney. The second feature presents Charles (Buck) Jones in "Second-hand Love." Both, together with a comedy and weekly, make one of the best balanced and most satisfying photoplay offerings for months. Don't miss it.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The banner attraction of the show at the B. F. Keith theatre this week is Henry L. Sullivan, the Lowell-born world champion swimmer, who on Aug. 5, battled against the waves of the English channel to French shores. Last night the Eagles turned out in force to welcome Sullivan, and the theatre was filled with applause. The remainder of the bill includes such attractions as "Johnny's New Car," which is admirably played by Jimmie Russell and Peggy Burke; Al Wohlman, the different type of monologist; Byron & Haig, in "The Book of Vaudeville"; Misses Price and McCarthy, pretty singers of the "Ones"; and the Four Casting Stars. The picture feature is "The Mark of the Beast," from the novel of the same name by Thomas Dixon.

Manager John McGraw Returns From Europe—Paluso Easily Beats Fox

PALUSO BROTHERS WIN THEIR BOUTS AT MOODY CLUB SHOW

Lew Triumphs Over Joey Fox in Main Event—Emil Knocks Out Gene Rochon in Semi-final—Cryan Stops Barrett, Hebert Kayos Nelson

Lew Paluso, sensational Salt Lake City student-boxer, returned to Lowell last night determined to continue the good work that brought him many admirers here a year ago and he accomplished his purpose by winning easily over Joey Fox, the barely booed English featherweight, in the main event of the Moody club show in Crescent rink.

The men were well matched in regard to weight, Fox tipping the beam at 125½ and Paluso 125¾. They were in splendid physical condition, due to careful and diligent training. Such perfect form enabled them to open up at a whirlwind clip and continue the vigorous milling over the ten round journey.

At the tap of the first gong Paluso stepped to the front with a bewildering attack. He showered Fox with blows of every description. He used a right to the body that invariably reached its mark and he ripped up uppercuts that had Fox's head bobbing up and down like a cork on water. He poked and hooked with blows to the head that scored repeatedly. Fox had a good left jab that he got over fairly successfully, but he failed to follow it up. After scoring he would generally fall into a clinch.

Let Paluso transfer himself free and repeated his attack. As the bout wore on, Paluso continued to carry the fight to his opponent and he piled up such a formidable lead that Fox's only chance of victory was via the knockout. The Britisher tried hard to get over a sleep producer but the elusive Paluso was too skilful to permit contact.

At times both boys hit low, but the blows were accidental and no damage resulted. The referee, however, cautioned them to "keep 'em up." There were no knockdowns, but both gave and took many stinging and heavy punches. Paluso gave Fox everything he had, but the veteran sandy took all he had to offer and returned for more. Fox occasionally rallied and let go terrific swings, but his flashes were of short duration.

The decision to Paluso was the only one possible.

Emil Paluso, brother of Lew, demonstrated that he possessed many of the characteristics that have made the older member of the family famous. Emil met Gene Rochon in the semi-final and he gave his opponent quite a lacing. The younger representative of the House of Paluso proved to be a terrific hitter and he scored with some ripping rights and lefts. For three rounds he held sway and then in the fourth he polished off Rochon, a blow to the jaw doing the trick. Rochon was not knocked to sleep, but he was weary from the punishment he received and the blow just tipped him over.

"Gene Rochon" Cryan began Lawrence continued his victorious sweep when he stopped Johnny Barrett in the first round of a preliminary scheduled for six. In the other prelim Johnny Hebert knocked out Johnny Nelson in the second round.

The officials were: Referee, Johnny Bresnell; judges, Frank Murphy and Leo Jones; timer, Willis Peltier.

It was announced that the proceeds of next week's show will be given to the Elks' charity fund. It will be an all star card of five bouts, with Frankie Hebert and Tommy Falls, local featherweights, in the final number.

Brown After N. E. Title

Chick Hayes in a statement to The Sun says: "If Newport Johnny Brown could confine all of his fighting among the boys weighing 126 lbs. you could back on him bringing home the bacon end of the purse. He proved that in his battle with Chick Suggs in Portland ten days ago, where he defeated the New England featherweight champion, sending him to floor for nine and having him in distress several other times. The only thing that saved Suggs' title was that the fighting was in the station Maine, where decisions are given. All other requirements for a title bout were fulfilled as both had weighed in at 125 lbs. the afternoon of the contest.

"Brown proved in this battle that he is the foremost candidate for the New England title as there are very few of the so-called featherweights that can weigh in at 125 lbs. most of them weigh 126 lbs. or more.

"In most of Brown's battles in Lowell, he gave away from two to five pounds but even with this handicap he defeated two of the best junior lightweights in New England, Romeo Reeve and Al Shubert.

"It is Johnny's ambition to get Chick Suggs in the same ring within this state. If he does I predict he will become the New England featherweight champion."

Percy of Brattleboro, Vt., defeated George Morrison of Saco, Me., in one minute, while in the next fray, Joe Alvarez, the big chap from Panama, made good, defeating three men, one after the other.

His first opponent, Frank Butcher, was upended in five minutes, but Fred Swanson, the next man, made a bit of bother and kept his shoulders off the mat for 11 minutes. Lawson Parkham, the Attleboro policeman, also proved a tough hn, staying off the mat for 9 minutes 30 seconds.

Following the bout, Alvarez was matched to meet Stanley Stasiak next Thursday night at the Grand.

ITALIAN WRESTLER WINS OVER TOM DRAAK

BOSTON, Dec. 21.—Despite the handicap of a bad knee which pained him with every step, Angelo Taramaschi, the Italian grappler, won through with his bout with Tom Draak, the Hollander, at the Grand Opera House, last night.

What's more, he defeated the Hollander two straight falls in a battle in which strength and wrestling science figure it about even Steve.

The Italian scored the first fall in 31 minutes with a flying mare hold of which he is one of the few grapplers who visit Boston who knows how to properly execute it.

Draak was trapped for the second fall with a head scissors and wristlock in six minutes.

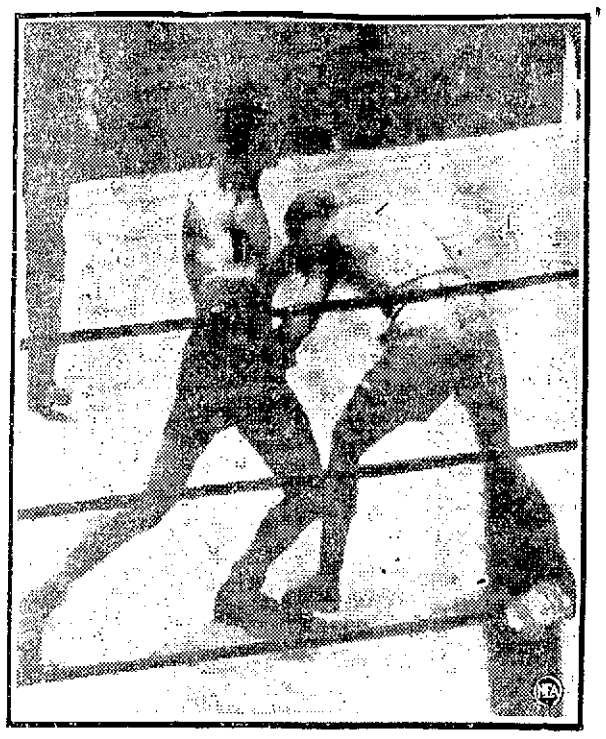
The excitement of the night was provided by Jack Albright of Chicago and John Kilonis, the Greek. The Greek went to it for 1 hour 7 minutes, everything from the footlights, and a few punches for the referee. Nick Bazinos Kilonis gave Albright his famous chest swing and lounged him hard, but the Chicagoan turned, rolled and scored a fall with a reverse body hold. They wrestled 3 in one fall.

In the opening bout George "Farmer" Sinnons

LOWELL HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL TEAM

Lowell High's basketball team is learning to shape in good style. Practice is being held daily in the gym under the direction of Coach Easton. After the Christmas holidays, which begin today, the coach will be ready to select his team.

There are 12 games on this year's schedule. It is probable, at the present outlook, that the varsity squad will be composed of Capt. Gillson, Georgeas, Lewis, Flaherty and Weeks. Among the promising candidates are Casey, Carpenter, Lambert, Sullivan, Murray, Yafa, Cohen, Mooney, Sutherland and Simmons.



DUNDEE WINS, BUT—

Johnny Dundee, featherweight titleholder, was given the judges' decision over Jack Bernstein, and thus won the junior lightweight title as well. The bout occurred at Madison Square Garden, New York City. When decision was announced the fans howled long and loud, many saying it was the worst decision in years, as Bernstein looked the easy winner, they added. Bernstein on left.

EXPECT U. S. RACQUET VICTORY IN OLYMPICS

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Despite the absence of William M. Johnston, second national ranking tennis player and current holder of both the Wimbledon turf court and St. Cloud clay court world championships, followers of tennis expect an American racquet victory in the Olympics at Paris next year.

The lists from which the men and women teams will be selected, made public last night by Julian S. Myrick, chairman of the Olympic tennis committee, did not contain the name of the Pacific coast wizard, who, Mr. Myrick understood, has stuck to his determination to keep at business most of next season.

From five men, William T. Tilden, the national champion and considered the greatest singles player in the world; Vincent Richards, who has been ranked next to Johnston, Francis T. Hunter, and the veterans, Watson Washburn and R. Norris Williams, 2d, an Olympic victory is expected. They were on Mr. Myrick's list.

Six women were named, including Mrs. Franklin I. (Molla) Mallory, former national champion, who is ineligible to represent the United States in the Olympics as she was born in Norway. The other five are Helen Wills, the national champion; Miss Eleanora Goss, Miss Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy and Miss Lilian Scharman.

Mrs Mallory may enter the other European tournaments in which American women will compete, including Wimbledon, and be a member of the team that will defend the Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman trophy.

Mr. Myrick explained that at the end of the 1922 season Johnston told him he would not be as active next year as in the season just passed. Johnston said he took in European territory last season, because he anticipated he would be busier at home in 1924.

FRENCH BANTAM CHAMP COMING TO U. S.

PARIS, Dec. 21.—Charles Ledoux, French bantamweight, told a representative of Auto that after meeting Edouard Tenant, the new European featherweight champion, he planned to sail for the United States, probably in April when he knew several fights awaited him.

ORGANIZE HOCKEY TEAM

The Emeralds, who in the past years have been putting out first class baseball and basketball teams, are now about to extend their sporting activities to an entirely new branch of the game—ice hockey. Just as soon as the weather permits, the Emeralds will put forth a hockey team that they expect will be one of the best in this section. The team will be made up entirely of local material, on the Emerald team will be "Ken" Hutchison, formerly of the famous Pittsburgh club. He will also act as coach. Other members of Canadian college hockey clubs who will join the Emerald line-up are: Fortier of Belleville, Gibson and Boisvert. The team will be selected from the following men: Adrien Belleville, Lorenzo Cochran, Cormier, Gibson, Hotchkiss, Kendrick, Larkin, Mason, Perry and Rawlings. The team has selected the name of Emeralds for the present because some of its players are members of the different Emerald sports teams, but this may be only temporary, and at the next meeting of the team it will be decided whether this name will be kept or another chosen.

PLAN 30 INDOOR MEETS

Track Stars Hopeful of Participating in Olympic Games to Show Class

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Eastern track and field stars, hopeful of winning positions on the 1924 American Olympic team, will have many opportunities to demonstrate their qualifications before the outdoor season begins, for early next month there will be inaugurated the most extensive indoor track and field schedule yet attempted in this section.

No less than 30 indoor meets, several confined to college athletes, but the majority open to both club and college representatives, are included in the list which will be conducted in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Newark, Buffalo, Baltimore and Washington.

The indoor season will open with the annual Osceola club games at the 7th Regiment armory, Jan. 12, and continuing from that date through the month of March, each week will witness from one to five important track meets.

Featuring the list are the Millrose A.A. games in Madison Square garden, Jan. 29 and 30; the Boston A.A. games at the Boston Arena, Feb. 2; the Newark A.C. games at Newark, Feb. 1; the New York A.C. games, Feb. 7; the Wilco A.A. games at the 7th Regiment armory, Feb. 16; the Harvard-Dartmouth-Cornell triangular meet, and the New England A.A.U. indoor championships at Boston, Feb. 16; the American Legion games at Boston, Feb. 22; the intercollegiate A.A.A.A. indoor championships at the 102d Regiment armory, March 1, and the Metropolitan A.A.U. indoor championship, March 11.

In many of the meets the competition will be national in scope, for invitations have been sent to the star athletes of the west and south to appear in the special and handicap events.

The urge to win positions on the next Olympic team and the fact many of the leading coaches believe indoor competition is the best means of preparing athletes for a strenuous outdoor campaign, is expected to bring out large fields in every event at every meet, and close followers of the sport look for many new indoor records before the season is ended.

KANSAS BOSS

Husky Charles Black is captaining the Kansas basketball team this season, and followers of the westerners expect great things, not only because Black is one of the best basketball players in the west but the team as a whole is unusually formidable.

BOWLING RECORD BROKEN

The record in the Manufacturers' Bowling league was broken by the Saco-Lowell bowlers last night, when they hit the pins for 1630, smashing the previous record of 1612 held by the American Woolen company. Robinson was high man with a three-string total of 352. His best single was 132, which was also scored by Boucher of the Ipswich team. These men are now tied for the Willis Peltier prize for the best single string. Tonight at 7.30 o'clock the American Woolen and Silesia teams will roll.

DIAMOND DOPESTERS LOOK FOR TRADES TO STRENGTHEN GIANTS

Manager McGraw Returns From European Visit—Expected to Soon Clear Up Reported Deal Involving Rogers Hornsby—Several Giant Players Seek Increase

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Baseball followers today expect to learn the plans for 1924 of Manager John J. McGraw of the New York Giants, who, with Mrs. McGraw, was on the incoming leviathan from Europe.

Diamond dopesters were mystified when McGraw did not return in time for the Chicago meeting, particularly as he had indicated he desired to make trades and purchases that would enable him to strengthen the weak spots his team revealed when it lost the last world's series.

Reports have persisted that before sailing McGraw had concluded an arrangement to obtain Rogers Hornsby, the star second baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals, for whom Charles H. Ebbets, owner of the Brooklyn club, offered $275,000 at Chicago. McGraw was expected to clear up that situation today.

It has been indicated that some of the Giant players have asked for increased salaries for next year. Among these Frank Frisch, second baseman, has been listed. McGraw has labelled him one of the greatest players of all time and had said he was one of the three players with whom he would not part for next season.

The Billy Evans all western honor roll is the consensus of more than 50 sport writers from that section. The west played brilliant football in the season just closed and the standard of the players was exceptionally high.

Eklund of Minnesota and Hancock of Iowa draw the end positions. Eklund was well liked by the sport writers, very few omitting him from their first eleven.

Below was almost a unanimous choice for one of the tackles with Muirhead getting a strong play for the other.

McMillen finished away ahead of the field for the guard honors. There was little to choose between the others, the vote being very close, with Bieberstein getting the place.

Blott was practically unanimous for center with Claypool much favored as understudy.

Stuhldreher, Uteritz and Workman were the best liked for quarterback. For the halfbacks Grange was unanimous with Martineau close up.

CAN MAYS MAKE GOOD AS NAT. LEAGUE STAR

Next year Carl Mays, stormy petrel of baseball and noted submarine hurler, late of the New York Yankees, will wear a Cincinnati uniform.

Mays shot his bolt as an American Leaguer. He hasn't been a star pitcher for three years. Baseball men say he slumped when he suddenly lost his fast ball. Mays used to have a baffling fast ball, one that came to the batter on a rise, and then dipped abruptly.

Mays threw his fast ball and his curve ball with the same motion, starting the delivery almost at his shoe tops.

In the days when he had both a fast ball and a curve the batter was continuously bewildered; he could never tell from the manner of Mays' delivery whether to expect a fast ball or a curve. That was one reason why he was so effective in his winning days.

Mays is expected to get along fairly well in the National League, despite the fact that he no longer has a fast ball. Mays' peculiar form of delivery will be puzzling to the batters for a while. He still has a nice curve and good control.

Manager Moran of the Reds evidently thinks he is worth a gamble, and announces that Mays will be one of his regulars next season.

Every winter everybody is surprised at the weather.

GRIFFITH MAY AGAIN TRY MANAGING

Who will manage the Washington Nationals in 1924?

As yet no one has been appointed to succeed Donie Bush, who, despite the fact that he finished fourth, was fired.

Failure to name a manager at the Chicago meeting of the major leagues has caused the gossips to spread the rumor that Clarke Griffith will once again don the managerial togs.

Griffith, now president and part owner of the Washington club, was for years a major league manager of note. When he was elevated to the presidency of the club, he decided to retire from the active end of the playing game.

CLARKE GRIFFITH

The managerial germ, however, remained in his system, for Clyde Milan, who managed the club in 1922, and Donie Bush, who lead the team last season say the policy of the club was largely dictated by Griffith.

It is said that Frank Chance, who was once seriously considered as Bush's successor, refused to consider the proposition because he did not believe he would be given entire control, the only basis on which he would accept the management.

Failure to land several desirable candidates that Griffith had under consideration, is said to have caused him to seriously consider the advisability of again taking up the reins.

HELME IS "OFF FORD CANDIDACY FOR LIFE"

ADRIAN, MICH., Dec. 20.—James W. Helme, who filed petitions at Lansing, placing the name of Henry Ford in the democratic column of the ballot in the presidential primary next spring, said he is "off the Ford candidacy for life," in commenting today upon Mr. Ford's statement that he would not oppose President Coolidge.

"The object of filing Ford petitions at so early a date," Mr. Helme said, "was to force a statement and find out where we were at. The spectre of a possible Ford candidacy has demoralized both old parties and their leaders and brought discussion to third party organization. All this now is removed, and we can settle down to the fact that there will be no Ford in the race."

Comment on Ford's Stand

DETROIT, Dec. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Henry Ford's statement announcing that he will not oppose President Coolidge, "on any ticket whatever," still was reverberating in Michigan political circles today.

Republicans, headed by Gov. Groesbeck and Fred D. Cody, chairman of the republican state central committee, were exultant and democrats, including A. R. Crofoot, secretary of the state central committee, James W. Helme, who filed Ford petitions, and Edward Tronsdorf, democratic "school horse," tempered disappointment with relief at the clarification of the political atmosphere.

The coterie of third party sponsors in some cases were inclined to go ahead with its plans despite Mr. Ford's statement while others indicated that the Ford statement settled it.

Rev. William Dawe, of Dearborn, where Mr. Ford lives, president of the original Ford-for-President club, has taken the latter view. He believes the club now has nothing to do but wind up its affairs.

Robert R. Procter, relative and friend of the automobile manufacturer, said third party plans would go on, despite Ford's announcement.

"Mr. Ford will live to change his mind in regard to supporting Coolidge," he said.

ADVERSE REPORT ON FARLEY NOMINATION

WASHINGTON, [illegible] The nomination of Edward [illegible] chairman of the Shipping [illegible] will be reported adversely to the [illegible] under a decision today by the commerce committee.

The committee's [illegible] based entirely, members said, on provisions of the law which [illegible] only one member of the board [illegible] representing the Great Lakes. Mr. Farley is from Chicago, and the lakes section already is represented by Commissioner T. V. O'Connor of Buffalo.

By the action the committee overruled President Coolidge's contention that senate confirmation of [illegible] Lasker of Chicago as board member in 1921 constituted a precedent for similar approval of the Farley nomination. At the time of Mr. Lasker's confirmation, there was another vacancy on the board from the lakes region.

Favorable reports were ordered by the committee on the nomination of Frederick I. Thompson of Alabama and Bert E. Haney of Oregon, recently pointed as members of the board.

The vote in the committee against Mr. Farley was said by members to be unanimous.

TO LIBERALIZE WAR RISK INSURANCE ACT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Amendments to liberalize the war risk insurance act were proposed today by Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, a member of the committee on veterans' affairs, the veterans' bureau.

The bills would allow veterans suffering from non-service-connected tuberculosis free treatment irrespective of whether the disease was of service origin, would extend the stipulation that such patients must be examined within three years after discharge in order to avail themselves of government aid, and would extend compensation to dependents of soldiers who died of tuberculosis or other ailments within three years after discharge.

He received his Ph.D. degree at University of Zurich and also from the Institute of Technology at Baltimore, Md.

JUDGE KENYON NOT A CANDIDATE

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 20.—United States Circuit Judge Kenyon, former senator from Iowa, today contradicting reports that certain republicans were considering him as a "dark horse" for the presidential nomination, said he would not be a candidate.

"All I want is to be let alone," he said. "I am out of politics."

Judge Kenyon was leader of the farm bloc while in the Senate.

TO ESTABLISH PROHIBITION BUREAU

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Establishment of a bureau of prohibition in the treasury, thereby removing enforcement work from the jurisdiction of the commissioner of internal revenue, will be proposed in congress soon with the approval of Secretary Mellon. The new bureau would be under personal direction of Mr. Mellon and would be headed by a prohibition commissioner responsible to the secretary alone. Mr. Mellon still favors transfer of prohibition enforcement from the treasury to the department of justice for as long as enforcement work remains with the treasury he believes better results can be obtained through a separate bureau.

GEMS VALUED AT $25,000 STOLEN

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 20.—Gems valued at $25,000 were stolen by yeggs who early today blew open two big safes in the offices of the Charles F. Dunan jewelry manufacturing establishment on Main and Tupper streets. The walls of the office and factory were crossed by the thieves. Three other safes, which it was reported would have been worth a hundred times as much, were untouched. The combination of one was found broken off, but the contents of all three were undisturbed.

EXTRADITION IS DENIED

CONCORD, N. H., Dec. 20.—Marcelo Viannotte Fernandez, former cashier-general for the finance department, Republic of Mexico, was discharged today and extradition which had been requested by the border government was denied by the United States Commissioner, Elwin E. Page, who found that probable cause was not shown that he was guilty of embezzlement of 147,000 pesos or $80,000 in American money.

RAPID SPREAD OF FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE

LONDON, Dec. 20.—The rapid spread of the foot and mouth disease among cattle in Great Britain has induced the ministry of agriculture to make a drastic order that will bring disaster to thousands of sportsmen in Britain, for it is no less than the complete prohibition of all hunting with dogs throughout the areas affected by the plague, the assumption being that the dogs will spread the disease.

At the opening of the very heart of the British hunting season, and in the midst of preparations for the coming season, it will deprive thousands of people of one of their cherished sports and will cheer many people out of work.

PATIENT ESCAPES AND COMMITS SUICIDE

BANGOR, Me., Dec. 20.—Carrying the sheet she had wrapped about herself from the second floor of a local sanitorium in which she was a patient and leaping out to the ground 50 feet below, Miss Hubert Hilborn, aged 30, a member of a prominent Stockton Springs family, died early today. Her body, found by the janitor, was found near the river between the city and Brewer, and showed she had striken the ground head first. She was seen to jump by a policeman who was not near enough, however, to stop her. The body has not been moved.

A note found in her room told of her mental affliction and gave directions as to where to look for the body, and concerning her dog.

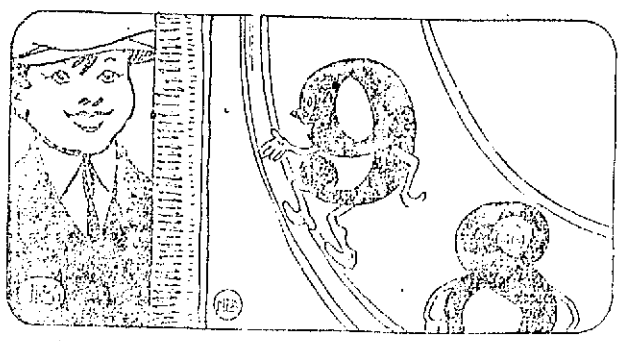
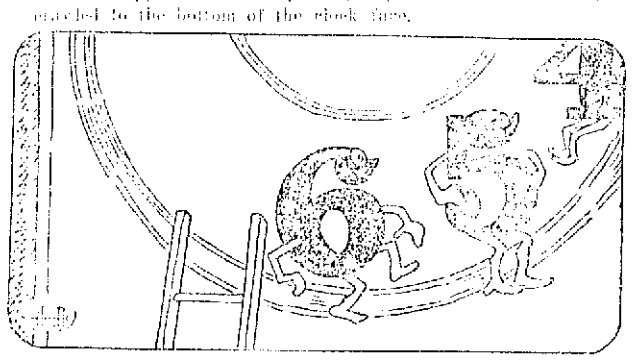
Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 15



Jack was very much interested in the work each number had to do. Number 3 was to tell children when school was out; Number 4 was to tell mother when to send Willie to the store for something she had to cook; and Number 5 was to tell dad when to start home from work. And then came Number 6.

"Hello there, Number 6," shouted Tickty. "Will you please tell me exactly what you are supposed to tell?" "Why," laughed Number 6, "I'm supposed to tell the family when to sit down to supper. That's why everybody likes me!" And he then marched to the bottom of the clock face.



Number 7 then said his job was to tell when baby was to be tucked into bed, and Number 8 said he was on the clock to tell the other children when to come home from school. Then Number 9 said he told father and mother when to take a breath of relief, because all of the tots were asleep. (To Continue.)

PUBLIC SERVICE BOARD MEETING

Water Department Report Shows Increase in Work Over 1922

Money Turned Back by Auditorium Commission May Go to Street Department

The board of public service held its weekly meeting yesterday at 4 p. m. in the office of the street department.

A report from the water department showing in detail the amount of work done this year also showed a considerable increase over 1922 and 1921, in fact, in the amount of new water pipe laid, this year's record is more than double that of two years ago and half again as much as was laid in 1922.

The department this year laid 12,500 feet of new pipe, representing 2.37 miles and thereby increase the total mileage of pipe now in use to 167.27. Fifty new water gates were put in this year and 38 new hydrants. In 1921, 15 new hydrants were put in and in 1922, 25. The number of new gates installed this year is about equal to the figures for 1921 and 1922.

The Locks and Canals Corp. requested the board to resurface Broadway from Suffolk to Dutton street and repair sidewalks in the vicinity of Worthen street. This is included in the paving program for 1924.

The board decided to make a trip to Cambridge and Boston next Wednesday to inspect tractors, street sweepers and snow removal equipment.

Mrs. Albert Rury appeared before the board relative to the installation of a catch basin at Forrest and Blodgett streets. She asked for cinders to keep the surface water from running into cellars in the neighborhood.

The park commission sat in with the board relative to the removal of snow from sidewalks in the vicinity of city hall and Monument square.

Chairman Clarence M. Weed, speaking for the commission, felt the arrangement which has been in effect for the past ten years, whereby the street department clears away the snow and dumps it on public commons, should be continued. The board agreed to this propositio and a formal vote was taken upon it.

Chairman Murphy said he had noticed the report of the Auditorium building commission whereby it turned back into the city treasury $1391.02, and asked if the street department ever had received the money due it from the commission for grading, edgestones and granolithic walks laid in the neighborhood of the building.

The reply was that no payment has been made. The amount is $6482.

Chairman Murphy recalled a conference held last year at which it was said that if any surplus existed after the building was erected, the street department should get the benefit of it.

"There is a surplus," said Mr. Murphy, "and I think the street department should get it."

The other members of the board felt the same way about it and the engineer was instructed to send a letter to Mayor Donovan, calling attention to the surplus and asking that it be transferred to the credit of the street department. A similar letter will as that the steet department will get any surplus which may exist in the appropriation for the erection of the new high school, for work done by the department for the high school building commission.

Engineer Kearney submitted to the board specifications, approved by the city solicitor, for the reconstruction of the Lawrence Mfg Co. wall at Hall and Aiken streets, as a part of the contract for corner widening. No action was taken pending the approval of specifications for the reconstruction of the tenement block property on the opposite corner.

Frank A Donnelly was asked to appear before the board at its next meeting relative to a contract for new rails on the Moody street bridge.

The Nashoba Construction Co., in a letter to the board, asked for some action on a bill in the amount of $1456.56 for extra paving work on Highland and West Sixth streets. The letter stated a company representative has asked City Engineer Kearney to present the bill to the board for approval on several occasions, but nothing has been done.

Figures presented by Arthur Bartlett of the engineer's office differed materially from those established by materially from those submitted by

The matter was referred back to the city engineer to see if some agreement can be reached with the Nashoba Co.

PRAISES ROGERS' BILL

Writer Says Policy Set Forth by Lowell Congressman is Absolutely Sound

In an intensely interesting article in the current issue of The Saturday Evening Post, George Agnew Chamberlain devotes eight or nine columns in praise of Hon. John Jacob Rogers of Lowell and his bill for the reorganization and improvement of the foreign service of the United States.

Mr. Chamberlain calls the policy put forward by the Lowell congressman "as simple, fundamental and far-reaching in its bearing on our national welfare as was the establishment of the principles of the open door in the broader field of international comity by the late Secretary of State John Hay.

HON. JOHN JACOB ROGERS

"So plain is the case for the Americanization of our own foreign service," continues the writer, "that once seen, you would be apt to ask yourself, 'Who has the nerve to oppose this bill—and why?' The answer is that once the folks back home begin to ask that question few indeed will have the nerve.

"There is more general prejudice and ignorance in regard to our foreign service than there is toward all the other branches of government combined. The ignorance is largely due to distance and the prejudice to that infinitesimal group among our public servants who have diligently earned the names of cake-eaters, pink-tea hounds and white spatters. To this small group, comprised of men just as destitute to the state department which employs them as they are to you or to any genuinely American diplomat, Mr. Rogers' bill spells anathema, or Nemesis, or kismet, or all three put together and set to the tune of a swan song."

Continuing still further the writer says:

"Listen to Mr. Rogers: 'But I have seen some of these young men secretaries who have had exceptional social opportunities and advantages in the capitals abroad, become the most abject followers of the social regime in the foreign capital. One of the things that I hope is going to follow from this bill is to see some of these de-Americanized secretaries to Singapore as vice consuls, or to force them out of the service altogether.'

"Does that interest you, and, if it does, which are you going to back, Mr. Rogers, or the pink-tea hound?"

"What we need," says Mr. Rogers, "is an open door to diplomacy where any American boy can enter by the right of his brains, his education, his address and his vocational ability and not on the strength of his wife's or his father's money. We have got to rip the partitions out of that ramshackle bird cage of the foreign service and what is more, we can't afford a bird cage anyway, at any price. The kind of material we need must come from the whole of the nation and not from 2 per cent. of the idle and variously ambitious rich."

"The object of this measure," said the Massachusetts congressman in his report to the house, "is to improve our diplomatic and consular service by strengthening and adapting its machinery to the exigencies of postwar conditions in international affairs. It proposes to accomplish this by laying the foundations for a broader service of trained men and by providing the means of attracting and holding the type of men capable of measuring up to the new demands."

It is not often that Lowell folks are given the opportunity of reading of the work being performed for the country at large by one of its sons, particularly in an organ which has such tremendous circulation as The Saturday Evening Post and it should become the duty of all citizens of this city to read what one of the best-thinking writers of the day thinks of the bill being sponsored and fought for by our own representative in congress, John Jacob Rogers.

In the present article no attempt has been made to more than sketchily outline Mr. Chamberlain's article, but there is not a dull moment in it anywhere.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

JOSEPH BOYLE KILLED

Police Notified That Lowell Man Was Shot to Death in Newark, N. J.

Because the paymaster, he and two others tried to hold up was left-handed and pulled a revolver with that hand while they were watching his right, the body of Joseph F. Boyle of this city reached Salem today for burial.

Boyle, who has a sister here, was shot dead in Newark, N. J., Tuesday. His two companions got away but were later captured and are being arraigned today in Newark on charges of attempted robbery.

The dead man, who was only 28 years old, was one of three gunmen who attempted to hold up Frank H. Dewey, who was carrying a Newark factory payroll. They approached Dewey from the rear and called to him to throw up his hands. Dewey turned quickly, firing his automatic at random as he wheled about. He had the pay-tray in his right hand and the would-be robbers were completely surprised at his quick action.

They turned and ran, pursued by employes who heard the fusillade of shots from Dewey's pistol. An auto with engine running was awaiting them about a block off. As they neared the car, Boyle faltered and fell, dying before he could be given medical aid. His two companions made off but police guarding the many outlets from the city and knowing the registration plates of the machine, quickly corraled them.

Boyle was taken to the city morgue where a letter was found in his pockets which served to identify him. Police Chief Michael T. Long of Newark immediately wired to Police Chief Atkinson here asking him to locate relatives. Inspector John Walsh was assigned and succeeded in finding the sister. His father is a mulespinner in a Lawrence mill. A brother-in-law in Salem was communicated with and wired the Newark authorities to ship the body to him.

Boyle was well known in the Broadway district as a youth, according to Inspector Walsh. He has no police record here and left Lowell for Detroit about eight years ago to seek a job. He returned but once since that time. During the last mayoralty election he was here for a few days, apparently in good financial circumstances.

Inspector Walsh last night talked with Charles Clavin of 171 Pawtucket street, former preliminary pugilist who saw Boyle in Newark three or four weeks ago but Clavin could not give any information of much value to the police. The Newark chief telegraphed that members of the detective bureau had seen him in Boyle's company. Clavin told Inspector Walsh he met Boyle in Newark and talked about mutual acquaintances here but he did not know just what Boyle was doing in that city. He seemed to be in fairly good circumstances, Clavin said.

Dewey, the paymaster who shot Boyle, had less than $700 in his tray when he was held up. He had paid off the main force of a Newark factory and was on his way to the annex to pay off the remainder when he was accosted.

The three confederates of Boyle pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with attempt to rob. They will be sentenced Jan. 21. The men were Clarence Goldspink, Joseph Stevens and George Chambers.

NASHUA MAN ARRAIGNED IN DISTRICT COURT

Charles W. Kimball, 20, an ice cream dealer of Nashua, N. H., was fined $10 for operating an automobile without a license and $10 for operating without a registration, when his case was tried before Judge Fisher, in district court this morning. A charge of operating in a manner to endanger the lives and safety of the public was dismissed, defendant being found not guilty on this complaint.

Kimball was arrested at Ring and Westford streets by Motorcycle Officer Andrew Hunter about 6.30 o'clock last Wednesday evening. The officer said he trailed him from Smith street after his machine had almost run down a Mr. Childs of Gibson street as the latter was preparing to board an electric car.

John Olek, charged with drunkenness, was sentenced to two months in the house of correction.

TO GIVE DECISION ON "MIXED" BOUTS

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A decision on whether "mixed" bouts between white and colored fighters are permissible in this state is expected today from the New York State Boxing commission.

If the decision is affirmative(it probably will open the way for a bout next summer between Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills for the world's heavyweight championship. It is said the commission has not been impressed by the conduct in and out of the ring of colored boxers, who have been permitted to meet each other in bouts since the sports was re-legalized here.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT

Armand Rivet Struck by Auto in Merrimack Street, Dies at Hospital

Armand Rivet, 32, of Doyle avenue, Dracut, died at St. John's hospital last night from injuries sustained when struck in Merrimack street by the heavy Lincoln sedan owned and driven by Harry Pitts, well known automobile dealer. Rivet is married and a painter by occupation.

After reporting the fatality to police headquarters Mr. Pitts was charged with manslaughter and released under bonds of $2000.

The accident occurred in Merrimack street between Tilden and Hanover streets at about 11.15 o'clock. According to the statement made to the police by Mr. Pitts, Rivet stepped from the sidewalk directly in the path of his car and although he made every effort to avoid striking him, was unsuccessful. He said he was driving at a moderate rate of speed. His statement was corroborated by Christopher Mooney, street car operator, who witnessed the accident.

Rivet died a few minutes after reaching St. John's. His bruises were multiple, including a fractured skull and several broken ribs.

Manslaughter Charge

Mr. Pitts was arraigned in district court this morning on a technical charge of manslaughter. The case was continued until Jan. 12 with bonds fixed at $2000.

GERMAN HOLDINGS IN U. S. TOTAL $200,000,000

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Germans have holdings in the United States approximating $200,000,000 in cash or its equivalent, a survey by a group of New York bankers shows, the New York Times said today.

A popular estimate had placed the German holdings at $1,000,000,000, the amount estimated by the French. The bankers reported that a judgment which might be considered a "German estimate" was considerably lower than the $200,000,000.

The bankers' estimate is in cash, bankers' acceptances, treasury certificates and Liberty bonds and, it was stated, might be made the basis of from $1,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 worth of business.

FOOD LOAN TO GERMANY

Reparation Commission Refers Application to Governments of Various Delegates

PARIS, Dec. 21. (By the Associated Press.)—Germany's application for authorization to pledge resources as a guarantee for a food loan from the United States, was referred by the reparation commission today to the home governments of the various delegates. At the same time, it was decided that the commission's committee on guarantees should make a thorough investigation as to the food situation in Germany.

The Germans amended their application before action was taken upon it. Article 248 of the treaty of Versailles was involved, as well as article 251, there being a question as to jurisdiction. Article 248 provides that the first charge upon all Germany's assets and resources shall be the cost of reparation and all other costs arising under the treaty or supplementary agreements or arrangements "subject to such exceptions as the reparation commission may approve."

Article 251, originally invoked, lists the priority of such costs and specifies that priority may be allowed by the governments of the allied and associated powers to permit Germany to pay for food supplies, raw material, etc., judged by the governments to be essential to enable Germany to meet her reparation obligations.

The report of the commission's guarantee committee will be available either for the allied governments or the reparation commission itself, whichever shall finally take up the German application.

CONNOR WANTS 3 DUMP WAGONS

Tells Park Board He Has Been Waiting Since August for Delivery

Even Though He Bought Them Cheap He Wants Immediate Use of Them

The park commission yesterday afternoon conferred with the board of public service on the matter of snow removal from the parkways in the centre of the city. The board reversed its former ruling that the department do its own snow removing in these small areas.

The ruling was reversed when Chairman Weed of the park commission explained that it has been customary for the street department to do this work in return for the courtesy of allowing the dumping of snow on the commons. In the spring the park department takes care of the restoration of the commons to their former condition and also provides for the removal of the large amount of debris which is usually dumped with the snow. It was decided as most economical and logical to keep this agreement in force.

Arrangements for the public Christmas tree observance were left with Superintendent John W. Kernan with authority to arrange the various programs.

It was voted to refer to the city solicitor for opinion a communication received from B. J. Tierney on behalf of his client, Matthias F. Connor. In August Mr. Connor purchased three used dump wagons and a harness from the city for $100. The purchase was made through the city purchasing agent. The park department held up delivery on the ground that the price was far too low. Mr. Connor, through counsel, advised that he insists the city make delivery to him.

Three applications for permission to remove trees were referred to the tree committee with power. The applicants were from Joseph A. Claus, 34-36 West Sixth street; P. N. Cossette, 1-3-5 Common street and Thomas F. Cullinan, 42 London street.

GREEK REPUBLICANS DEMAND GOVERNMENT BE TURNED OVER

Cite Successes in Recent Parliamentary Election to Justify Demand—Deny Split Between Extremist and Moderate Factions—Pictures of King Removed

ATHENS, Dec. 21.—(By the Associated Press) The republicans today issued a demand that the government be turned over to them in view of their successes in the recent parliamentary election. They also denied reports of a disagreement between the extremist and moderate factions of the party.

General Pangalos, military governor of Athens and republican leader, expressed surprise and indignation that the government should not be turned over to the party that won the elections.

"I demand that the Gonatas government resign immediately," he said. "If the liberals have a majority let them form a new government, but the present government must get out."

General Pangalos claims to have 100 deputies pledged to support him. The Eleutheros Tipos, official organ of the republican party, says the premiership in a republican government would go

GEN. DAWES OFFERED PRESIDENCY OF EXPERT COMMITTEE

Reparation Commission Unanimously Decides to Name American as Head of Principal Committee to Investigate Germany's Resources and Financial Situation

PARIS, Dec. 21. (By the Associated Press.) The reparation commission this morning decided to offer to Charles G. Dawes of the United States, the presidency of the committee which is to examine German finances.

An American thus will head the principal expert committee to be named for the investigation of Germany's resources and financial situation.

The reparation commission found it necessary to postpone issuing its invitations to the other delegates on the committees aside from the Americans, but in view of the need of gaining time to permit the representatives from the United States to arrive without delay, the names of General Dawes and of Owen D. Young of New York were approved and instructions given that formal invitations be sent them.

It was the unanimous decision of the reparation commission that the presidency of the leading expert committee ought to be offered to General Dawes.

Certain formalities connected with selection of the delegates of the other countries remain to be complied with

MAYOR ALL DONE WITH TRACTOR CONTROVERSY

As far as Mayor John J. Donovan is concerned, the controversy over the tractor for the fire department is settled.

"I have offered Chief Saunders a tractor, the Four-Wheel-Drive," said the mayor. "He says it is not acceptable to him. Well, if he does not want it, that is up to him. He has an opportunity to get a tractor he says he has needed for some time and as far as I am concerned the controversy is ended.

"I will say this, however," continued His Honor," I intend to hold the fire chief responsible for his department and particularly so if anything unfortunate should occur which might have been avoided by the use of a tractor. By this I mean unnecessary

MODERNISTS WIN DEBATE ON BIBLE

Subject "Resolved, That the Bible is the Infallible Word of God"

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (by the Associated Press).—Religious modernists have won their first victory in the series of debates between Rev. Charles Francis Potter, pastor of West Side Unitarian church, and Dr. John Roach Stratton, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, and one of the most prominent leaders of the so-called fundamentalist or conservative element among Protestant denominations.

Rev. Mr. Potter was awarded the judge's decision in the first debate last night, when he upheld the negative side of the question: "Resolved, that the Bible is the infallible word of God." His victory, however, was won on presentation of his arguments for the judges did not pass on the merits of the question itself. The vote of the judges—two Protestant Episcopalians and Christian Scientists was two to one. They announced, however, that they regretted the debaters had not defined the question more nearly alike in their respective minds so that the subject might have been approached from the same angle.

Rev. Mr. Potter's arguments were based largely upon three premises: "that the Bible was inaccurate, historically and scientifically; that it contained obvious contradictions, and that it represented God as having "morally degrading ideas." To prove that the Bible was not infallible, he said, he had only to show that any one part of it was not infallible, and he quoted passage after passage from the Scriptures to support his contentions.

If the Bible can be destroyed at one point, he said in his rebuttal, then it can be destroyed at all points, the Ten Commandments are useless and man might as well throw them away and follow their own desires.

Dr. Stratton argued that the Bible's miraculous preservation and increase; its unique universality in that it belonged to all ages and creeds; the fact that one spirit breathed through it all, despite the fact that it was written by 40 different men over a period of 1500 years; its fulfillment of prophecies and its own assertions were ample proof that it is the infallible word of God.

The debate attracted a huge throng to Calvary Baptist church.

Dr. Stratton argued that God, as a sovereign, most certainly would have formed a code of laws to govern His subjects and he held that the Bible was given to mankind as that code. A final authority is necessary in any walk of life, he declared, and unless that authority exists for the religious man, then that man is a religious anarchist.

Four more debates will be held by Dr. Stratton and Rev. Potter. The second probably will be held January 13.

Bishop Manning Asks Truce

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A lull in the controversy between the fundamentalists and modernists of the Protestant Episcopal church is expected to result from the pastoral letter issued yesterday by Bishop William T. Manning, who called upon the clergy and laity of the New York diocese to refrain from argument until after the Christmas season.

The letter will be read in the churches of the state Sunday morning. Bishop Manning declared "the present questions are serious and must be met faithfully, "but that a little time of silence and thought and prayer will be of help to all of us and at the end of that period we shall be better able to meet those questions rightly in a spirit of trust and love."

RUSSIA MAKES DENIAL

Never Sent Documents to American Workers' Party, Says Foreign Minister

MOSCOW, Dec. 21.—(By the Associated Press) Foreign Minister Tchitcherin issued a statement today denying that the Russian soviet government had ever sent any documents to the American Workers' party or had ever had any connection with it whatsoever. If such documents exist, the statement declared, they are forgeries, the authenticity of which Russia would like to submit to arbitration.

The wounded men include both federal and rebel soldiers. The latter are said to have been abandoned on the battlefield by their comrades. The number of wounded was not given.

TO TERMINATE MEXICAN WAR

Rebel Chief Goes to Esperanza to Discuss Termination of Hostilities

Pres. Obregon Suspends Recruiting—Force Sufficient to Cope With Uprising

(By the Associated Press)

Indications that the rebellion in Mexico has entered a less belligerent phase are given in newspaper despatches from Vera Cruz where the rebels maintain their headquarters.

General Guadalupe Sanchez, chief military supporter of Adolfo de la Huerta, is reported to have gone to Esperanza, in the fighting zone, to confer with the other rebel leaders in Puebla and Oaxaca on a plan for terminating the conflict. He was accompanied by a civilian representative of De la Huerta.

The military situation apparently remains stationary with no troop movements of importance. President Obregon is reported to have ordered suspension of recruiting on behalf of the federals, deeming the government forces sufficient to cope with the uprising.

Recruiting Suspended

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 16. (Via Laredo) (By the Associated Press.)—President Obregon has ordered the suspension of recruiting throughout the republic on the ground that the administration possesses sufficient forces to maintain order and smother the rebellious movements in Vera Cruz, Jalisco and Oaxaca.

Permission to transport 800 Mayn Indians through United States territory to re-enter Mexico and participate in the campaign at Vera Cruz and Jalisco has been obtained, the Mexican government reported today.

To Confer on Truce

VERA CRUZ, Dec. 21.—The impression, prevalent for several days, that the Huerta and Sanchez rebels would compose thier differences with the Obregonists, gained ground today by the newspaper advices that General Guadalupe Sanchez and Senator Rafael Zubaran Capmany had gone to Esperanza to confer with rebel leaders in the states of Puebla and Oaxaca relative to a termination of the warfare.

Senator Capmany, according to these advices, accompanied General Sanchez as the representative of Adolfo de la Huerta who, with the general, instigated the campaign against the present regime in Mexico City.

The conference at Esperanza, it is believed, may have been called in connection with the telegraphic negotiations which have been in progress for several days between leaders of the opposing factions.

Earlier in the week there was a report that rebels and federals were arranging an armistice at Rinconade, not far from San Marcos, but nothing was made public regarding the results of such conversations.

TUCKERS TO RETURN TO FACE INDICTMENTS

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Dec. 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Burton Tucker, who were remarried yesterday at Carthage, N. Y., will return to face the indictments for perjury in connection with their first marriage in Union Hill, in October, J. Raymond Tiffany, their counsel, declared today. Tucker is 17 years old and his wife gave her age as 46.

No definite date for the return of the couple has been set, he said, but he expected that they would arrive within the next few days.

"After talking the matter over with the prosecutor's office," he said, "I advised them to begin their homeward trip as soon as they could conveniently do so. My clients are not afraid of this thing. They will return to face it without a question."

CHINESE BANDIT LEADER EXECUTED

PEKING, Dec. 21. (By the Associated Press.)—Sun Mai-Yo, one of the bandit leaders who participated in the attack on a Shanghai-Peking express train near Suchow, in the province of Kiangsu last May, in which a number of Americans and other foreigners were kidnapped and held captive for more than a month, has been executed at Taochwang, in Chekiang province, according to advices received by the war ministry here. He was charged with permitting troops under his command to mutiny and rebel against the government, the advices said.

The execution of Sun Mai-Yo is said to have been ordered by Chang Pei-Yuan, military commissioner of Yenchow.

the machine driven by him crashed into the rear end of a sedan operated by Everett P. Morrow of 131 E street, Methuen, at the junction of the state highway and Quincy street. Both cars were considerably damaged and a man giving the name of William Donlon of Bridge street, this city, who was in McCarthy's car, was cut about the face when thrown against the windshield by the impact of the collision.

Officers Cyril Fugill and James Sheehan of the Methuen police arrived on the scene shortly after the accident, and Donlon sent to the Lawrence General hospital and arrested McCarthy. At the Lawrence General hospital this forenoon it was stated that Donlon was not seriously hurt although it is possible that he may lose the sight of his right eye.

DONNELLY AWARDS TRUCK CONTRACT

Purchasing Agent Edward J. Donnelly today awarded a contract for the delivery of a 1½ ton truck to the buildings department to Daniel H. McQuade, Reo agent, and another contract for the delivery of a 1½ ton covered truck to the chemist department to the Lowell Motor Mart, agent for the Graham truck, these agents were the low bidders in accordance with the specifications and both awards have been approved by Mayor John J. Donovan.

Upon each requisition four bids were received, but it was found that the trucks above mentioned were the lowest in price which met all the requirements stipulated in the specifications.

After a conference between the mayor, Park Supt. John W. Kernan and Loring Kew this forenoon, the mayor approved an award of a Holt tractor for the park department. Mr. Kew, representing the Gordon, was the lowest bidder, but admitted that his machine would not be capable of doing the work required of it by the park department and, therefore, the mayor felt secure in approving the Holt award. A letter from the park commission also set forth the belief that the Holt tractor would best meet the department's needs. Unless a heavy duty caterpillar tractor could be secured the department expressed a preference for four new horses.

Tractor Controversy

loss of life or property. The whole matter is up to him now."

The mayor did not say he will endeavor to force a Four-Wheel-Drive tractor upon the chief, but strongly intimated he could take that or nothing, basing this assertion upon the fact that no information or proof has been presented to him which tends to make him recommend any other tractor instead of the F.W.D.

"Four Wheel-Drive tractors are being used by the Newark, N. J., and New York city fire departments," said the mayor, "and as far as I am able to learn, the machine gives satisfactory service. I do not consider that I have been given any adequate reason for recommending a tractor which costs more than the Four-Wheel Drive."

Chief Edward F. Saunders had very little to say today on the controversy other than to reiterate what he said yesterday that he will not accept the F.W.D.

The mayor and purchasing agent received a letter from George W. Morrison today offering to give $100 as a Christmas present to any local charitable institution the mayor may name if Chief Saunders can produce any proof or records that the F.W.D. tractor is not superior to the one he favors, namely, the White.

MANILA, Dec. 21 (by the Associated Press).—The latest estimate of the 1923-24 sugar crop of the Philippine islands, printed in the Manil Times, places total production at 927,000 tons. Of this estimated crop 780,000 tons is centrifugal or 96 degree sugar, and the remainder muscovado. This estimate shows that the coming crop exceeds that of 1922-23 by approximately 50,000 tons.

age during which she made an attempt to set a new record. Heavy fog, however, slowed her during the last hours of the voyage.

The Leviathan is looked to go to dry dock at Boston after her passengers are landed to undergo repairs.

Shortly after the Leviathan grounded, quarantine reported that the freighter Boden, outbound, was ashore in Gravesend Bay, just outside the Narrows. A heavy haze hung over the harbor this morning.

Half a dozen tugs had reached the Leviathan by 11.30 o'clock and had made fast. They tugged away vigorously but were unable to budge her with low water mark about an hour ahead.

The Leviathan appeared to be stuck in the mud on the edge of the channel and in no danger.

Because of her great bulk and draught the Leviathan is one of the most difficult vessels in the world to maneuver. More than 900 feet long and 100 feet broad, she draws 40 feet. It was necessary to dredge the entrance to the harbor at Newport News before she could enter that port for reconditioning.

JAMES L. OTEA,

Donahue were J. Joseph Hennessey, George M. Harrigan, "Bob" Hart, Perry D. Thompson and Joseph P. Donahue. The meeting was called to order at 10 o'clock by the retiring president, Paul J. The first event on the program was the installation of officers and, after an appropriate address by the chairman, the officers for 1924 were installed as follows: President, James L. Otea; vice-president, Cornelius J. Shea; treasurer, Bernard F. Conners; financial secretary, John F. Sullivan; recording secretary, Thomas H. Foudy; trustees, Daniel F. Moriarty, John E. Mr. Donahue discussed municipal affairs in his usual vigorous style, criticising local conditions, and added his objections to those of the Bar association to the proposed transfer of the district court quarters to Gorham street as planned by the county commission.

A buffet luncheon and entertainment followed Mr. Donahue's address. Among those who took part in the musical program were Edward Donahue, Edward Quinlan, John F. Roane, sr. and various other members of the club.

WORLD WAR VETERANS

Lowell Veterans of World War Interested in Bok Peace Plan Referendum

Lowell veterans of the world war will do their part in the nation wide referendum on the Bok peace plan, so-called.

Commander Colin C. Macdonald, of the local American Legion organization said today that approximately 1,000,000 ex-service men in the country at large will receive the ballots. They will be contained in the American Legion Weekly, for the most part, although the Legion's state department has arranged to send copies of the Bok peace plan, accompanied by ballots, directly to all posts for distribution to members.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars are also included in the ninety national organizations composing the Co-operating council of the American Peace award and both have now completed arrangements to submit to their members the plan selected by the jury of award as the winner of the first half of the $100,000 prize offered by Edward W. Bok.

Lowell legionnaires are informed that the representatives of their organization handling the ballot distributions are Adjutant-general Lemuel Bolles of Indianapolis, John G. Emery of Grand Rapids, Mich., a past commander, and General George Albert Wingate of New York.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars are represented by Adjutant Reuel Elson and Colonel Robert Allyn. The January issue of "Foreign Service" will print the winning plan and carry the ballot on which its readers will be asked to state whether or not they favor the winning plan in substance. Veterans of Foreign Wars will return this ballot directly to the American Peace Award office, at 342 Madison avenue, New York.

SAILSTAD AND GIRL TO PLEAD GUILTY

SUPERIOR, Wis., Dec. 21.—Edward J. Sailstad and Dorothy Anderson, his companion for the last three and one-half years, will plead guilty to charges of arson when taken before Judge Archibald McKay in superior court today or tomorrow, to answer for firing Sailstad's summer cottage at Lake Nebagamon, Wis., the night they disappeared from Eau Claire, Wis., where he was president of a manufacturing company. The body of Allen McGee, friend of Sailstad was burned in the cottage to make it appear that Sailstad had perished.

Arraigned in municipal court yesterday, he had reiterated his oft-expressed wish to "have it over with."

After the brief arraignment, Miss Anderson, known as the "sunshine girl" when she was a Chicago cabaret entertainer before becoming Sailstad's stenographer, clung to him and they left court arm in arm.

They recently were arrested in Napa, Cal., after wandering over the country in an automobile.

Mrs. Sailstad, who thought her husband dead and who recently was married again, was not in court yesterday.

husband put his arms around her and spoke consolingly to her.

Vetter, appearing calm and self-restrained, quieted his wife as she screamed: "Oh! Ernest. We didn't mean to do it, did we?"

"Hush, it's all right," said her husband.

Court attendants took them both back to jail and Judge Humphrey dismissed the jurors.

Storey was an intimate friend of Mrs. Vetter before her marriage. The prosecution introduced testimony purporting to show that Storey was invited to the Vetter home by Mrs. Vetter May 11 last, and was beaten and stabbed to death by the husband and wife. His body, wrapped in a burlap sack, was cast into Jamaica bay. The Vetters pleaded self defense.

The manslaughter verdict, it was learned, was a compromise, the jury standing equally divided for acquittal and first degree murder when it retired last night.

Mrs. Vetter became hysterical when she was returned to jail and an ambulance surgeon was called to treat her.

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAY TRAIN SERVICE

Important additions to the Christmas holiday Boston and Maine train service affecting Lowell and vicinity patrons, were announced this morning by General Agent Frank W. Brown. Traffic has steadily increased in passenger proportions on all local and through B. and M. trains since Monday, and today finds the railroad management hard put to handle the extra patronage.

Extra cars are now being added to all trains running out of Boston on several divisions, including the New Hampshire passenger "regulars" operating through Lowell. Some limited and long-distance trains are being run with extra sections to accommodate the home-going Christmas crowds with heavy baggage. For several days extra trains have been run on the main lines to accommodate students from the college towns.

Railroad men declare that this will be the banner year in their history for holiday travel, because of the open winter weather, for one thing, and also because there appears to be a general stampede for homestead returns by young and old from short and far distances.

Tomorrow it is predicted the peak of the Yuletide travel will be reached. Extra trains will be operated on the Boston & Maine lines on both Saturday and next Monday.

Mail and express traffic has been exceptionally heavy all the week, holding up to peak proportions during the last three days and with no prospects of a slow-down until after New Year's.

Lowell travelers on the B. & M., north and south, will find better train service tomorrow and Sunday, as well as next Monday up to midnight. Double-section passenger trains will be the rule, the present schedule beginning tomorrow, calling for extras as follows:

12.30 p. m. out of Boston for Lowell and northern points, arriving here at 1.09 p. m., will run in two sections.

[illegible] p. m. from Boston, arriving in Lowell at 6.10 p. m., two sections.

[illegible] 8 p. m. from Boston, arriving in Lowell at 5.43 p. m., two sections.

Additional sections will be run from central distribution points when necessary.

MAH-JONGG

BY J. P. BABCOCK

Leading Mah Jongg Authority and Author of Babcock's Red Book of Rules

No. 9—Doubling Combinations and "Pat Hands"

The table of doubling combinations is as follows:

Three or four of a player's Own Wind—Double total score.

Three or four of any color Dragons—Double total score.

Hand all of one suit, except for winds and dragons—Double total score.

Hand entirely of one suit—Double total score three times.

Hand entirely of Winds and Dragons—Double total score three times.

As you will notice, some of the above combinations were given a scoring value in the score table in my last article. This score counts in addition to the double value, and is added in prior to such doubling. For example, if you held three dragons in your exposed hand, you would add their scoring value (4 points) to the other points scored, then double the total.

"Triple Doubles"

Hands which contain combinations which "double three times" are reckoned as follows: Total the score, double this total, double the result of the first double; double the result of the second total. Thus a hand with a three-times doubling combination and a score of 20 would total to 160.

Should a hand contain more than one doubling combination, it doubles for each such combination. Thus a hand with three dragons and the balance all of Winds and Dragons would double four times.

There are three "pat" hands, all very difficult to obtain, the Hand from Heaven, the Hand from Earth, and the Lucky 13.

The value of these hands depends upon the limit. Owing to the almost unbounded scoring possibilities of Mah Jongg, it is necessary that a limit be set. In the standard game, this limit is 300, and unless a different limit is expressly agreed upon prior to the commencement of play, it is tacitly understood when sitting down to a game of Mah Jongg that you are playing with this limit of 300. As East always loses or pays double, he will, if he completes a limit hand, collect 600 from each of the other players. Similarly, if he loses to a limit hand, he will pay the winner 600.

Three Big Hands

The Hand from Heaven is possible only to East Wind and is, in short, a Mah Jongg hand on the original draw. It scores the limit, 300; but as East wins double, each of the other players must pay him $600.

The Hand from Earth is possible to anyone except East. It is obtained when any player can by punging East's first discard complete his hand for Mah Jongg. It scores one-half the limit.

The Lucky 13. Afte East has made his first discard, any player (including East) can declare his intention of trying for Mah Jongg without disclosing any of his 13 original tiles. As poker players would term it, he "stands pat on the original draw." Should he succeed in completing his hand thus, he scores one-third the limit.

A player trying for the Lucky 13 hand is allowed to change his play at any time without penalty. But he must announce that he is no longer playing the Lucky 13.

Next article: Scoring and paying.

Your Health

by Dr. C. C. Robinson

BY DR. C. F. N. SCHRAM
Chairman, Health Service Section, National Safety Council.

Cuts, scratches and bruises are likely to occur occasionally in any household. Neglected, they may cause infections, perhaps even blood poisoning or lockjaw which may result in death.

Small cuts and scratches may be successfully treated at home, but if the wound is at all serious it should have a doctor's attention. This is especially true of deep wounds, such as nail punctures, which are hard to sterilize with home facilities.

If you have any court plaster, throw it away. It is often exposed to dust and handled before applied and is an ideal germ breeder. Adhesive plaster should be used only to hold a dressing in place.

Likewise avoid salves and ointments supposed to have marvelous healing powers but which you do not know are antiseptic as well.

Iodine is perhaps one of the safest and most efficient disinfectants obtainable. Care, however, must be taken in its use. It is poisonous when taken internally and becomes stronger by evaporation. Consequently, iodine which is kept for several months in a loosely corked bottle may cause a painful burn.

Remember that any break in the skin may be sufficient to start an infection. The wound may bleed very little or not at all, but it is dangerous nevertheless. In fact, bleeding helps to cleanse the wound and lessens the chances of infection. It is less likely to be neglected than the so-called "slight" scratch.

When a dressing is required, sterile gauze is best and it should not be touched by the hands before applying. A dirty bandage is as bad or worse than none at all.

There is no such a thing as a slight injury, so keep the iodine handy and use it at once for every scratch. But don't keep the bottle too handy for the children.

Originally a bed consisted of merely a hollowed-out place in the ground.

Co-education has existed in Turkey since 1914.

Courier Who Makes Appeal for Food and Tents for Homeless Says Many Dead

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Dec. 21.—Granados, Huasabas and Oputo, towns in the Sierra Madre mountains of Sonora, Mexico, with an aggregate population of 5000, were destroyed by an earthquake Wednesday night, according to the story told by a courier who arrived late yesterday at Nacozari, a rail head, approximately 75 miles south of the international boundary.

The courier had ridden since Wednesday night over the mountains which lie for 40 miles between the three towns and the railroad. As he arrived exhausted he told an incoherent story of how adobe houses had been tumbled about the heads of the inhabitants. "Many, many dead," were the words he used in describing the extent of the casualty.

His appeal for food, tents and blankets for the homeless was forwarded to President Durazo of Agua Prieta, across the border from Douglas. The president announced that supplies would be shipped by rail to Nacozari and would be taken by stage the remainder of the way.

SMOKING PRESCRIBED FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 21.—Dr. Fred F. Gundrum, vice president of the state board of health, announces that smoking is being prescribed for stomach trouble. A pipe is preferred, although cigarets and cigars may be used, according to Dr. Gundrum.

It is not for the value of the nicotine, but because smoking, especially after meals, is likely to prove restful, Dr. Gundrum said.

WIDOW OF AUGUST BELMONT, JR., TO WED

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—The engagement of Mrs. Alice V. DeGoicouria Belmont, widow of August Belmont, Jr., who died in 1919, to John D. Wing, 2nd, of New York, was announced today by Mrs. Belmont's father, Albert V. DeGoicouria, member of an old Spanish family of Havana and a former member of the New York stock exchange.

UNITE TO SAVE CHINESE NATION

Residents Resent Attitude of Foreign Powers in Customs Surplus Dispute

HONG KONG, Dec. 21.—(By the Associated Press) Advices from Canton state that numerous placards are appearing on the streets of the southern capital urging an anti-American and anti-British boycott as a result of the attitude of the foreign powers in the present customs surplus imbroglio.

Some of the placards appeal to the people to unite to obtain the Kwangtung customs surplus in order to "save the Chinese nation."

The Chinese customs are collected under supervision of the powers through a treaty which makes them a guarantee for the payment of charges against China's foreign loans. Sun Yat Sen, leader of the South China government, which is at war with the Peking administration, claims that the customs surplus of Kwangtung province should be turned over to him instead of being given to the southern regime.

Sun's recent threat to seize the customs at Canton caused the powers to send a number of gunboats to the captain.

Grave Situation

HONG KONG, Dec. 21.—(By the Associated Press) Dr. Sun Yat Sen, head of the Canton government today telegraphed to Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the British labor party, asking him to "bring to the notice of the British people and particularly the workers, the grave situation which the British representatives in China mainly have been instrumental in creating at Canton."

"My government is being threatened with acts of war by an international force of nearly a score of cruisers and gunboats armed with soldiers, who have already landed at Shameen, (the foreign section of Canton, where the administrative offices of other nations are located.)

"This is the work of the diplomatic body at Peking, done at the instance of the British minister on advice of the senior consul at Canton, who is the British consul-general, and the inspector-general of Chinese maritime customs who is a British national."

Sun reminds the British labor leader that China, admittedly one of the richest market for British goods cannot be secured by a gunboat policy of old diplomacy although it can be won by a policy aiming at the capture of Chinese good will.

Conference on Dispute

HONG KONG, Dec. 21.—(By the Associated Press) The confidential secretary of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, South China leader, today presented to officials of Hong Kong the troublesome Canton surplus customs question from Sun's point of view.

The conference is believed to have exceedingly amicable and satisfactory.

It is helped in mercantile and other circles here that nothing will occur which would tend to upset the friendly economic relations at present existing between Hong Kong and Canton.

FOREMEN'S ASSOCIATION

Billerica Car Shops Foremen Organize — First Meeting Held This Week

Billerica car shops foremen announced today the organization of a Foremen's association, with a program of activities that is to be greatly enlarged during the coming year.

Numerous Lowell workers are members of the new organization and active in pushing it along. The first of a series of educational meetings was held on Monday evening in Billerica. The special topic was "The Man Problem," covering methods of supervising work and training help for the promotion of interest and efficiency.

Three of the Billerica shops' general foreman, Joseph Gallage of the car division; Charles H. Nutter, blacksmith shop, and Chauncey L. Mitchell of the machine shop, described some of their personal experiences and methods and also expressed their views on the general subject in short talks of exceptional interest and practical value.

At this meeting several other foremen and inspectors took prominent parts in the general discussion and offered suggestions based on their own experiences.

General Manager L. G. Coleman, Mechanical Superintendent C. H. Wiggin, Assistant Mechanical Superintendent W. O. Forman and several other Boston & Maine shop executives from other railroad equipment repair districts, were present as guests and also spoke briefly on the principles which ought to govern in relations between employes and the supervisory officials, who, to the man, represent the railroad management.

James E. Kennedy of the Billerica shops and George A. Silva were elected chairman and secretary, respectively, for the next six months. Foremen Gallage, Nutter and Mitchell comprise a "subject committee" from the management, and programs are being arranged, which will include illustrated lectures on subjects of practical importance in shop operation.

The topic for the January foremen's meeting is "Safety." There will be a good speaker and general discussion. A similar association is soon to be organized at the Boston terminal.

VERY BUSY DAY AT THE POSTOFFICE

Today is the big day in greeting cards and Christmas letters at the postoffice. Every 15 minutes with the regularity of a clock, a new tub is brought on to the first of the sorting tables. Each tub contains over 10,000 loose pieces, and there are laid out in heaps where two men devote all the time during the day to nothing else except piling them in stacks, so that the stamps shall all come on the same corner. From here they go to the cancellation machines, through which they run in a steady ribbon of white. After the letters are cancelled, they are sorted for local delivery by routes, and then the carriers complete the process and deliver them.

The basement is heaped very nearly to the ceiling on all the available floor space, with packages, and yet the rush has only just commenced to make itself felt. Later in the day it will be difficult to find a passageway through the maze of bundles, but nevertheless all will be disposed of before the 25th.

COMPANY C DEFEATS COMBAT TRAIN TEAM

Company C of the 182nd Infantry easily beat the Combat Train, 181st Field Artillery, in the regular basketball game scheduled in the Armory Athletic association by a score of 25-8. The victors will meet the team from Company D, Machine Gun, this evening at the armory.

Every Friday night there is a basketball game and rifle competition at the Armory on Westford street, and these matches are open to the public to attend without the payment of any admission fee. The bowling schedule is being revised by the officers of the association, who met last night. On the first Friday in January, the association will elect the new officers for the coming year.

The present standing of the teams in basketball is as follows:

	Won	Lost
Battery B, 102nd Art.	3	0
Co. C, 182nd Inf.	2	1
Co. D, 182nd Inf.	1	2
Combat Train, 181st Art.	0	3

CANARIES BROADCAST THEIR WARBLES

By N. E. A. Service

CLEVELAND, Dec. 21.—Birds on exhibition at the International Canary Show here held a radio concert during their visit. They broadcast their voices from Station WTAM, the all-storage battery station here.

Those who listened in heard the best canary voices in the land. "Vancouver Princess," judged the world's champion singer, led the program. Another artist was "Lohengrin," 1922 champion, which has been made a gift to Mrs. Coolidge.

While some of the birds took readily to the microphone, others had to be coaxed into singing by the soft tones of a violin.

OTHER OLD FRIENDS ARE FALLING

Farewell, old roadside billboards! You've played an important part in our lives. But now your days are numbered—in Minnesota, at least. No longer will you tell folks traveling through the Gopher State just what to smoke or chew, or what hams are best. Nor will you emblazon your old familiar messages, like "200 Miles to St. Paul." The state legislature has decreed all signs along the highways must go. It's a safety measure. Here are two highway department employes executing the assembly's decree.

LAWRENCE WOMAN KILLED BY AUTO

LAWRENCE, Dec. 21.—Miss Ida Lear, 73, died at the Lawrence general hospital this morning, as a result of injuries suffered last night when she was knocked down by an automobile driven by Myron Bloomfield, of Haverhill. Bloomfield, according to the police will be charged with manslaughter.

JUDGE WAIT FOR SUPREME COURT

The appointment by Gov. Cox of Superior Court Judge William Cushing Wait to succeed the late Justice Chas. F. Jenney to the supreme court is expected to be confirmed by the executive council next Wednesday. Judge Wait has been an associate justice of the superior court for 21 years and for the past several years has presided over equity sessions. He was endorsed by many leading members of the Massachusetts bar and his appointment came as no surprise.

Judge Wait, who celebrated his sixty-third birthday Tuesday, is of old New England stock and was born in Charlestown. He graduated from Harvard in '82, with a summa cum laude degree. He was also made a member of the Phi Beta Kappa. He graduated from Harvard Law school with degrees of LL.B. and A.M. in 1885, being admitted to the Massachusetts bar that same year. He was appointed to the superior court in 1902 by Gov. Crane.

He is a member of the Harvard Law School association, the Athletic Association of Harvard Graduates, the Boston Bar association, the Royal Arcanum, the Colonial Society of Massachusetts, the Medford club, the Arlington Historical society, Malden Historical society and a charter member and principal organizer of the Medford Historical society.

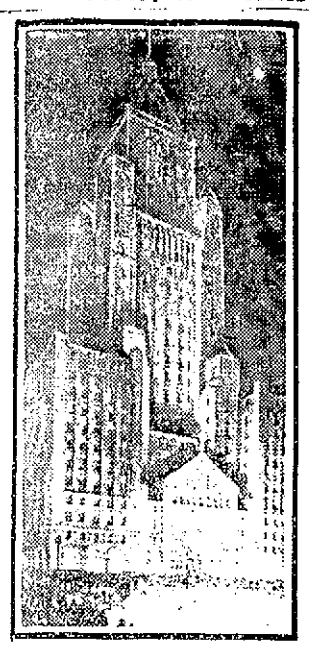
CHRISTMAS PLAY BY ST. PETER'S GIRLS' CLUB

An entertaining Christmas play was given by members of St. Peter's Girls' club in the school hall on Wednesday evening before a large and appreciative audience. Following the play Rev. Daniel J. Kelcher, Ph.D., addressed the gathering, speaking on the success attained by the Girls' club in its brief existence.

The theme of the play is that of two girls living with their grandmother and who on Christmas eve invite the girls from a neighboring boarding school to their home to celebrate for an entertainment. The presentation was capably given and the many comical situations in the sketch produced many merry moments on the part of all attending. At the close of the play Santa Claus himself appeared on the scene in the person of Miss Anna Hickey.

The hall was appropriately decorated in the season's colors by Miss Anna Lawler and her corps of able helpers.

Miss Susan Campbell personally directed the presentation, assisted by Miss Grace Sheehan as musical director.



HIGHEST

New York is soon to see, it is reported, a new church building which will reach higher in the air than the Woolworth building now does. It will be called the "Broadway Temple," and will be situated on Broadway near 175th street. The announcement was made by an official of the Chelsea M. E. church.

HELD CHRISTMAS TREE PARTY IN VESTRY

The children of the First Baptist Sunday school classes were tendered their annual Christmas tree party in the vestry of the church last evening and it was a happy group which departed at a late hour, gleefully munching candy and displaying the various gifts distributed by Old Santa.

A program of carols and other musical numbers was given by the younger people of the church while a sketch, "The Christmas Spirit," was presented by members of the adult classes.

Miss Louise Perron had charge of the tree party and was assisted by Thomas A. Whelan, superintendent of the school, and a corps of teachers.

Those participating in the sketch and entertainment were:

Walter Myers, Kenneth Perry, Miss Mildred Adams, Miss Bernice Moulton, Miss Agnes Chapman and Miss Lionel Rodrigues, Barbara Colby, Shirley and Janice Woodman, Marjorie Molton, Donald Clement, Frederick Wagner, Velma Farrell, Spencer Colby, Phyllis Hoar, Phyllis Gordon, Elizabeth Hall, Ruth Aldus, Sue Ball, Gladys Fowler, Frank Price, Eleanor Wagner, Fannie Hall, Gertrude Colby, Virginia Stead, Donald Smith, Ruth Johnston, Elizabeth Gordon, Edna Smith, Evelyn Farrell, Mary Rodrigues, Marjorie Butterfield, Janice Brown, Edith Colby, Esther Butterfield, Natalie Brandel, Veronica Silva, Mary Fowler, Elizabeth Alexander, Shirley Lino, Shirley Chapman, Elsie Buckledee, Elizabeth Dows, Pauline Shepard, Doris Moulton, Eleanor Robertson, Harriet Evison, Evelyn Harbison, Helen Quinn, Clara Lambert, George Wright, Evelyn Harmon and Louise Lambert.

TO PREVENT ELECTION

London Writers Urge Co-operation of Conservatives With Liberals

LONDON, Dec. 21.—Political writers in the newspapers, whose avowed aim at the moment is to avert the establishment of a socialist administration in Great Britain urge with increasing frequency the co-operation of conservatives and liberals in the house of commons to that end, and also to prevent another election which they believe the labor-socialist leaders are determined to call at the first opportunity.

The correspondents report to the public that many conservatives are ready to support an Asquith government, a belief which is borne out by statements of some of the conservative platform speakers. There are assertions in the same quarter that the labor-socialist leaders were much impressed by Herbert Asquith's statement at the National Liberal club recently that the king was not obliged to dissolve parliament at the behest of any government and accordingly are weakening in their desire to accede to power.

Such statements, however, cannot be checked until the labor leaders themselves speak on the subject. They are expected to keep silent until parliament meets.

ANOTHER REPORT ABOUT GREEDY LANDLORDS

(Special to The Sun)

BOSTON, Dec. 21.—That greedy landlords are again resorting to questionable practices in their attempts to collect higher rents from their tenants is shown by a statement issued today by the state commission on the necessaries of life, announcing that many complaints are daily reaching its office.

The commission takes occasion to point out that while each landlord has a legal right to give any tenant a notice of a rent increase, the statutes give the tenants the right to appeal to the courts for a determination that such increases are unreasonable, and also for a stay of any eviction proceedings the landlord may institute.

"Complaints and reports," the commission's statement reads, "are being daily received by the commission showing that rent raising in dwelling house property has been stimulated apparently by the approach of winter and abnormal fuel conditions.

"Many tenants advise the commission that after their winter's supply of coal has been stored in the cellar a notice of increase in rent is given. Others advise that they are given a notice of a rent raise to begin the first of January, when it is almost a physical impossibility to protect themselves by moving. Most of these complaints are from people living in property of moderate value. In many cases the commission finds that these tenants are already paying as high as 40 per cent for their income for rent. Some tenants take lodgers to help carry this burden, but in most instances the tenants are forced to curtail their expenditures for other items of the family budget.

"Under the general laws of Massachusetts a tenant has the right to refuse to accept a rent increase that is unjust, unreasonable and exorbitant. There is no law which prevents a landlord from giving a notice to vacate. The Massachusetts emergency housing laws provide, however, that a tenant may obtain a reasonable extension of time in which to readjust his home.

"Speculation in existing houses and extortion in rent charges which were so widely practiced in the past few years in the higher grade apartment property now seems to be predominant in property occupied by tenants in moderate circumstances, who are least able to protect themselves.

"Rents generally have already gone up much more than enough to cover increased taxes, water rates, insurance, interest on money, repairs, and a reasonable increase in the value of the property.

"It is an economic fact that undue boosting of rent, especially when it affects the great mass of people, seriously restricts their purchasing power for other commodities, and this interferes with business as a whole.

"In view of existing housing, fuel and weather conditions, the commission at this time requests all landlords to refrain from increasing rents, or at least to refrain from ordering tenants, who are not in arrears of rent or of undesirable character, to move during the present winter." HOYT.

TO INVESTIGATE DEATH OF "RATTLESNAKE JACK"

CAMDEN, N. J., Dec. 21.—John Ross, known as "Rattlesnake Jack," a full blooded Sioux and one of Roosevelt's Rough Riders, who died Nov. 25, may have been the victim of foul play.

"Rattlesnake Jack," who was 72 years old, travelled with carnivals, giving exhibitions with trained animals. He died suddenly on a farm near Delair. Effie White, who was interested with him in the trained animal act, asked the authorities to investigate.

The body has been exhumed and an autopsy will be held.

DEPUTIES DEBATE FOREIGN POLICY

PARIS, Dec. 21.—The debate on the foreign policy which is to be resumed in the chamber of deputies this afternoon, is not likely to be finished today unless the house decides to have a night session. There are still seven speakers on the list.

Premier Poincare who, it is understood, intends to make a new important statement to the chamber, will not read his decree closing the session for the holidays until the debate has been properly concluded by a vote of the members.

The Sun goes home and stays home. It is read by all members of the family in the evening, when they have time to read. The Sun carries the message of its advertisers to over 50,000 readers daily. No other newspaper in Lowell renders the service to its advertisers that The Sun does.

LOWELL TUBERCULOSIS COUNCIL ACTIVITIES

Widespread appeals for funds to support the work of Lowell Tuberculosis council in this city and surrounding towns, are causing loyal friends of the council and its life-saving program to take heart. While hard cash contributions have not been extensive thus far, numerous checks have come in during the past two days and in this morning's mail. The chairman of the Christmas seal sales, Mrs. Lena W. Whittier, is very much encouraged.

Checks from well known Lowell citizens predominated in this morning's mail. Many gifts were accompanied by kindly letters praising the campaign workers for their efforts to combat the dread disease. The headquarters for the Christmas seal disposal campaign are in the Lowell chamber of commerce headquarters rooms. Money can be sent there or left with the tuberculosis council chairman.

OWNER CLAIMS CALF

The calf which was found wandering about on Broadway near Suffolk street, early this week, about 11 o'clock at night, by Officer Lynch, and which the Lowell Humane society has been keeping at Humphrey's stables on Church street, has at last been claimed. The animal was the property of Harry Parker of 137 Pine street, and yesterday afternoon he established his claim to it and led it away. How the little fellow got so far away without being seen or hit by an auto is a mystery.

The meeting was largely attended and the members showed enthusiasm when annual reports were read. The special committee handling wage adjustments reported progress.

MINOR AUTO ACCIDENTS REPORTED TO POLICE

Two automobile accidents resulting in minor injuries to pedestrians were reported at the police station last night during the Christmas shopping rush period.

Alice Poute of 7 Hancock avenue, aged 6 years, was knocked down by a machine driven by Theodore R. McIlen of 1141 Bridge street at 7 o'clock at the corner of Merrimack and Aiken streets. She was taken to the Corporation hospital where her injuries were found to be of a minor nature.

A young woman was knocked down at the corner of Palmer and Merrimack streets at about the same time by a machine driven by Lester O. Mason of North Billerica. She stated that she was not seriously hurt and refused to be taken to a hospital.

ALL MATCHMAKERS MUST BE LICENSED

WATERBURY, Conn., Dec. 21.—All matchmakers must be licensed and pay a $25 annual fee under new rules promulgated by the Connecticut state boxing commission to become effective Jan. 1. Other rules provide that no boxer may appear in this state until seven days after engaging in a star bout, five days after a semi-final, or three days after a bout of six rounds or less; limit weight differences to three pounds up to 125 pounds, five pounds from 126 to 135, and six pounds from 135 to 160 and that in any bout stopped for violation of law, the box office receipts shall be turned over to the boxing commission, to be held pending the commission's decision.

RAID THEATRE TICKET AGENCIES

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Theatregoers today are watching for the next step in the campaign launched by the district attorney against theatre ticket agencies alleged to be "gouging" the public. The drive welcomed by ticket purchasers was started yesterday with raids on a score of agencies which resulted in eight arrests.

Three arrested face prosecution under the Hewitt statutes, the raids having been made on agencies operating without state licenses.

FIRE IN CARTER STREET PRIMARY SCHOOL

Fire was discovered in the Carter street primary school shortly after 10 o'clock last night and alarms were sounded from boxes 47 and 45, the first coming in at 10.14 and the second at 10.31.

The fire in the school started in a closet on the second floor and had made considerable headway before being discovered. When the firemen arrived the flames were in the partitions and had eaten through to the floor below. Owing to the fact that the fire was in the partitions the firemen had considerable difficulty in extinguishing it. Business Agent Henry Williams of the school department estimated the damage at about $1000.

The two alarms, coming so closely together, caused many to believe that a large fire was in progress. The alarm from box 45, however, was sent in after the fire was under control and Chief Saunders believes it was rung by boys.

During the past several months numerous fires have occurred in the Gorham street district which have been of suspicious origin, in fact several of the fires are known to have been set. On Dec. 5 a freight car on a siding near Gorham street caught fire and a man was seen coming from the car within a few minutes of the discovery of the fire. A description of the man was given the police and since that time Officers Kivlan and Clancy have been on special detail in this district trying to locate the suspected "firebug."

It is not believed by the fire chief that the fire in the school was set, although the origin is unknown. Residents of the upper Gorham street district are up in arms over the action of the fire-bug and every alarm sounded from this district results in a flood of calls being received at the fire station requesting information concerning the location of the fire. The residents of this district feel that until the firebug is arrested and committed to some institution for safe-keeping, it will not be safe to leave their homes unprotected.

Police Superintendent Thomas R. Atkinson said today that the two officers, Kivlan and Clancy, would stay on special detail in the Gorham street section as long as possible to safeguard the homes in that district from the firebug.

THE MERRIMACK RIVER

Another Adverse Report by Engineers for the Development of Rivers

For the second, or third or maybe the fourth time, the federal board of engineers for the development of rivers and harbors has submitted an adverse report upon the project to make the Merrimack river navigable from Lowell to the sea. Rejection came yesterday when the board reported to the house committee on rivers and harbors, saying that the project would serve no commercial purpose or necessity.

The adverse report does not come as a surprise, for it was felt that the project had little chance of success, even after Lowell city government representatives and others attended a public hearing in Washington last June and presented a strong case urging favorable consideration. That delegation included Congressman John Jacob Rogers, City Councilors James J. Gallagher, John J. McFadden, Frank K. Stearns and Arthur Genest and Geo. F. Wells, secretary manager of the Lowell chamber of commerce.

Notice of the rejection of the project is the first word to come from Washington in relation to the matter since the hearing in June, although the local representatives returned home with the feeling that it was a lost cause.

HANLEY RETURNS HOME

Delegate to Textile Workers' Executive Council Meeting Back From New York

Delegate John Hanley, representing the executive council of the New England U. T. W. conference in the Lowell district, returned home yesterday from the union textile workers' executive council meeting held in New York city on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Mr. Hanley had an opportunity to obtain some new facts relating to U. T. W. fence-building work performed in various eastern industrial sections of the country outside of New England. He returns to his Lowell offices highly gratified at conditions facing organized textile workers.

The Lowell labor leader is generally well primed with interesting data covering textile union meetings. His sources of "info," as a matter of course, are nearly always particularly remunerative in vital facts covering U. T. W. statistics and programs of field campaigns. The New York conference early this week, however, considered matters of import that are not going to become public property right away. And Mr. Hanley very plainly emphasized that fact. Briefly, the delegate from Lowell is in possession of interesting information regarding U.T.W. programs for the New Year that he is not allowed to divulge as a delegate of the organized line.

"I am sorry, but all information relative to the U. T. W. meeting must come from New York headquarters," said Mr. Hanley today. "We had an interesting—a busy—meeting, I was glad to be there. The U. T. W. was never in such good shape organically and in leadership as it is today

"As for the proposed union campaign in southern textile mill districts, I have nothing to say at this time. Information along that line, too, will have to be secured from New York.

The Southern Drive

New York dispatches received by The Sun, reveal a little more information concerning the three-day U. T. W. conference and some of its activities in paving the way for entering larger fields of the textile industry of the country in 1924. The Sun is informed that plans, long contemplated and now practically formulated will lead to the opening of a strenuous new campaign to organize southern mill workers early in the coming spring, or "as soon as the weather breaks."

The United Textile workers will be in a position to put at least 25 organizers in the field, it was learned yesterday.

At the New York meeting of the executive council, at which committees for the campaign were organized, letters were read from 11 other international unions, offering the services of their organizers for at least a period of three months in southern fields. Besides these volunteers from New England and elsewhere, the U. T. W. has been promised three men by the American Federation of Labor and one by its label trades department.

In addition, President Samuel Gompers of the A. F. of L. has assured the U. T. W. that he is ready to assist in every possible way the drive to unionize the cotton mill workers of the south. The campaign will be directed by the nnational officers of the textile workers' International union.

John Leech, the man who has installed industrial democracy plans in various textile mills, visited one session of the U. T. W. council meeting, but his reason for attending could not be learned, union representatives stating that they were themselves quite in the dark.

The council approved a plan whereby the Amalgamated Knit Goods Workers' union of New York will receive charters from both the United Textile Workers and the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union, the former union to control workers who operate the knitting machines and preceding processes and the garment union to control workers on all operations from the point where the cloth is taken from the knitting machines.

INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS HAMPER SCHOOLS

Current production depressions in Lowell textile industries have cut down regular attendance totals in the mill Americanization schools, Director Thomas A. Ginty said today.

Even under handicaps that cannot easily or fairly be met considering industrial conditions in Lowell as well as all New England, the Americanization schools have not been greatly retarded by pay-roll curtailments and slower mill activities.

Owing to the present three-day working schedules at the Hamilton and Massachusetts mills, where Americanization classes have been very successful during the past three years, meetings at the former mill have been cancelled. Classes continue, however, at the Massachusetts mills even under curtailed working conditions calling for smaller numbers of employees.

The Americanization class at the Merrimack Manufacturing company continues regularly, but with fewer numbers of meetings per week. The present schedule calls for two noon meetings weekly.

The healthiest activities in depressing times are seen at the Massachusetts mills, where there are noon classes on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week and two evening classes in the recreation hall of the same mills on Mondays and Wednesdays, the hours for these instruction meetings being from 5 to 6 o'clock.

The average attendance at the Massachusetts mills classes is 65. The Merrimack company's average is about 60.

Numerous women continue to attend all meetings and take as much real interest in their Americanization studies as the male textile workers. The majority of those now "schooling" under Director Ginty and his assistants are composed of members of the Polish Portuguese and Greek-speaking races.

When business improves at the Hamilton mills, the Americanization studies will be resumed there. Former Agent William Mitchell of the Massachusetts mills was leader of much of this work for the advancement of foreign-born residents and textile mill workers in Lowell. Agent Reed continues the Mitchell work for the Massachusetts branch.

Industrial Service Secretary E. E. Bohner of the Associated Industries Inc., of Massachusetts, has just completed a tour of some 80 industrial plants in Massachusetts, including Lowell, with a view to further enlisting the co-operation of industrial executives in adult immigrant education. Mr. Bohner reports that interest continues keen in Americanization work and school instruction programs, no instance of a failure of a manufacturer to co-operate having been met with thus far.

Recruiting meetings are now going on in Hartfield, where 250 Polish mill employees are interested; at Beverly where some 60 workers of mixed nationalities in the plant of the U. S. Machinery company are students, and in West Warren cotton mills and also in Chicopee.

Lowell's record in schooling the foreign-born has thus far not been surpassed, considering the scope of the field and the agencies endeavoring to maintain the present schools and increased them wherever possible. Local workers for Americanization have always found Lowell mill agents and treasurers heartily in sympathy with the aims of the Americanization school promoters.

ERRATIC DRIVERS

It seems that something must be done to lessen or prevent the obstruction of public travel caused by the big trucks that are daily becoming more numerous on the highways. It is not an uncommon occurrence for street cars to be held up by these vehicles while standing loaded on the tracks. In such cases the drivers do not seem to consider the importance of allowing the cars to pass unobstructed. In other cases, the drivers will keep in front of a car and although the motorman sounds his bell for a clear track, the tracks lag along unconcernedly. These drivers must be taught a lesson in regard to the rights of the public and the inflation of their own when placed in opposition. They must be taught that they are not to obstruct public travel wilfully or otherwise if they can avoid it. An allowance will be made, of course, for accidents; but we have seen many instances in which the drivers of big trucks have obstructed travel wilfully just as if they were in full exercise of their rights on the highways while holding back a street car by refusing to turn aside.

There is also a class of automobile drivers whose recklessness calls for the attention of the police department. They are the ones who shoot out from a side street to a main thoroughfare without taking time to glance in either direction to see whether the course is clear. It was one of these which dashed out yesterday in front of Dr. Robert Jones on Pawtucket street, when to avoid a collision, he ran his car on the sidewalk, bumping into a lamp post and an iron fence and at the same time endangering his own life. The offending driver sped on as if nothing had happened in which he had any concern. He was wholly responsible for what happened, however, and should be made to pay the cost of repairing the doctor's automobile. But his identity is unknown. He would have been equally responsible had the doctor been wounded or killed.

The automobile laws forbid a higher speed than eight miles an hour in such cases. At that rate an automobile can be stopped instantly. It would seem that not one driver out of every hundred who turn the corners of intersecting streets, ever heard of such a law. It is time they were brought to a realization of what this law demands.

MR. FORD'S STATEMENT

The statement issued by Henry Ford endorsing the candidacy of President Coolidge for the republican nomination for president, has caused great rejoicing among the leaders of the G.O.P.

Mr. Ford's endorsement was indeed an agreeable surprise to republican leaders who were rather nervous over the possibility of Mr. Ford heading a third party that would split the republican forces as did the Bull-Moose movement under the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt. So profuse have become the laudations of Mr. Ford among the republican leaders, that he has even been mentioned as a possible nominee for vice-president on the republican ticket.

It is not quite certain to which party Mr. Ford belongs, although he ran as a candidate for senator in Michigan against Mr. Newberry some years ago. He may have changed since then; but if so, there has been no public announcement of the fact. The elimination of Mr. Ford as a candidate for president, will clear the air, so that there will no longer be any fear of his leading a third party to the detriment of one or both of the two great parties. On both sides, therefore, there is a feeling of relief and now the candidates will be expected to emerge more freely and more promptly enter the political arena with all the due formalities.

SUPT. BURKE'S IDEAS

Supt. Burke of the Boston public schools has provided a great many special classes for pupils who cannot keep pace with the leaders or who from illness or other causes have fallen behind in their studies. He has even sent special teachers to the hospitals to teach pupils there detained in order that they might be able to keep up with their classes and avoid being set back a year with the resulting discouragement that often causes pupils to quit school altogether.

Supt. Burke's plan is to help the backward and enable the dull pupils to go on and keep up without losing confidence in their own ability. He is now considering the advisability of summer sessions of certain grades, so that these children would be better fitted mentally for the summer sessions than compared to the various classes of last year. In this he is right. The vacation classes conducted in this city last summer proved very useful to those who attended. They enabled many students to enter the high school who would otherwise have been relegated to work for another year. These matters may seem unimportant, but they are the details that go to make up a perfect educational system. We cannot attend to every all the Boston sections in this city, but we must keep [illegible] of the [illegible] and continued for enlisting for [illegible] as those of any other [illegible] school in the land.

DISTRICT COURT BUILDING

[illegible] to know that [illegible] has been [illegible] to action in the matter of providing suitable quarters for a [illegible] court. It has [illegible] what might be [illegible] but one of an existence of the [illegible] county court house with [illegible] on Hobson street, [illegible] church, in which [illegible] for the district court. The commissioners will be [illegible] advanced by the local Bar association against transferring the district court to the county building on Gorham street. It is very inconvenient to all concerned to have to cart the prisoners from the police station to the district court located at a considerable distance. Particularly would this be unpleasant and even offensive to the people in the Gorham street district, on account of its proximity to churches and schools.

Of course, the county commission endeavors to furnish accommodation for the court at the least possible expense and it has been able to provide quarters for the court for many years past at a very moderate expense; but the quarters in the Market street building, never ideal, have now become wholly unsuitable and inadequate. There is an urgent necessity for a new district court building and it is to be hoped that the county officials will solve the problem in a manner that will give satisfaction alike to the court officials, the local bar and the community in general.

Representative Corbett has filed a bill to come before the legislature next month, providing that the county commission shall be authorized to borrow a sum of money not exceeding $[illegible] for the purpose of purchasing a site, if necessary, and erecting thereon a suitable building for the use of the district court. This, of course, does not mean that the commission shall spend $[illegible] if it can provide suitable quarters for a less amount.

The quarters which the commission has planned to erect as an annex to the county building will of course be better than the accommodations provided in the Market street building, although less convenient and in several ways objectionable to the residents in the vicinity. Possibly, some new solution of the difficulty may be found that will give general satisfaction without entailing greater expense than the commission wishes to incur for the purpose and if so there will be no objection or criticism from any source. We fear the public would never be reconciled to the change proposed by the county commission.

KEEP OFF THIN ICE

It is well to advise all the youngsters against the dangers of taking any chances on thin ice during the present mild weather. It is true that we have a frost at night that may produce a coating of ice on still waters, but the warmth of the sun in the daytime makes the ice very brittle, so that regardless of its thickness, and it cannot be very thick at any point, it is extremely dangerous.

Young people should be patient, as they are likely to have a chance to skate very soon at Shedd park. Supt. Kerran is watching for an opportunity to flood the park for skating purposes and just as soon as there is frost enough in the ground to hold the water, he will open the gates and provide an area which, when cold weather will afford plenty of space for skaters with absolute security against drowning accidents. Situations like put the ice on lakes, canals and rivers.

AUDITORIUM BUILDING COMMISSION PRAISED

The following editorial commending the work of the Auditorium building commission of the Auditorium is from the Courier-Citizen:

HIGH PRAISE IS DUE

It is [illegible] highly agreeable to read of a [illegible] commission which [illegible] the task of constructing without exceeding the appropriation provided for it. It is more unusual and [illegible] more agreeable to read of one which not only does this, but also turns back some money. In the record made by the Auditorium building commission here, we believe there is established something very nearly, if not entirely unique in municipal affairs. That body of men has reported back to the city council that its work is done, that a million dollar Auditorium has been constructed, that an organ has been installed in it, that all bills are paid to the last penny and that a balance of over $[illegible] amounting to $1231.02 is returned to the city treasury. The notable thing is that this balance exists, rather than the customary deficit of several thousand dollars which most public commissions with such a job to do would have reported.

It would be ungracious to withhold praise for such an achievement as this and we do not will withhold it. The Auditorium has been in actual use for about a year and has commanded unstinted public approval. It was built under difficulties, due chiefly to the fact that the million dollars or so originally awarded had shrunk seriously in value by the time the work could be undertaken. Nevertheless we have our hall—and there's a very remarkable lot of money left. The men who did this thing deserve the heartiest personal commendation for the happy combination of ability and good citizenship which enabled this unusual operation and this highly unusual outcome. It should be needless to remind readers that this commission has consisted of John H. Harrington, Clarence H. Nelson, Walter L. Parker and Arthur L. Eno—the permanent members throughout—and Hon. John J. Donovan, the present mayor, sitting ex-officio. To apportion special praise among so much co-operative excellence would be invidious, perhaps; but we honestly feel that a special word of congratulation is due Mr. Harrington, chairman of the board, for his cheery and resourcefulness in this matter which has been brought to so happy a conclusion. It should be a record for other commissions in the future to emulate.

HIGHLAND QUINTET TO RESUME OPERATIONS

The Highland quintet city basketball champions in 1923, will resume operations on the court next Saturday night when they meet the Manchester German Tuesday at the Y.M.C.A. in this city. The Highlands will line up with Capt. Patton, J. Bello, Douglas, Eichin, Rabkin, Sauck, Olson, Mason, Barton, Bello, Nolid, Frank Sawyer, physical instructor at the "Y," is in charge of the team. Saturday's game will be refereed by Oswald Tower of Andover.

[illegible] is probable that it will be close to $50,000 for building and equipment.

Dr. Dinneran and Dr. Tabor, who have been examining the boys of the freshman class in the high school this week, are very busy in the run of school work. Each day they handle in addition to their regular routine of calls, examinations and paper work. The importance of having a schoolboy enjoy the best health possible in order to do his best in his work is realized more every day, and the two physicians [illegible] to look after the well being of the boys and girls are doing their work very diligently.

After remaining for several weeks in an overfilled state, the U. S. navy is now [illegible] below the mark set by congress as limit to the size of this warlike branch of government, insofar as personnel is concerned. The latest report issued by the official bulletin to the recruiting offices in the country showed the shortage of men to amount to [illegible]. This is a small number when it is considered that about 1000 men are [illegible] every week. The variation in the total active authors is due to the number that are discharged weekly. Lowell has more than its share of men serving although the exact number is not known.

The [illegible] old men who are spending their closing years in the Battles Home, under the motherly direction of Mrs. Lydia Green, the matron, are convinced that they live in the most beautiful spot in Lowell. Situated where they have a clear outlook to the west and up the Merrimack river, the sunsets that greet the eye from the sunparlor are particularly charming, and it is with intense delight that they had each new visitor out to show him these advantages, of which they never tire. It would be hard to lure any of them away from the companionship which they enjoy at the home, even by offering them luxuries of which they are now the possessors.

THE LOTTERY

Jack didn't know much about her,
Jill didn't know much about him,
Just strangers, as you might ever,
And victims of Dan Cupid's whim.
They married, however, as people will do,
Believing that they could make One out of Two.

Bill thought he knew all about Ann,
Ann thought she knew all about Bill.
Their love with their childhood began,
They married—as some people will,
Believing, as lovers have constantly done,
That they could change Two quite completely to One.

Jack and Jill are the happiest pair
That you will be likely to scan,
Unless you should chance to compare
Their rapture with Bill and with Ann.
Which proves—well, it proves—well, I think if I knew
I wouldn't leave just what it proves up to you!

CHRISTMAS SERVICES IN SWEDISH CHURCH

Bountcous dinners, containing every conceivable item of food that goes to please the palate, cheerily decorated trees, festooned with trimmings of gilt and pretty glass baubles and bearing all manner of tokens of remembrance, and song and story recalling the birth of the Lord, make up the observance program in the institutions of Lowell for Christmas day, where young and old, women and children, are living through a combination of age, poverty or ill-health, which has robbed them of the means of making their own way in the world.

The observance at the Chelmsford street hospital, as planned by Supt. Gormley, will commence on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at which time the Sacred Heart Guild society will distribute gifts to the dwellers of the institution, and at 3 o'clock about 25 members of the Girls' club will give a program of entertainments made up of recitations and songs built around the theme of Christmas day.

On Christmas eve the choir from St. Anne's church will visit the hospital at 11.30 at night and sing carols beneath the windows of the building in true old style fashion. A turkey dinner, with cranberry sauce, pies, and all the other time honored "fixin's" that go with the meal will be served to the inmates and then every ward will have its own Christmas tree from which the gifts will be given.

The societies to which they are indebted for the presents are the Middlesex Women's club, the Sacred Heart guild, First Baptist church, Ladies' Aid societies of St. Patrick's and St. Peter's churches, and the Institution for the Blind.

In the Ayer home the first event on Christmas day will be the discovery of the stockings which have been hung up for old Kris Kringle to fill with nuts, fruit and candy, then a great bustle will start to get dressed and have breakfast after which a delightful program of songs of shepherds and their flocks, the star of Bethlehem, and other biblical subjects will be given by the children. The last act will be a play called "A Christmas Party" and in part of the play the big Christmas tree which fills half the playroom and is loaded with presents will be stripped and the gifts distributed to the happy youngsters. Then comes the dinner with everything that a child could wish for on the bill of fare, ending with the supreme delight of ice cream, without which no party is real.

At the Battles home and the Old Ladies' home everything possible has been done to make the declining years of the residents the best of their life, and many a fine surprise has been arranged to cheer them on the 25th. The old "boys," as they prefer to call themselves, and the "girls" take a great delight in this day when they can hang up their stockings as they did in their youthful days. After the special dinner at the Battles home, Rev. Mr. Peters of the Highland Congregational church will bring a Christmas message.

The Salvation Army will have a Christmas tree for the Sunday school classes on Christmas day and another one for poor children about Thursday, the 27th, with a multitude of gifts of clothing and candy to poor children who are in want of warm things for the winter wear.

In the Children's home, the Day Nursery and L'Orphelinat Franco-Americain, the same general program is to be followed as at the other places where there are large numbers of children, and there is every assurance that not one of the little tots will be neglected by that genial old monarch of the north, Santa.

WRONG LOCATION FOR DISTRICT COURT

"The most forceful argument against the establishment of a district court building in Gorham street," said Attorney Daniel J. Donahue this morning, "is its proximity to two houses of worship, St. Peter's Catholic church and St. John's Episcopal.

"Wouldn't it be an inspiring sight," he said, "to see a hearse drawn up to one of the churches and the 'black Maria' stationed almost across the street at the court house. Think of the example it would be to the little minds of school children going to and from the Edson school and St. Peter's school. If you can find a better argument than that, show it to me."

HELD ANNUAL BANQUET

Insurance Men Tender Banquet to Winning Team in Business Contest

The annual banquet of the employees of the local branch of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. was held in Marie's restaurant last night, the occasion being the celebration tendered the winning team in a recent business contest conducted by the office, with the result that the team captained by Frank J. Hubin assumed the role of host to the associates of William Good, leader of the successful contestants for premier honors. The winning spirit, however, was mutual in the enthusiastic gathering of last evening, and the good losers won a closer friendship with their erstwhile opponents by providing an evening which was replete with splendid entertainment and sociability.

Among the special guests present were George H. Spillane, local superintendent; John Riley, assistant superintendent, and Henry F. Sullivan, English channel hero. Frank J. Hubin was the toastmaster and introduced the various speakers and entertainers. Some of Lowell's best-known musical talent was on hand to contribute their bit to the lengthy program of festivities. Among those were included the Glendale quartet, composed of Martin McGuire, Edward Conte, Henry Caraful and John Golden, Dorothy Nolan, the Misses Mary, Bertha, Ella and Lena Ufon.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Angelo, Daniel

FRANK J. HUBIN
Toastmaster

Sullivan, Miss Molly Hastings, Mrs. Nora Regan Lonstin, Harry Pascall, Dr. N. E. Nolet and Miss Estelle Doran.

Each of the above obliged with solo numbers which called for repeated encores.

In addition, recitations were given by Joseph McCann, J. Henry Connors and William McShea. A special feature of the entertainment program was Dr. Nolet's "La John Hancock," applauded by the entire assemblage. The which he was harmoniously accompanied by accompanists were John Brady and Paul Angelo, Esq.

After a delicious holiday menu had been satisfactorily disposed of, Toastmaster Hubin welcomed the members and guests in a few well-chosen words and congratulated Capt. Good on the success of his team. He then introduced "Lowell's Henry," who was present with his wife at the head table. The noted swimmer recounted his conquest of the channel and said that a movement is now being sponsored to make swimming compulsory in the public schools of the state. He added that he and a committee of interested parties have an appointment with Gov. Cox on the matter for next Wednesday at the state house in Boston. At the conclusion of his interesting talk, Henry was presented a beautiful bouquet by Assistant Superintendent Riley.

The entertainment program then claimed the attention of the merry-makers for the next two hours, each of the artists being presented a bouquet as a token of appreciation for their services.

The big feature of the evening was the inspiring talk given the employees by Superintendent Spillane, who congratulated the toast master and his associates for the enjoyment derived from the affair and the wonderful spirit of co-operation and good-fellowship it created among all. He said further that the John Hancock company experienced a most successful year in 1923, due in no small measure to the unselfish work of the employees in their solicitations and general duties connected with their vocation. Mr. Spillane also emphasized the fact that the local office ranked twentieth among the cities in the country in gross production during the year now closing, and this he considered quite an achievement. That the genial superintendent is popular with the men under his jurisdiction was attested to when he was loudly applauded at the end of his talk.

As it was regarded as good "policy" to bring the affair to a close at a reasonable hour, the gathering dispersed after singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

The committee in charge consisted of Frank J. Hubin, chairman; William Burke, Patrick Quinn and Daniel Wholey.

NOTHING OMITTED IN BROADCASTING

Every conceivable form of education and entertainment can be enjoyed from listening in on a radio receiving set. A review of programs planned by some of the larger broadcasting stations confirms this.

In a recent week these are some of the subjects covered by one broadcasting station out of the New York district.

New York Philharmonic concert, special religious "Chanukah Service" celebrating a Jewish holiday, travel lectures, a talk by William Jennings Bryan, quartet, duet and solo music, business talks, children's stories, readings, joint recitals, farm, market and stock reports daily, sports events, fashion talks, time signals and weather forecasts daily, humor, current events, book reviews, tea music at 4.30, dance music, church services and Bible classes every Sunday.

That is not all. Every now and then a station announces the broadcasting of an entire play by its actors. Everything, but the action goes over, and even that is explained sufficiently to make the production a success.

Now efforts are being made further to develop radio, even to broadcasting movies. And a few years more may see the broadcasting of action itself, so that listeners may not only hear, but see an entire production while sitting at their radio sets at home.

TURKEYS

TURKEYS

(From 18 Pounds and Up)

35 Lb. c

These are called Old Tom Turkeys, but we have some smaller ones which are the next selection to our fancy Turkeys.

The following is a clipping from the Boston Globe:

TURKEY PRICES ARE ADVANCING

The wholesale and jobbing turkey situation is much stronger than it was previous to Thanksgiving. Then the distributors carried large supplies and were forced to dispose of holdings on a steadily-falling market. As a result of conditions at that time, it is said, more turkeys were consumed than at any previous Thanksgiving in years. Wholesale houses and jobbers carried the bag, however, and some of them are said to have dropped large sums of money.

Today the shoe is on the other foot. While there is a good supply of turkeys available, there is no glut, and prices are advancing. For instance on Tuesday choice western turkeys, packed in barrels, sold in a wholesale and jobbing way at 31@33c a pound. The same birds are now quoted at 32@35c, and choice Minnesota turkeys are commanding 36@37c, and in some instances even more money. Medium grades of turkeys heretofore 23@25c are now held at 25@28c, and in some cases at 30c.

Western dry-packed turkeys in boxes cost even more.

ENGLISH GIRLS ARE REAL HOCKEY STARS

One of the most skillful and swiftest combinations of girl hockey players ever to show in America is the English all-star team which recently invaded the states. The English girls play a strong rushing game almost masculine in its strenuosity, and few American teams have been able to check their offensive so far. A team picked of the best girl players in Philadelphia recently went down to defeat before the British visitors by the decisive score of 5 to 1. This shows a bit of action from the game.

PICTURE TAKEN IN THE EARLY EIGHTIES

A well-preserved, large-sized photograph of an old-time local business house on Gorham street, with excellent representations of several well known Lowell citizens who were active in the [illegible] 40 years ago, has been presented [illegible] E. Davis of the Hildreth building by his friend, Mr. Charles O. Swan of East Merrimack street. Both gentlemen are collectors of antiquities and curios of all sorts and are members of the Lowell Historical society, Mr. Swan being treasurer.

SECOND IN SERIES OF TURKEY PARTIES

In K. of C. hall last night, an enjoyable turkey party was held with a large gathering of members present. The event marked the second of this nature arranged by Lecturer Edward F. Slattery, Jr., and proved a big success. Deputy Grand Knight John J. Flannery was in charge of last night's affair, assisted by John F. Roane, Jr., Edward Ryan, Timothy F. Rohan and Eugene Fitzgerald.

Entertaining selections were given by Joseph Egan, Raymond Kelly, John Baxter, William Queenan and Thomas Dowd. It was announced by Lecturer Slattery that Rev. M. J. Murphy, chaplain of the state prison at Charlestown, will speak before the council on January 6. His topic will be "Life Behind Prison Bars."

REFLEX—WAR'S BENEFIT

German Idea Developed By An American

By N. E. A. Service

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Germany may be credited with the original idea. But the war's intervention left it for an American to develop into what is considered one of the most important principles in the construction of modern radio receiving sets.

The American is William H. Priss, and the principle is that of "reflex" in radio reception, a name given by Priess himself. It is the method of reception by which one tube can be made to do the work of two or three in amplification.

More than ten years ago German scientists had been working on this system of reception. But very little was heard of it because radio then was not popular. During the war, when it was essential to combat radio activity, Priess was put on the job. An important series of experiments resulted in his discovery of the system which he called "reflex."

Not only in its power but in its economy does Priess see the advantages of "reflex." He says:

"Reflex has advantages that are of tremendous value to broadcast users, due to the economy in tubes that results in the correct application of its principle. The detector tube may be replaced by any type rectifier—for example, crystal—and the amplifier tubes may be made to do double or triple duty as amplifiers. The crystal used in this manner is a perfect means of changing radio currents to audio currents and is always better than a tube detector."

From the time peace was declared in 1918, Priess devoted his entire energy to the development of reflex. It is his belief reflex has not been approached by any set employing the same number of tubes for the two characteristics of radio telephone reception; namely, sensitivity and distance.

Large numbers of friends and relatives from far and wide are expected to attend both wedding observances.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE CROWDS AT THIS SENSATIONAL EVENT?

It's The Talk of The Town—Get Busy Men—Pick While the Picking is Good

Here Is the Story:

This has been a dull season for clothing manufacturers.

Many of them are stuck with huge stocks.

Several of these manufacturers wanted to unload quickly by selling direct to the public at less than wholesale prices.

Instead of selling direct from their factories, they asked us if they could use our stores as an outlet.

We agreed under two conditions—First, every garment must be all wool and of the latest style.

Second—The retail price to the public must be less than the wholesale manufacturing price.

They agreed to these conditions, and as a result we are now starting the most sensational event in men's clothing you have ever witnessed.

What's more, we have inspected these garments and have O.K.'d them all. In fact, every one is guaranteed by us—Monroe Clothes Shops—which means money back if not satisfied!

Take our advice, men, and come early!

Further Disclosures Expected—Sweeping Study of Russian Question by Senate Foreign Relations Committee After Holidays

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—With a sweeping study of the Russian question by the senate foreign relations committee in prospect after the holidays, further disclosures are expected shortly in support of the state department's charges of revolutionary soviet propaganda in the United States.

The contention in some quarters favoring recognition of the Russian government by the United States that the propaganda for a proletarian revolution in America emanates from the communist International and not from the soviet government is regarded as merely a quibble by the state department, which holds that it is impossible to draw a line of distinction between the two.

A resolution by Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, urging the president to extend recognition to the soviet government will provide the basis of the senate inquiry. Senator Borah and Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, charged yesterday that there was no proof of the alleged activities on the part of the Russian authorities but Secretary Hughes is said to have collected evidence with the aid of the department of justice which he regards as establishing definitely, the responsibility of Moscow for a movement to undermine the American government.

SUMMARY OF EARLY MORNING A. P. NEWS

General Sanchez, insurgent Mexican army chief, has gone to Esperanza to discuss plan that will end the Mexican conflict, the newspaper El Dictamen says.

Burton S. Tucker and Mrs. Susan Simpson have been remarried at Carthage, N. C., Raleigh, N. C., newspaper says.

The Boston Pilot, the official publication of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of Boston, of which Cardinal O'Connell is the head, discusses problems that face Episcopalians and other Protestant denominations and declares there are no shadows of doubt to "darken the Roman Catholic's celebration of the Christian festival."

C. E. Ruthenberg, executive secretary of the workers' party of America in signed statement, made public at Chicago, declares that Mr. Hughes' disclosures involving soviet Russia, "are a forgery and an attempt to mislead the people of the United States."

General Evangelists of the Methodist Episcopal church in session at Memphis, denounce modernism in the Methodist church, south, as destructive doctrine and reaffirm belief in the Apostles' Creed of Protestant Christianity.

FIRE IN BASEMENT

Fire in the basement of a three-tenement block in Howard street was responsible for an alarm from box 32 at 12.42 this morning. Rags and overalls saturated with paint were on fire and, although the blaze was incipient, the smoke drove the occupants from the house.

Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick turns over Standard Oil securities worth $5,240,000 to a trust of which Edwin Kreuz, Swiss architect is vice president and it is planned to do a real estate business, Chicago despatch says.

It develops that Zev's winning total has been padded by $10,000. And the only thing to do, we guess, is to hold out that much oats on the unscrupulous scoundrel.

Avoid Fires at Christmas Time!

Chief Engineer of Chicago Fire Prevention Bureau

Don't decorate your tree with paper, cotton or other inflammable material. Use metallic tinsel and other unpregnated decorations. Set the tree securely so it cannot be tipped over.

Don't use cotton to imitate snow. Use powdered mica or asbestos fibre.

Don't permit children to light or relight candles while parents are not present. Use electrical illumination for the tree if possible.

Don't allow trees to remain inside buildings after the holidays. Many fires occur annually in January from this cause.

Don't place a lighted candle in the window. It is a very pretty custom, but highly hazardous.

Don't merely depend on having a bucket of water about while the Christmas tree is lighted. Equip yourself with a 10-gallon water pump or one of the good chemical extinguishers available at reasonable prices.

Don't give your children moving picture machines with celluloid, non-impregnated film. Fires from film at Christmas time are becoming more frequent.

Don't let children hang their stocking too near an open burning grate or stove.

PRICE OF OIL ADVANCED

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—The price of Corning crude oil in Buckeye Pipe Lines Co., lines was advanced 15 cents a barrel to $1.40 at the opening of the market today. Other grades, which advanced earlier in the week, were unchanged.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

OPERA HOUSE

Dan Caswell and June Castleton, former Follies girl, now his wife, are the headliners of five classy acts of vaudeville to be shown at the Lowell Opera house tomorrow afternoon and evening. Corliss Palmer, winner of the recent Fame and Fortune contest, is headliner of the motion picture, "The Eternal Two." Playing opposite her is the movie hero by whom Elinor Glyn said she was reminded of the ancient gods.

Four snappy acts are billed with the Caswell-Castleton act. The prices are back to the old 10, 20, 30 days, and there will be one afternoon and two evening performances.

Tickets for "Mary," the stock attraction offered by the Lutringer players upon their return from vacation next week are going fast. The advance seat sale is the largest at the Opera House this season and every indication points to capacity audiences at every performance. A special Christmas matinee is to be given, starting late in the afternoon in order that folk desirous of witnessing a play on the holiday may have plenty of time to first have their dinner.

Plans are being carried out for the big show for New Year's eve and a special musical comedy has been secured for the occasion. This show will be a midnight frolic and is expected to prove exceptionally popular.

RIALTO THEATRE

Catherine Calvert is one of the few stars who becomes more beautiful in succeeding pictures. She is certainly more beautiful than ever in her new one, "That Woman," which is now being presented at the E. M. Loew's Rialto. In "That Woman" she is a dashing queen of musical comedy, with all New York at her feet and the son of a millionaire in love with her. Imagine the stately Calvert leading the chorus and jazzing with the liveliest of them! She does both gracefully and vigorously. The story deals with the outcome of the marriage to the wealthy youth. On account of her being an actress, his whole family is very prejudiced against her. You will be surprised at the method employed by the girl to keep her husband and at the same time win over his stern father.

Jack Hoxie in "Don Quickshot of the Rio Grande," a rip, roaring western, with Hoxie in a typical Hoxie role, is the other attraction, while a clever comedy and a Pathe News conclude the program.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Everyone of us, at one time or another, has allowed his thoughts to drift back to "the days of old when knights were bold," and has let the imagination run riot in seeking to picture those olden times. And always in our dreams there was the picturesque castle where the bold knights and their ladies lived and breathed a life of romance.

At last the dream castle is a reality in "Robin Hood," the feature attraction starring Douglas Fairbanks, which is now playing at the Merrimack Square theatre. The picturesque old castle seen in the production covers two and one-half acres of the great Pickford-Fairbanks studios' grounds.

"Robin Hood" is being shown at regular Merrimack Square prices. The companion picture is "South Sea Love," starring Shirley Mason.

THE STRAND

Human drama in one of the most tense and gripping melodramas of the year is unfolded in "The Day of Faith," the feature picture offering on the Strand program for the week-end. Eleanor Boardman, Tyrone Power and Raymond Griffith are included in the cast. It's a story from the pen of Arthur Somers Roche, a former Boston newspaperman and attorney. The second feature presents Charles (Buck) Jones in "Second-hand Love." Both, together with a comedy and weekly, make one of the best balanced and most satisfying photoplay offerings for months. Don't miss it.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The banner attraction of the show at the B. F. Keith theatre this week is Henry L. Sullivan, the Lowell-born world champion swimmer, who on Aug. 5, battled against the waves of the English channel to French shores. Last night the Eagles turned out in force to welcome Sullivan, and the theatre was filled with applause. The remainder of the bill includes such attractions as "Johnny's New Car," which is admirably played by Jimmie Russell and Peggy Burke; Al Wohlman, the different type of monologist; Byron & Haig, in "The Book of Vaudeville"; Misses Price and McCarthy, pretty singers of the "blues"; and the Four Casting Stars. The picture feature is "The Mark of the Beast," from the novel of the same name by Thomas Dixon.

Manager John McGraw Returns From Europe—Paluso Easily Beats Fox

PALUSO BROTHERS WIN THEIR BOUTS AT MOODY CLUB SHOW

Lew Triumphs Over Joey Fox in Main Event—Emil Knocks Out Gene Rochon in Semi-final—Cryan Stops Barrett, Hebert Kayos Nelson

Lew Paluso, sensational Salt Lake City student-boxer, returned to Lowell last night determined to continue the good work that brought him many admirers here a year ago and he accomplished his purpose by winning easily over Joey Fox, the highly touted English featherweight, in the main event of the Moody club show in Crescent rink.

The men were well matched in regard to weight, Fox tipping the beam at 128½ and Paluso 129½. They were in splendid physical condition, due to careful and diligent training. Such perfect form enabled them to open up at a whirlwind clip and continue the vigorous jollies over the ten round journey.

At the tap of the first gong Paluso stepped to the front with a bewildering attack. He showered Fox with blows of every description. He used a right to the body that mearlessly reached its mark and he ripped up uppercuts that had Fox's head bobbing up and down like a cork on water. He poked and hooked with blows to the head that seemed repeatedly. Fox had a good left jab that he got over fairly successfully, but he failed to follow it up. After scoring he would generally fall into a clinch.

Jim Palmer fought himself free and repeated his attack. As the bout wore on, Paluso continued to carry the fight to his opponent and he piled up such a formidable lead that Fox's only chance of victory was via the kayo route. The Britisher tried hard to get over a sleep producer but the elusive Paluso was too skilful to permit contact.

At times both boys hit low, but the blows were accidental and no damage resulted. The referee, however, cautioned them to "get 'em up." There were no knockdowns, but both gave and took many stinging and heavy punches. Paluso gave Fox everything he had, but the veteran namely took all he had to offer and returned for more. Fox occasionally rallied and let go terrific swings, but his flashes were of short duration.

The decision to Paluso was the only one possible.

Emil Paluso, brother of Lew, demonstrated that he possessed many of the characteristics that have made the older member of the family famous. Emil met Gene Rochon in the semi-final and he gave his opponent quite a taring. The younger representative of the House of Paluso proved to be a terrific hitter and he scored with some ripsoaring socks. For three rounds he held away and then in the fourth he polished off Rochon, a blow to the jaw doing the trick. Rochon was not knocked to sleep, but he was weary from the punishment he received and the blow just tipped him over.

"One Round" Cryan from Lawrence continued his victorious sweep when he stopped Johnny Barrett in the first round of a preliminary scheduled for six. In the other prelim Johnny Hebert knocked out Johnny Nelson in the second round.

The officials were: Referee, Johnny Brassel; judges, Frank Murphy and Leo Jones; timer, Willis Peltier.

It was announced that the proceeds of next week's show will be given to the Elks' charity fund. It will be an all star card of five bouts, with Frankie Hebert and Tommy Falls, local featherweights, in the final number.

Brown After N. E. Title

Chick Hayes in a statement to The Sun says: "If Newport Johnny Brown could confine all of his fighting among the boys weighing 126 lbs. you could bank on him bringing home the long end of the purse. He proved that in his battle with Chick Suggs in Portland ten days ago, where he defeated the New England featherweight champion, sending him to floor for nine, and having him in distress several other times. The only thing that saved Suggs title was that the fighting was in the statool Maine, where decisions are given. All other requirements for a title bout were fulfilled as both had weighed in at 125 lbs. the afternoon of the contest.

"Brown proved in this battle that he is the foremost candidate for the New England title, as there are very few of the so-called featherweights that can weigh in at 125 lbs; most of them weigh 130 lbs. or more.

"In most of Brown's battles in Lowell, he gave away from two to five pounds but even with this handicap he defeated two of the best junior lightweights in New England, Romeo Roche and Al Shubert.

"It is Johnny's ambition to get Chick Suggs in the same ring within this state. If he does I predict he will become the New England featherweight champion."

ITALIAN WRESTLER WINS OVER TOM DRAAK

BOSTON, Dec. 21.—Despite the handicap of a bad knee which pained him with every step, Angelo Taranaschi, the Italian grappler, went through with his bout with Tom Draak, the Hollander, at the Grand Opera House, last night.

What's more, he defeated the Hollander two straight falls in a battle in which strength and wrestling science figure it about even evens.

Draak was trapped for the second fall with a head scissors and wristlock in six minutes.

The excitement of the night was provided by Jack Albright of Chicago and John Kilonis, the Greek. They went to it for 1 hour 7 minutes, everything going including the footlights, and a few punches for the referee, Nick Bounos. Kilonis gave Albright his famous glued swing and banged him hard, but the Chicagoan turned, rolled and scored a fall with a reverse body hold. They wrestled but one fall.

In the opening bout George "Farmer" Bailey of Brattleboro, Vt., defeated George Morrison of Saco, Me., in one minute, while in the next fray, Joe Alvarez, the big chap from Panama, made good, defeating three men, one after the other.

His first opponent, Frank Dutcher, was toppled in five minutes, but Fred Swanson, the next man, made a lot of bother and kept his shoulders off the mat for 11 minutes. Lawson Fickham, the Attleboro policeman, also proved a tough nut, staying off the mat for 9 minutes 30 seconds.

Following the bout, Alvarez was matched to meet Stanley Stasiak next Thursday night at the Grand.

LOWELL HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL TEAM

Lowell high's basketball team is beginning to shape in good style. Practice is being held daily in the gym under the direction of Coach Liston. After the Christmas holidays, which began today, the coach will be ready to select his team.

There are 12 games on this year's schedule. It is probable, at the present outlook, that the varsity squad will be composed of Capt. O'Sullivan, Geoffers, Lorris, Flaherty and Welch. Among the promising candidates are Casey, Carpenter, Lambert, Sullivan, Murray, Yafa, Cohen, Abodedy, Sutherland and Simmons.

DUNDEE WINS, BUT—

Johnny Dundee, featherweight titleholder, was given the judges' decision over Jack Bernstein, and thus won the junior lightweight title as well. The bout occurred at Madison Square Garden, New York City. When decision was announced the fans howled long and loud, many saying it was the worst decision in years, as Bernstein looked the easy winner, they added. Bernstein on left.

EXPECT U. S. RACQUET VICTORY IN OLYMPICS

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Despite the absence of William M. Johnston, second national ranking tennis player and current holder of both the Wimbledon turf court and St. Cloud clay court world championships, followers of tennis expect an American racquet victory in the Olympics at Paris next year.

The lists from which the men and women teams will be selected, made public last night by Julian S. Myrick, chairman of the Olympic tennis committee, did not contain the name of the Pacific coast wizard, who, Mr Myrick understood, has stuck to his determination to keep at business most of next season.

From five men, William T. Tilden, the national champion and considered the greatest singles player in the world; Vincent Richards, who has been ranked next to Johnston; Francis T. Hunter, and the veterans, Watson Washburn and R. Norris Williams, 2d, an Olympic victory is expected. They were on Mr. Myrick's list.

Six women were named, including Mrs. Franklin I. (Molla) Mallory, former national champion, who is ineligible to represent the United States in the Olympics as she was born in Norway. The other five are Helen Wills, the national champion; Miss Eleonora Goss, Miss Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy and Miss Lilian Scharman.

Mrs. Mallory may enter the other European tournaments in which American women will compete, including Wimbledon, and be a member of the team that will defend the Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman trophy.

Mr. Myrick explained that at the end of the 1923 season Johnston told him he would not be as active next year as in the season just passed. Johnston said he took in European territory last season because he anticipated he would be busier at home in 1924.

FRENCH BANTAM CHAMP COMING TO U. S.

PARIS, Dec. 21.—Charles Ledoux, French bantamweight, told a representative of L'Auto that after meeting Edward Anderl, the new European featherweight champion, he planned to sail for the United States, probably in April, where he knew several fights awaited him.

ORGANIZE HOCKEY TEAM

The Emeralds, who in the past years have been putting out first class baseball, football and basketball teams, are now about to extend their sporting activities to an entirely new branch of the sporting world. Just as soon as the weather permits, the Emeralds will put forth a hockey team that, they expect, will be among the best in this section. The team will be made up entirely of first class local material. On the Emerald team will be "Ken" Hutchison, formerly of the famous Ottawa Hockey club. He will also act as coach. Other members of Canadian college hockey clubs who will be on the Emerald lineup are: Corbeil, Belleville, Giroux and Boisvert. The team will be selected from the following men: Adrien, Belleville, Boisvert, Cashman, Cormier, Giroux, Hotchkiss, Kendrick, Larkin, Mason, Perry and Rawlings. The team has selected the name of Emeralds for the present because some of its players are members of the different Emerald sports teams, but this may be only temporary and at the next meeting of the club it will be decided whether this name will be kept or another chosen.

PLAN 30 INDOOR MEETS

Track Stars Hopeful of Participating in Olympic Games to Show Class

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Eastern track and field stars, hopeful of winning positions on the 1924 American Olympic team, will have many opportunities to demonstrate their qualifications before the outdoor season begins, for early next month there will be inaugurated the most extensive indoor track and field schedule yet attempted in this section.

No less than 30 indoor meets, several confined to college athletes, but the majority open to both club and college representatives, are included in the list which will be conducted in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Newark, Buffalo, Baltimore and Washington.

The indoor season will open with the annual Osceola club games at the 7th Regiment armory, Jan. 12, and continuing from that date through the month of March, each week will witness from one to five important track meets.

Featuring the list are the Millrose A.A. games in Madison Square garden, Jan. 29 and 30; the Boston A.A. games at the Boston Arena, Feb. 2; the Newark A.C. games at Newark, Feb. 4; the New York A.C. games, Feb. 7; the Wilco A.A. games at the 7th Regiment armory, Feb. 16; the Harvard-Dartmouth-Cornell triangular meet, and the New England A.A.U. indoor championships at Boston, Feb. 16; the American Legion games at Boston, Feb. 22; the intercollegiate A.A.A.A. indoor championships at the 102d Regiment armory, March 1, and the Metropolitan A.A.U. indoor championship, March 11.

In many of the meets the competition will be national in scope, for invitations have been sent to the star athletes of the west and south to appear in the special and handicap events.

The urge to win positions on the next Olympic team and the fact many of the leading coaches believe indoor competition is the best means of preparing athletes for a strenuous outdoor campaign, is expected to bring out large fields in every event at every meet, and close followers of the sport look for many new indoor records before the season is ended.

KANSAS BOSS

BOWLING RECORD BROKEN

The record in the Manufacturers' Bowling league was broken by the Saco-Lowell bowlers last night, when they hit the pins for 1630, smashing the previous record of 1612 held by the American Woolen company. Robinson was high man with a three-string total of 352. His best single was 132, which was also scored by Boucher of the Ipswich team. These men are now tied for the Willis Peltier prize for the best single string. Tonight at 7.30 o'clock the American Woolen and Silesia teams will roll.

DIAMOND DOPESTERS LOOK FOR TRADES TO STRENGTHEN GIANTS

Manager McGraw Returns From European Visit—Expected to Soon Clear Up Reported Deal Involving Rogers Hornsby—Several Giant Players Seek Increase

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Baseball followers today expect to learn the plans for 1924 of Manager John J. McGraw of the New York Giants, who, with Mrs. McGraw, was on the incoming Leviathan from Europe.

Diamond dopesters were mystified when McGraw did not return in time for the Chicago meeting, particularly as he had indicated he desired to make trades and purchases that would enable him to strengthen the weak spots his team revealed when it lost the last world's series.

Reports have persisted that before sailing McGraw had concluded an arrangement to obtain Rogers Hornsby, the star second baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals, for whom Charles H. Ebbets, owner of the Brooklyn club, offered $250,000 at Chicago. McGraw was expected to clear up that situation today.

It has been indicated that some of the Giant players have asked for increased salaries for next year. Among these Frank Frisch, second baseman, has been listed. McGraw has labelled him one of the greatest players of all time and had said he was one of the three players with whom he would not part for next season.

The Billy Evans all western honor roll is the consensus of more than 50 sport writers from that section. The west played brilliant football in the season just closed and the standard of the players was exceptionally high.

Eklund of Minnesota and Hancock of Iowa draw the end positions. Eklund was well liked by the sport writers, very few omitting him from their first eleven.

Below was almost a unanimous choice for one of the tackles with Muirhead getting a strong play for the other.

McMillen finished away ahead of the field for the guard honors. There was little to choose between the others, the vote being very close, with Bieberstein getting the place.

Blott was practically unanimous for center with Claypool much favored as understudy.

Stuhldreher, Uteritz and Workman were the best liked for quarterback. For the halfbacks Grange was unanimous with Martineau close up.

It was a toss-up for fullback between Layden of Notre Dame and Taft of Wisconsin.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Columbia's basketball five, which shattered Army's winning streak last Saturday at West Point, hopes to conquer the other branch of the service tomorrow night when the Naval academy's quintet invades Morningside Heights.

SHELBY BANK TO REOPEN

SHELBY, Mont., Dec. 21.—Officials of the First State bank of Shelby, which closed in July, shortly after the Dempsey-Gibbons championship fight, announced late last night that the institution would reopen Saturday, Dec. 29.

PARIS, Dec. 21.—Suzanne Lenglen has agreed to represent France in the Olympics tennis matches, says L'Auto today.

CAN MAYS MAKE GOOD AS NAT. LEAGUE STAR

Next year Carl Mays, stormy petrel of baseball and noted submarine hurler, late of the New York Yankees, will wear a Cincinnati uniform.

Mays shot his bolt as an American Leaguer. He hasn't been a star pitcher for three years. Baseball men say he slumped when he suddenly lost his fast ball. Mays used to have a baffling fast ball, one that came to the batter on a rise, and then dipped abruptly.

Mays threw his fast ball and his curve ball with the same motion, starting the delivery almost at his shoe tops.

In the days when he had both a fast ball and a curve the batter was continuously bewildered; he could never tell from the manner of Mays' delivery whether to expect a fast ball or a curve. That was one reason why he was so effective in his winning days.

Mays is expected to get along fairly well in the National League, despite the fact that he no longer has a fast ball. Mays' peculiar form of delivery will be puzzling to the batters for a while. He still has a nice curve and good control.

Manager Moran of the Reds evidently thinks he is worth a gamble, and announces that Mays will be one of his regulars next season.

Every winter everybody is surprised at the weather.

GRIFFITH MAY AGAIN TRY MANAGING

Who will manage the Washington Nationals in 1924?

As yet no one has been appointed to succeed Donie Bush, who, despite the fact that he finished fourth, was fired.

Failure to name a manager at the Chicago meeting of the major leagues has caused the gossips to spread the rumor that Clarke Griffith will once again don the managerial toga.

Griffith, now president and part owner of the Washington club, was for years a major league manager of note. When he was elevated to the presidency of the club, he decided to retire from the active end of the playing game.

CLARKE GRIFFITH

The managerial germ, however, remained in his system, for Clyde Milan, who managed the club in 1922, and Donie Bush, who lead the team last season, say the policy of the club was largely dictated by Griffith.

It is said that Frank Chance, who was once seriously considered as Bush's successor, refused to consider the proposition because he did not believe he would be given entire control, the only basis on which he would accept the management.

Failure to land several desirable candidates that Griffith had under consideration, is said to have caused him to seriously consider the advisability of again taking up the reins.

SEARCHLIGHT TURNED UPON RUM TRAFFIC IN AROOSTOOK COUNTY

Trial of Sheriff Grant and Attorney Lewin, Who Are Charged With Bribery and Permitting Sale of Liquor to Be Carried on Unchecked

BANGOR, Me., Dec. 21.—The searchlight was turned again upon the rum traffic in Aroostook county today when the United States district court assembled for the second day's trial of the conspiracy cases in which Sheriff Edmund W. Grant and Willard S. Lewin, attorney, both of Houlton, are charged with bribery and permitting the sale of liquor to be carried on unchecked throughout the county.

Following upon Charles E. Calvin's frank and open testimony yesterday of his extensive liquor business for the protection of which he said he paid Grant and Lewin large sums of money, today's first witnesses called were Charles Powell, Calvin's first lieutenant in his liquor and boarding house business, and Thomas V. Doherty, Houlton attorney, who was called to testify as to an injunction which Grant threatened to place on Calvin's building after the latter had withdrawn from the liquor game because, as he testified, the graft demanded has made the business unprofitable.

Attorney Doherty testified that he was the agent for the buildings in which Calvin did business and that Grant had come to him and told him that he had changed his mind about bringing an injunction against Calvin. This action, Doherty said, caused him to withdraw a notice to quit that he had served upon Calvin when Grant first told him that he was to get after Calvin with an injunction.

Powell testified that on two occasions he had carried liquor to Lewin's office and that in the two years on and off, that he was employed by Calvin, the place was never searched without Calvin's knowledge that the officers were coming.

PRES. COOLIDGE WITHDRAWS NOMINATIONS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—President Coolidge is understood to be reconsidering all of the shipping board vacancies with a view to selecting a chairman to succeed Edward P. Farley of Chicago.

Mr. Farley is serving under a recess appointment made by President Harding, but his nomination as a commissioner by Mr. Coolidge raised the question of his qualifications under the provision of the shipping act limiting representation of the Great Lakes territory to one member of the board, and the senate commerce committee yesterday voted unanimously to report disapproval of his selection. The committee at the same time voted approval of the nominations of Frederick I. Thompson of Mobile, Ala., and Bert E. Haney of Portland, Ore., but the president immediately afterwards sent a message to the senate, withdrawing their names.

While no reason for the withdrawal was given in the message, it was said at the White House that the president desired to have all of the vacancies open in view of the likelihood of having to select a new chairman for the board. Senate approval of the committee's action on Mr. Farley's nomination is regarded as certain, though neither the report nor the president's message will come officially before that chamber until after the holiday recess.

WORKING MODEL OF TINY RAILROAD TRAIN

Christmas shoppers found many novel sights in store windows today when they patrolled the down-town business centers and kept their eyes open. Something quite enticing was a fully-equipped working model of a tiny railroad train with tracks, sidings, crossovers, switches, block signals, grade crossings, shanties and freight sidings, in complete operation in the show windows of the Lajoie Coal Co., 110 Central street.

The railroad scene, supposed to show actual operations at an anthracite coal mine in Pennsylvania, was unique and a work of mechanical art from electric locomotive and coal cars, to the green-grassed mountain with sheep gamboling on the slopes of the ground whence came the coal loaded into the dwarfed cars.

The model "from coal mine to consumer" exhibition is one true to modern shipping arrangements. Even the Lajoie coal wagons and horses and numerous auto delivery vans with drivers, are shown on the plance that rests horizontally on the show window plaque of white, green and black. Switches control the operating of the electric train, which has a speed close to 18 miles an hour by the stop watch.

President T. T. Hazlewood installed the novelty just to satisfy a whim, he says. The crowd in front of the Central street coal merchant's offices this afternoon was almost as big as though a mark down sale of desirable goods was on. The spectacle attracted much attention from Christmas shoppers. It will be continued tomorrow and next Monday.

COTTON SPINNING ACTIVITY SLACKENED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Cotton spinning activity slackened considerably in November as compared with October, the monthly report of the census bureau, issued today, indicated.

Active spindle hours during November number 8,034,579,167, or an average of 213 hours per spindle in place, compared with 8,381,850,213 hours, or an average of 223 in October this year, and 8,716,224,751 hours or an average of 234 in November a year ago.

Spinning spindles in place Nov. 30 numbered 37,585,049, of which 34,101,457 were active at some time during the month compared with 37,560,270 in place Oct. 31 this year, of which 34,375,662 were active.

The average number of spindles operated during November was 36,315,828 or at 96.6 per cent capacity on a single shift basis compared with 35,851,155, or at 95.1 per cent capacity in October this year and 35,462,059 or at 100.2 per cent capacity in November last year.

COURT UPHOLDS RULING ON JOHNSON PETITION

PIERRE, S. D., Dec. 21.—The state supreme court last night ruled that the name of Senator Hiram Johnson, if filed as an independent candidate for the republican nomination for president in the primaries, will have to appear separately on one petition, with his delegates and alternates to the national convention on another, and electors on a third.

Secretary of State O. E. Coyne refused to accept for filing Senator Johnson's petition which contained his name as well as those of the delegates, alternates and electors, contending that they should appear on three separate petitions. Senator Johnson's attorneys appealed to the supreme court, which upheld the secretary of state.

Petitions for independent filings must be in Mr. Coyne's office by Jan. 1.

Work of circulating petitions to have the names of Senator Johnson and his delegates and alternates and electors placed on the ballot for the primaries in March, is expected to be started at once.

TILDEN DISCUSSES OLYMPIC GAMES

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21.—Because he rates the Davis cup above Olympic honors, William T. Tilden, 2nd, national tennis champion, said today that it was "extremely unlikely" that he would be a member of the United States Olympic team next summer. He certainly would not make an extended tour to take in the Wimbledon championship in England, the champion added.

"As yet I have not been asked to become a member of the Olympic team," said Tilden, "and until I am I will not come to a definite decision.

"I understand unofficially that Dick Williams, Vincent Richards, Frank Hunter, Watson Washburn and myself will be invited. Personally I do not want to make the trip and unless so many drop out that it will affect the team, I would prefer to remain at home."

Tilden added that if the Olympic committee would permit him to leave here late in June, instead of May, as tentatively planned for the players, and play only in the Olympics, he might make the trip.

INTERNATIONAL MEETS

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 21.—A conference with the Harvard athletic committee on the matter of contested International meets in which Yale and Harvard might in the future meet teams from Oxford and Cambridge, has been authorized by the board of control of Yale athletics, it was announced today. The executive committee of the board will act for Yale. The object will be to have the two universities act together in making arrangements. In event of an international meet, and in consultation with the Harvard authorities.

The board has renewed the contract of Walter Mann, baseball and basketball trainer for a period of three years.

Well Qualified for Place

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes, decided on by the reparations commission to head the committee to examine German finances, is regarded by his friends as eminently well equipped for the proposed duties, both through his financial experience and year as a public servant.

He founded and long has been the head of one of Chicago's large banking institutions. In 1918-19, he served in France, most of the time as chairman of the general purchasing board, which handled the supplies for the American forces.

He was the first director of the budget under President Harding and a saving of between $2,000,000 and $[illegible],000,000 was credited to the operation of the budget under his guidance.

General Dawes withheld comment when informed of the commission's decision.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Stock prices fluctuated irregularly at the opening of today's stock market with the main movement upward. There were a few outstanding strong spots such as General Asphalt, Schulte and Beechnut, all of which advanced a point or more. Oils showed the greatest initial activity.

Further irregularity developed as trading progressed, but the gains continued to outnumber the losses. Gains of 1 to 2 points were registered by General Asphalt, Atlantic Refining, Austin Nichols, Cuba Cane Sugar preferred, Wilson Packing, Schulte, Tobacco Products, American Radiator and several others, including Computing, Tabulating and Recording, which touched a new 1923 top. Some of the weak spots were National Lead, American Can, Jones Brothers Tea, Willys Overland preferred, Davison Chemical and Omaha preferred, the last named falling 3¼ to a new low. Foreign exchanges opened lower.

Alternate periods of heaviness and strength characterized the morning with the volume of business slowing down in view of the approaching holidays. American Can rallied strongly on the declaration of an extra dividend of one per cent, but it broke through its early low before noon on the heavy offerings of speculators who apparently had expected a larger distribution. Jones Brothers' Tea, which was heavy at the start on the passing of the dividend, made up its loss before noon. Low-priced oil, food and leather shares held fairly firm while selling pressure was effective in the American Sugar Refining issues, Davison Chemical and National Lead, United States Cast Iron Pipe jumped 4⅝ and American Radiator 2⅝ each to new 1923 highs. Call money opened at 2½ per cent.

Prices of representative shares stiffened in the afternoon when some conspicuous advances were made by a number of inactive stocks. Public utility issues were favored and Maracaibo Oil reached a new high figure for the year. General Cigar rose 1½ points and United Cigar stores and Jewell Tea preferred, three.

CROWDS AWAIT VERDICT IN FOX MURDER CASE

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 21.—Hundreds of persons crowded the courtroom today awaiting a verdict in the case of Philip E. Fox, Ku Klux Klan publicity agent and editor, tried for the murder of William S. Coburn, klan attorney.

The jury received the case at 11.24 o'clock last night, and retired before 11 o'clock. The trial required eight days and was a bitter legal battle.

There is considerable speculation as to the length of time the jury will take in reaching a decision. It is considered unlikely by court attaches and newspapermen that any announcement will be forthcoming before late afternoon.

Philip L. Fox, Ku Klux Klan editor, killed William S. Coburn, a klan attorney, in the latter's office on November 5. The slayer was arrested as he fled from the office. An indictment charging murder was returned against Fox a few days later and on December 12, he was placed on trial in Fulton superior court.

Attorneys for Fox based their fight on testimony that he was insane. Three alienists stated Fox was a paranoiac.

While the state offered no testimony from alienists, it attacked the conduct of the defendant. Solicitor General John A. Boykin contended Coburn knew of Fox's alleged relations with Mrs. Margaret Weaver, who is under indictment as an accessory before the fact, and also had other evidence of improper conduct on the part of the defendant. Fearing exposure, Fox killed Coburn, the solicitor charged. Throughout the trial, Fox seemingly was unconcerned.

SLAYER OF HOTEL MAN AND NEGRO GIVES UP

DUNCAN, Okla., Dec. 21.—Marin Kincannon, 20, sought in connection with the killing last Monday night of A. L. Beech, Marlow hotel proprietor, and Robert Journegan, a negro porter, surrendered last night and was charged with murder and committed to jail.

Six other men who were previously arrested in connection with the slaying, were today charged with murder.

CANNOT PRESCRIBE BEER FOR PATIENTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The right of physicians to prescribe beer for their patients was denied in a brief filed today by the government with the supreme court in a test case expected to result in final determination of that question.

Defending the constitutionality of the Willis-Campbell anti-beer law, the government's brief, signed by Solicitor General Beck and Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition prosecutions, declared that beer has no medicinal value, and its prohibition under physicians prescriptions is necessary to enforce national prohibition.

FROM LOOMFIXER TO MILL AGENT

Leon E. Lancey, 28 years old, born in Lowell and formerly a loomfixer in local textile mills where he made an viable service records has just been appointed agent of the Royal River Manufacturing company, controlling two mills, located at Yarmouth, Me.

A dispatch from Yarmouth announces the appointment of Mr. Lancey, who was selected from a list of several other industrial specialists. At the home of the new mill agent at 617 Wilder street, Lowell, the news was confirmed by his wife. Mr. Lancey is at present in Maine superintending the mill re opening preparations.

MAY REFER ALL REQUESTS FOR SALARY

It is believed that the school committee tonight will refer to next year's board any requests for salary and pay increases received from teachers, janitors or other employes of the school department.

The special meeting of the committee called for tonight is for the exclusive purpose of hearing requests and arguments for wage advances, but from talk which was current today it is not believed this year's committee will take any action other than to refer them to the committee of 1924.

TWO YOUNG WOMEN MISSING

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. Police today were investigating the mystery of the disappearance of two young women, both on Christmas shopping tours—Catherine Galloway Ethier, musical comedy actress, and Eva Gosinski, cabaret dancer and member of the Three Arts club.

Mrs. Ethier, the wife of Alphonse Ethier, an actor, disappeared on Wednesday. She wore jewelry worth $5,000 and carried a large sum of money, her husband said. Miss Gosinski has not been seen since leaving a Fifth avenue department store.

BOSTON, Dec. 21. The state board of registration in medicine announced today it had revoked the registration of Dr. William M. of the Back Bay district, now serving a sentence in the state prison for illegal surgery. Dr. Beck confessed to operating upon Mrs. Alice M. Wolschendorf of East Bridgewater and to dismembering her body after she had died in his office.

RULING IN CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUIT

BOSTON, Dec. 21.—Judge Anderson in a memorandum handed down in the federal court today ruled that Christian Science practitioners have a civil and property right to have their cards included in the directory of practitioners published in the Christian Science Journal, subject to control by authorized church officials acting for the good of the church and not for personal reasons. The ruling was made in the suit brought by Mrs. Catherine Aller of Phoenix, Ariz., against the director of the church and the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing society.

LOSSES FROM ROBBERIES TOTAL $60,000

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 21.—Burglars early today drilled through the rear wall of Richardson's apparel shop in Main street and carried away furs and jewelry valued at $10,000. Losses from robberies here in three days amount to nearly $60,000.

SAVE TONS OF MAIL

BOSTON, Dec. 21.—Hundreds of tons of Christmas gifts, destined for all parts of the world, were saved from destruction last night through the heroism of a handful of postal employes in fighting a sudden and terrific gasolene fire in the Boston Postal annex, clearing house for Boston Christmas mail at 27 Burlington avenue, the Overland building in the Back Bay. The explosion and fire occurred about 8.30 o'clock close by tons of paper-wrapped and cardboard packages.

FOOTBALL AT LOW PRICE AT YALE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 21.—Football at a low price with the home games in the "big three" schedule at a nominal figure, is a plan under discussion by the board of control of the Yale University Athletic association, it was announced today. A plan outlined at the December meeting of the board is being analyzed. No decision will come for a time. Meantime, according to Professor Clarence W. Mendell, the chairman, the board will endeavor to interest Harvard and Princeton in the plan to see if those universities could act in concert and give their students the opportunity of seeing football at a nominal figure.

The plan in its general application would be the issuance of a student's ticket for a nominal sum to cover all games played at home. This would include all games for which seats, at present, are reserved. The present cost of seeing all games in the Yale home schedule, exceeds $10. The new plan would furnish a ticket at a fraction of that sum.

COHOLAN TO MANAGE REED'S CAMPAIGN

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Justice Daniel F. Cohalan will resign from the supreme court bench within a month to manage the campaign of Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, for the democratic nomination for president, it was reported yesterday in political circles.

TO HOLD RENT RAISING

BOSTON, Dec. 21.—An appeal to landlords to refrain from increasing rents at this season "or at least to refrain from ordering tenants who are able character to move during the not in arrears of rent or of undesirable present winter," was made today by Eugene C. Hultman, chairman of the state commission on necessaries. He said that complaints were being received daily by the commission showing that rent raising in dwelling house property had been stimulated "apparently by the approach of winter and abnormal fuel.

Lawrence Brewery Men Before U. S. Commissioner of the United States district attorney with Assistant U. S. District Attorney William J. White Jr., as prosecutor.

Daniel E. Shay of Boston is associated with James E. Donovan in the trial of the case and is conducting all cross-examinations.

That a sharp legal battle was due was evident from the very start of the case, attorneys locking horns almost interlocutorily and the large group of spectators being kept well interested by the debates between counsel, fused at times with acrimony, sarcasm, humor and Chesterfield courtesy.

Harold F. Howe, general secretary of the Lowell Y.M.C.A. and Ernest L. Gay, who holds a similar position with the Lawrence Y.M.C.A., were among the group of interested spectators to the proceedings. The clergy was represented in large numbers of local and Lawrence members of the cloth.

Among the prominent in court were Rev. John [illegible] Matthews Memorial P. [illegible] church; Rev. Percy E. Thomas, First Congregational church; Rev. Edward Rabosky, First Baptist church, Rev. J. Reid Speel, Westminster church, Rev. Henry A. Cornell, retired Episcopal minister; Rev. George F. Sturtevant, [illegible] Congregational church, Rev. [illegible] Seizer, Central Baptist church; Rev. Charles F. Otto, St. Paul's [illegible] church; Rev. Willard A. Kilmer, Centralville M. E. church, Rev. [illegible] Hobbins, Universalist church; and Rev. Malcolm E. Peabody, Grace Episcopal church.

Attorney [illegible] Boston present said that the [illegible] prohibition director for New [illegible] and the internal revenue [illegible] chief for this district were expected to arrive during the afternoon.

Rev. Mr. [illegible] of Lawrence has several times spoken from his pulpit regarding the liquor traffic in that city and bitterly attacked several of the Lawrence city officials whom he claimed appeared to be conversant of the traffic and condoning if not actually abetting it.

On one side of the courtroom a number of local lawyers were seated for the purpose of listening to the great legal battle which began early and continued with growing force as the hearing proceeded. A number of proprietors of Lowell near-beer saloons and smoke shops were in evidence in the spectators' benches together with the usual delegation of courtroom hangers-on.

At outset Mr. Donovan addressed the commissioner in objection to the commencement of the hearing. He called attention to the fact that the brewery corporation is a licensee under the federal prohibition law and may make legally cereal beverages if reduced to one-half of one per cent or less alcoholic content by volume before being placed on sale. Mr. Donovan claims that the act of Federal Prohibition Agents Sullivan and Hall in sealing the vats, racks and other paraphernalia of the brewery was without authority and was tantamount to revocation of the permit without a hearing. The law provides a hearing must be permitted before a revocation can be ordered.

"We have drawn a bill in equity asking that the federal prohibition director be enjoined," said Mr. Donovan, "but have not filed as there is a possibility of a suitable agreement between us upon the director hearing from Washington in response to his request for instructions. Our supplies on hand have been destroyed or spoiled under the unlawful orders and act of this Agent Sullivan. This criminal action here is brought by the government as a lever or wedge to affect our civil action and the finding by your court of probable cause would serve to prejudice the rights of the defendants in the other action. For this reason we ask that this hearing be postponed. There would be no damage to the government case in granting a delay. The defendants are under bond and are willing to furnish even higher bonds that they will be always available, our clients are menaced if we are held in this court for probable cause.

U. S. District Attorney White opposed the proposed postponement and was sustained, the commissioner ordering that he proceed with the introduction of evidence.

In opening his case Mr. White said that the overt acts by which the government expects to sustain its charge of conspiracy consist of the fact that Beck, Rathgab and Casey did conspire to make, bottle, and distribute illegal beer of greater alcoholic content than permitted by law, and that the government will so prove.

"Rathgab brewed this beer, failed to label it and stored it in the bottling room from which place Casey made deliveries to a truck, knowing it was unlabeled and knowing that the purpose in his mind and in the mind of Rathgab was to dispose of it in a manner contrary to law," said Mr. White.

Mr. Shea and Mr. Donovan were on their feet clamoring for the discharge of Beck but the court overruled them on the contention that if the government proves he condoned, sanctioned, advised, proposed, or had knowledge of the alleged violation he is a conspirator as much as are they.

Attorney Shea made violent objections to admission of the testimony by Agent Sullivan, the first witness called. Mr. Shea contended that while Sullivan, without warrant, was within his rights as a federal agent in taking beer from a truck in the brewery yard and in taking beer from the loading platform of the bottling house he was exceeding his authority in taking four cases from the main building.

"This man abused his authority and his very abuse of authority made his acts illegal," said Mr. Shea. "Taking these four cases from within the bottling room and not having a warrant for search or seizure, consists of seizure, not sampling." The court overruled the exception and permitted Sullivan to testify.

Sullivan testified that he visited the brewery and seized 18 cases of beer in all which he took to Boston for analysis and found to be over prescribed legal strength.

He further testified that Rathgab said to him "It looks bad for us. I hope you are not going to arrest me. Beck is the boss; we (meaning himself and Casey) are only carrying out orders."

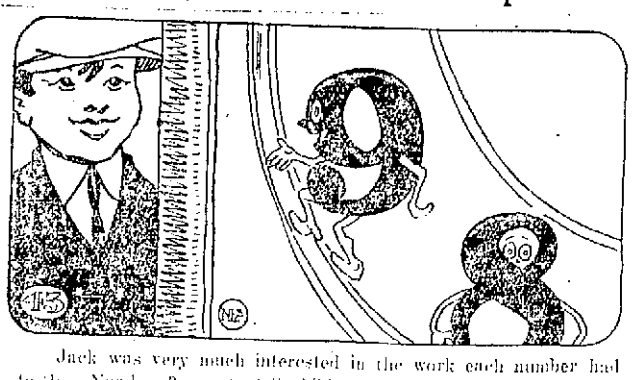
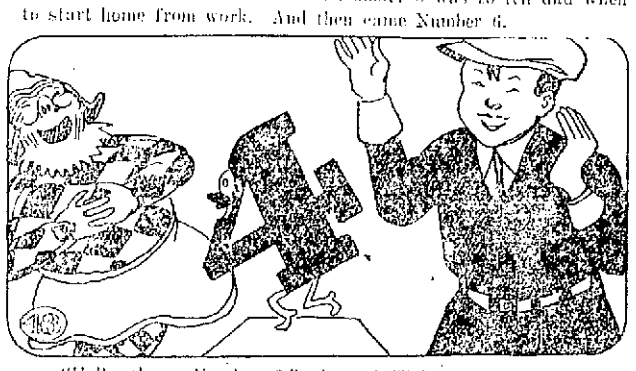
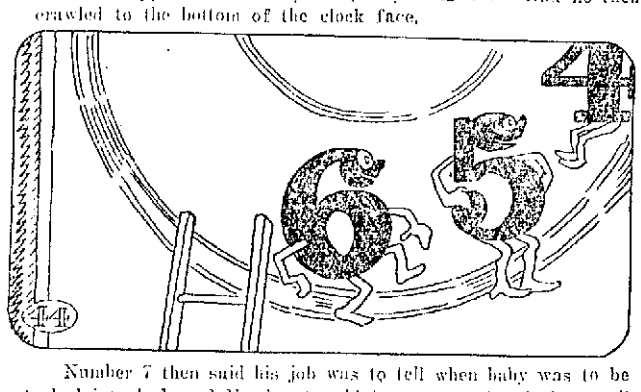
Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 15



Jack was very much interested in the work each number had to do. Number 3 was to tell children when school was out; Number 4 was to tell mother when to send Willie to the store for something she had forgotten, and Number 5 was to tell dad when to start home from work. And then came Number 6.



"Hello there, Number 6," shouted Picky. "Will you please tell this little visitor what you are supposed to tell?" "Sure," laughed Number 6, "I'm supposed to tell the family when to sit down to supper. That's why everybody likes me." And he then crawled to the bottom of the clock face.



Number 7 then said his job was to tell when baby was to be tucked into bed, and Number 8 said he was on the clock to tell the other children when to retire. Jack laughed when Number 9 said he told father and mother when to take a breath of relief, because all of the tots were asleep. (Continued.)

This Little World

BY MILTON BRONNER

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Of all differences between the English and Americans, the main one is—teeth.

Our friends on this side of the pond are just a quarter of a century behind us in dental matters. They are just beginning to have toothbrush drills in the public schools. And even yet the English have miles to go before they catch up with us in dental matters.

You see many a young woman over here who is good looking until she smiles. Then you see very bad teeth or yawing spaces.

Many only go to a dentist as a last resort when the pain is too great. And then they don't have the tooth "stopped," which is English for "filled," but have the offending tusk yanked out.

Good business for the dentists who give gas and also for those who specialize in false teeth.

A well known American economist nearly had palpitation of the heart the other day. Said he to me:

"You are always saying that life is as expensive on this side as it is in America, if not more so. Now, look here. I have a room and bath in a swell London hotel and it is only costing me $5.50 per day."

I expressed polite skepticism. Whereupon he triumphantly shoved under my nose his room ticket. On it was written "5-5-0." And the poor boob didn't know it was five guineas, or five pounds, five shillings!

When I told him he was running up a bill of $25 a day for room and bath, he nearly collapsed.

In Louisville, Kentucky, they used to boast that their great man, the late Henry Watterson, wrote the worst hand in the world and that one old printer was kept on his job solely because he could read what "Marse Henry" wrote.

I have just heard a better one about the famous Scotch professor and author—John Stuart Blackie. Only one compositor on an Edinburg paper could decipher his manuscript. And even he was stumped one day. After puzzling over one particularly bad paragraph, he said:

"I couldna set it, but if I had my pipes, mon, I could play it.

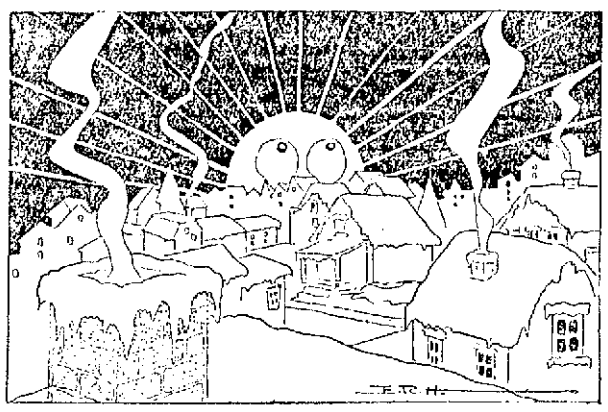
A FAIR WEATHER RIDDLE



"IT'S DAYLIGHT, FOLKS, AWAKE!"

The next riddle that the Riddle Lady asked in Riddle Land was this. See if you can guess it as quickly as Nick did.

"There is a chap I know well,
Who travels through the skies,
He sails alone from light to dark,
And he is wondrous wise.

"He is so wise he's lost his hair
From thinking this and that.
As he rolls 'round up in the air;
And he is bald and fat.

"Bald and fat he is, sir,
Yes, he is fat and bald.
Another Humpty Dumpty,
I've often heard him called.

"When he gets up he calls down,
"It's daylight, folks, awake!
The day's begun, roll out of bed,
Get dressed, for goodness sake!

"And feed your pigs and chickens,
And milk your brindle cow,
And give your horse a bag of oats,
Ere he goes out to plow.

"And all you birdies wake, too,
"And ope your sleepy eyes,
And all the bugs and beetles,
And flowers and butterflies.

"And all the squirrels and rabbits,
And fishes in the pool,
And all the little girls and boys
Who have to go to school.'

"He peeps in all the windows,
He hates a sleepy-head'
And if perchance he finds one,
He turns a fiery red.

"But mostly his complexion,
Is golden, shining yellow,
Now if you've no objection,
Please name this jolly fellow."

"Who is it?" asked the Riddle Lady.
"The sun!" cried Nick.
"I was just going to say that," said Slow. "But I thought I'd wait awhile."
"Dear, dear, dear!" said the Riddle Lady. "It's just fellows like you and your brother, Sleepy Head, that makes Mister Sun cross. Why do you always wait awhile?"
"I don't know," answered Slow. "I guess it's just habit."
"That's just what it is," declared the Riddle Lady. "And if Nick doesn't care, I'm going to give you the prize, for he doesn't need it. It's an alarm clock."

PUBLIC SERVICE BOARD MEETING

Water Department Report Shows Increase in Work Over 1922

Money Turned Back by Auditorium Commission May Go to Street Department

The board of public service held its weekly meeting yesterday at 4 p. m. in the office of the street department.

A report from the water department showing in detail the amount of work done this year also showed a considerable increase over 1922 and 1921, in fact, in the amount of new water pipe laid, this year's record is more than double that of two years ago and half again as much as was laid in 1922.

The department this year laid 12,500 feet of new pipe, representing 2.37 miles and thereby increase the total mileage of pipe now in use to 167.27. Fifty new water gates were put in this year and 38 new hydrants. In 1921, 15 new hydrants were put in and in 1922, 25. The number of new gates installed this year is about equal to the figures for 1921 and 1922.

The Locks and Canals Corp. requested the board to resurface Broadway from Suffolk to Dutton street and repair sidewalks in the vicinity of Worthen street. This is included in the paving program for 1924.

The board decided to make a trip to Cambridge and Boston next Wednesday to inspect tractors, street sweepers and snow removal equipment.

Mrs. Albert Bury appeared before the board relative to the installation of a catch basin at Forrest and Blodgett streets. She asked for riders to keep the surface water from running into cellars in the neighborhood.

The park commission sat in with the board relative to the removal of snow from sidewalks in the vicinity of city hall and Monument square.

Chairman Clarence M. Weed, speaking for the commission, felt the arrangement which has been in effect for the past ten years, whereby the street department clears away the snow and dumps it on public commons, should be continued. The board agreed to this propositio and a formal vote was taken upon it.

Chairman Murphy said he had noticed the report of the Auditorium building commission whereby it turned back into the city treasury $1391.02, and asked if the street department ever had received the money due it from the commission for grading, edgestones and granolithic walks laid in the neighborhood of the building.

The reply was that no payment has been made. The amount is $8462.

Chairman Murphy recalled a conference held last year at which it was said that if any surplus existed after the building was eected, the street department should get the benefit of it.

"There is a surplus," said Mr. Murphy, "and I think the street department should get it."

The other members of the board felt the same way about it and the engineer was instructed to send a letter to Mayor Donovan, calling attention to the surplus and asking that it be transferred to the credit of the street department. A similar letter will as that the steet department will get any surplus which may exist in the appropriation for the erection of the new high school, for work done by the department for the high school building commission.

Engineer Kearney submitted to the board specifications, approved by the city solicitor, for the reconstruction of the Lawrence Mfg Co. wall at Hall and Aiken streets, as a part of the contract for corner widening. No action was taken pending the approval of specifications for the reconstruction of the tenement block property on the opposite corner.

Frank A Donnelly was asked to appear before the board at its next meeting relative to a contract for new rails on the Moody street bridge.

The Nashoba Construction Co., in a letter to the board, asked for some action on a bill in the amount of $1486.36 for extra paving work on Highland and West Sixth streets. The letter stated a company representative has asked City Engineer Kearney to present the bill to the board for approval on several occasions, but nothing has been done.

Figures presented by Arthur Bartlett of the engineer's office differed materially from those established by materially from those submitted by

The matter was referred back to the city engineer to see if some agreement can be reached with the Nashoba Co.

PRAISES ROGERS' BILL

Writer Says Policy Set Forth by Lowell Congressman is Absolutely Sound

In an intensely interesting article in the current issue of The Saturday Evening Post, George Agnew Chamberlain devotes eight or nine columns in praise of Hon. John Jacob Rogers of Lowell and his bill for the reorganization and improvement of the foreign service of the United States.

Mr. Chamberlain calls the policy put forward by the Lowell congressman "as simple, fundamental and far-reaching in its bearing on our national welfare as was the establishment of the principles of the open door in the broader field of international comity by the late Secretary of State John Hay.

HON. JOHN JACOB ROGERS

"So plain is the case for the Americanization of our own foreign service," continues the writer, "that once seen, you would be apt to ask yourself, 'Who has the nerve to oppose this bill—and why?' The answer is that once the folks back home begin to ask that question few indeed will have the nerve.

"There is more general prejudice and ignorance in regard to our foreign service than there is toward all the other branches of government combined. The ignorance is largely due to distance and the prejudice to that infinitesimal group among our public servants who have diligently earned the names of cake-eaters, pink-tea hounds and white spatters. To this small group, comprised of men just as destitable to the state department which employs them as they are to you or to any genuinely American diplomat, Mr. Rogers' bill spells anathema, or Nemesis, or kismet, or all three put together and set to the tune of a swan song."

Continuing still further the writer says:

"Listen to Mr. Rogers: 'But I have seen some of these young men secretaries who have had exceptional social opportunities and advantages in the capitals abroad, become the most abject followers of the social regime in the foreign capital. One of the things that I hope is going to follow from this bill is to see some of these de-Americanized secretaries to Singapore as vice consuls, or to force them out of the service altogether.'

"Does that interest you, and, if it does, which are you going to back, Mr. Rogers, or the pink-tea hound?"

"What we need," says Mr. Rogers, "is an open door to diplomacy where any American boy can enter by the right of his brains, his education, his address and his vocational ability and not on the strength of his wife's or his father's money. We have got to rip the partitions out of that ramshackle bird cage of the foreign service and want is more, we can't afford a bird cage anyway, at any price. The kind of material we need must come from the whole of the nation and not from 2 per cent. of the idle and variously ambitious rich."

"The object of this measure," said the Massachusetts congressman in his report to the house, "is to improve our diplomatic and consular service by strengthening and adapting its machinery to the exigencies of postwar conditions in international affairs. It proposes to accomplish this by laying the foundations for a broader service of trained men and by providing the means of attracting and holding the type of men capable of measuring up to the new demands."

It is not often that Lowell folks are given the opportunity of reading of the work being performed for the country at-large by one of its sons, particularly in an organ which has such tremendous circulation as The Saturday Evening Post and it should become the duty of all citizens of this city to read what one of the best thinking writers of the day thinks of the bill being sponsored and fought for by our own representative in congress, John Jacob Rogers.

In the present article no attempt has been made to more than sketchily outline Mr Chamberlain's article, but there is not a dull moment in it anywhere.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Police Notified That Lowell Man Was Shot to Death in Newark, N. J.

Because the paymaster, he and two others tried to hold up was left-handed and pulled a revolver with that hand while they were watching his right, the body of Joseph F. Boyle of this city reached Salem today for burial.

Boyle, who has a sister here, was shot dead in Newark, N. J., Tuesday. His two companions got away but were later captured and are being arraigned today in Newark on charges of attempted robbery.

The dead man, who was only 28 years old, was one of three gunmen who attempted to hold up Frank E. Dewey, who was carrying a Newark factory payroll. They approached Dewey from the rear and called to him to throw up his hands. Dewey turned quickly, firing his automatic at random as he wheled about. He had the pay-tray in his right hand and the would-be robbers were completely surprised at his quick action.

They turned and ran, pursued by employes who heard the fusillade of shots from Dewey's pistol. An auto with engine running was awaiting them about a block off. As they neared the car, Boyle faltered and fell, dying before he could be given medical aid. His two companions made off but police guarding the many outlets from the city and knowing the registration plates of the machine, quickly corraled them.

Boyle was taken to the city morgue where a letter was found in his pockets which served to identify him. Police Chief Michael T. Long of Newark immediately wired to Police Chief Atkinson here asking him to locate relatives. Inspector John Walsh was assigned and succeeded in finding the sister. His father is a mulespinner in a Lawrence mill. A brother-in-law in Salem was communicated with and wired the Newark authorities to ship the body to him.

Boyle was well known in the Broadway district as a youth, according to Inspector Walsh. He has no police record here and left Lowell for Detroit about eight years ago to seek a job. He returned but once since that time. During the last mayoralty election he was here for a few days, apparently in good financial circumstances.

Inspector Walsh last night talked with Charles Clavin of 11 Pawtucket street, former preliminary pugilist who saw Boyle in Newark three or four weeks ago but Clavin could not give any information of much value to the police. The Newark chief telegraphed that members of the detective bureau had seen him in Boyle's company. Clavin told Inspector Walsh he met Boyle in Newark and talked about mutual acquaintances here but he did not know just what Boyle was doing in that city. He seemed to be in fairly good circumstances, Clavin said.

Dewey, the paymaster who shot Boyle, had less than $700 in his tray when he was held up. He had paid off the main force of a Newark factory and was on his way to the annex to pay off the remainder when he was accosted.

The three confederates of Boyle pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with attempt to rob. They will be sentenced Jan. 21. The men were Clarence Goldspink, Joseph Stevens and George Chambers.

NASHUA MAN ARRAIGNED IN DISTRICT COURT

Charles W. Kimball, 20, an ice cream dealer of Nashua, N. H., was fined $10 for operating an automobile without a license and $10 for operating without a registration, when his case was tried before Judge Fisher in district court this morning. A charge of operating in a manner to endanger the lives and safety of the public was dismissed, defendant being found not guilty on this complaint.

Kimball was arrested at Tilding and Westford streets by Motorcycle Officer Andrew Hunter about 5.30 o'clock last Wednesday evening. The officer said he trailed him from Smith street after his machine had almost run down a Mr. Childs of Gibson street as the latter was preparing to board an electric car.

John Olek, charged with drunkenness, was sentenced to two months in the house of correction.

TO GIVE DECISION ON "MIXED" BOUTS

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A decision on whether "mixed" bouts between white and colored fighters are permissible in this state is expected today from the New York State Boxing commission.

If the decision is affirmative it probably will open the way for a bout next summer between Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills for the world's heavyweight championship. It is said the commission has not been impressed by the conduct in and out of the ring of colored boxers, who have been permitted to meet each other in bouts since the sports was re-legalized here.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT

Armand Rivet Struck by Auto in Merrimack Street, Dies at Hospital

Armand Rivet, 32, of Doyle avenue, Dracut, died at St. John's hospital last night from injuries sustained when struck in Merrimack street by the heavy Lincoln sedan owned and driven by Harry Pitts, well known automobile dealer. Rivet is married and a painter by occupation.

After reporting the fatality to police headquarters Mr. Pitts was charged with manslaughter and released under bonds of $2000.

The accident occurred in Merrimack street between Tilden and Hanover streets at about 11.15 o'clock. According to the statement made to the police by Mr. Pitts, Rivet stepped from the sidewalk directly in the path of his car and although he made every effort to avoid striking him, was unsuccessful. He said he was driving at a moderate rate of speed. His statement was corroborated by Christopher Mooney, street car operator, who witnessed the accident.

Rivet died a few minutes after reaching St. John's. His bruises were multiple, including a fractured skull and several broken ribs.

Manslaughter Charge

Mr. Pitts was arraigned in district court this morning on a technical charge of manslaughter. The case was continued until Jan. 12 with bonds fixed at $2000.

GERMAN HOLDINGS IN U. S. TOTAL $200,000,000

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Germans have holdings in the United States approximating $200,000,000 in cash or its equivalent, a survey by a group of New York bankers shows, the New York Times said today.

A popular estimate had placed the German holdings at $1,000,000,000, the amount estimated by the French. The bankers reported that a judgment which might be considered a "German estimate" was considerably lower than the $200,000,000.

The bankers' estimate is in cash, bankers' acceptances, treasury certificates and Liberty bonds and, it was stated, might be made the basis of from $1,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 worth of business.

FOOD LOAN TO GERMANY

PARIS, Dec. 21. (By the Associated Press.)—Germany's application for authorization to pledge resources as a guarantee for a food loan from the United States, was referred by the reparation commission today to the home governments of the various delegates. At the same time, it was decided that the commission's committee on guarantees should make a thorough investigation as to the food situation in Germany.

The Germans amended their application before action was taken upon it. Article 248 of the treaty of Versailles was involved, as well as article 251, there being a question as to jurisdiction. Article 248 provides that the first charge upon all Germany's assets and resources shall be the cost of reparation and all other costs arising under the treaty or supplementary agreements or arrangements "subject to such exceptions as the reparation commission may approve."

Article 251, originally invoked, lists the priority of such costs and specifies that priority may be allowed by the governments of the allied and associated powers to permit Germany to pay for food supplies, raw material, etc., judged by the governments to be essential to enable Germany to meet her reparation obligations.

The report of the commission's guarantee committee will be available either for the allied governments or the reparation commission itself, whichever shall finally take up the German application.

CONNOR WANTS 3 DUMP WAGONS

Even Though He Bought Them Cheap He Wants Immediate Use of Them

The park commission yesterday afternoon conferred with the board of public service on the matter of snow removal from the parkways in the centre of the city. The board reversed its former ruling that the department do its own snow removing in these small areas.

The ruling was reversed when Chairman Weed of the park commission explained that it has been customary for the street department to do this work in return for the courtesy of allowing the dumping of snow on the commons. In the spring the park department takes care of the restoration of the commons to their former condition and also provides for the removal of the large amount of debris which is usually dumped with the snow. It was decided as most economical and logical to keep this agreement in force.

Arrangements for the public Christmas tree observance were left with Superintendent John W. Kernan with authority to arrange the various programs.

It was voted to refer to the city solicitor for opinion a communication received from E. J. Tierney on behalf of his client, Matthias F. Connor. In August Mr. Connor purchased three used dump wagons and a harness from the city for $100. The purchase was made through the city purchasing agent. The park department held up delivery on the ground that the price was far too low. Mr. Connor, through counsel, advised that he insists the city make delivery to him.

Three applications for permission to remove trees were referred to the tree committee with power. The applicants were from Joseph A. Claus, 34-36 West Sixth street; P. N. Cossette, 1-3-5 Common street and Thomas F. Cullinan, 42 London street.
